

Kidnaper Surrenders After Talks

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A nervous newspaper reporter and a smooth-talking sheriff prevailed upon Leonard Rollins yesterday to surrender his pistol and end a five-hour reign of terror during which he kidnapped four persons and held 40 officers at bay.

Rollins, 34, a part-time laborer, handed the pistol over to Sheriff Odell Dolan, who, posing as a businessman, offered him a job. The surrender was engineered by Cliff Russell, Corpus Christi Call-Times reporter, who volunteered to be Rollins' hostage and then proposed using a police car for a getaway into Mexico.

Armed with the pistol, Rollins confronted Mrs. J. H. Smith, her son John 22, and her daughter Pat, 17, when they returned home for lunch. He bound and blindfolded them and threatened to "cut their throats."

The Smith family said later that Rollins was apparently incensed that they had offered to pay medical bills for Mrs. Rollins, their housekeeper, who is pregnant. Rollins was served with divorce papers Tuesday and apparently believed the Smiths had been responsible for the rift between him and his wife.

On the plea of Pat, the gunman released Mrs. Smith, then took the son and daughter to his wife's home, where Mrs. Rollins was also made a captive. As the four drove away, a highway patrol car, alerted by Mrs. Smith, gave chase. Rollins drove the car through the open double door of a bar on a farm about 15 miles north of here. For an hour and a half Rollins held the pistol at the neck of Pat and then John while 40 officers gathered and were forced to stand by helplessly.

Russell finally stepped forward and offered to take John's place. Rollins agreed. The reporter suggested Rollins, a Latin American, that the two of them and Mrs. Rollins commandeer a police car and make a getaway into Mexico. Rollins was agreeable. He allowed Sheriff Dolan, a stranger to him, to go along. When they were in the car, the sheriff told Rollins he was a businessman and offered him a job on a ranch. Rollins asked his wife if she would return to him. She said she would.

Rollins then turned the pistol over to Dolan. The sheriff put Rollins in jail at nearby Sinton.
