Downtown Fund Revealed

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—The existence of a "downtown fund" for aid to University of Washington athletes was confirmed Sunday night by its proprietor, but he denied it was used to pay "salaries" to football players.

R. C. (Torchy) Torrance, Seattle businessman known as the chief recruiter of football talent for the university, said the "downtown fund" does exist. But he said it does not contain the $75,000 widely rumored.

Torrance made his remarks in a radio-television broadcast set up to answer the charges of ousted Football Coach Johnny Cherborg that Torrance was part of an "unhappy triumvirate" which brought about Cherborg's firing.

Just about everyone knew about the fund, Torrance said, except top university officials, and "they've heard rumors."

"Every conference school and every other university of any consequence knows of such funds," Torrance said.

Cherborg told a committee of the Washington State Legislature that Torrance got him kicked out because "Torrance was afraid he would lose control of the fund if I was out of the picture."

The Legislature is investigating the disturbed athletic picture at Washington.

Football TV Plans To Be Talked Soon

CHICAGO (UP)—Football television plans for 1956 will be discussed this week by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Television Committee.

The NCAA-TV group opened a three-day meeting Monday to prepare a specific plan which is expected to be on the same structural basis as last year's regional-national plan.

After the plan is formulated by the 12-man committee, it will be mailed to NCAA members around March 1. The members will then vote on the plan for which a two-thirds vote is necessary for adoption.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the plan will not be announced until it is mailed to the membership.

Last year's program included eight national telecasts and five regional dates over a 15-week period. Departing from restricted national television, the plan was well received although some institutions were in favor of less controls.

McElhenny Says He's "Hurting Bad"

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Haltback Hugh McElhenny says he still has "quite a bit of pain" and is going to give up his job with the San Francisco 49ers if my foot bothers me as much next August as it does now.

The great pro runner hurt the foot in an exhibition last season and never regained top speed.

Doctors are starting "all over again" this week to try to find the trouble, he said Sunday.

AWARD

ARCADIA, Calif. (UP)—Veteran Jockey Johnny Adams will be presented with the seventh annual George Woolf Memorial Jockey Award today for "outstanding contributions to racing." Adams, one of four American riders with 3,000 or more victories, was voted the award by writers covering with Santa Anita meeting.

MAN OF YEAR

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (UP)—Stanford fullback Bill Tarr last night was chosen Western County's man of the year in athletics for 1955.

About 300 persons attending a Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet here selected Tarr from among seven nominees for the award. The former Bellingham High School football star was on hand to accept the plaque.

Denver Ski Men Win Meet

RENO, Nev. (UP)—The University of Denver Ski team won the Nevada Winter Carnival yesterday, bagging two firsts and two seconds in the three-day competition.

The Rocky Mountain team, which won the downhill and slalom races and placed second in the jumping and cross-country events, collected a total of 374 points. Idaho was second with 371.2 with a win in the jumping competition.

Colorado got 361.6 for third, followed by Western State College, Denton, Colo., with 360.2.

Idaho's Eric Berggren took individual jumping honors yesterday with jumps of 133 and 135 for 215 points. Steph Riesel of Western State was second with 214 points and Reider Ullevaaler of Idaho third with 212.9. Nevada co-ed Candy Zimmerman outscored 30 other girls in yesterday's "powder-puff" jump and racing competition.

The carnival was marred by the death of Nevada skier Jim Gilbert, 19, who died of injuries suffered in an auto accident. Two other Nevada skiers were hurt in the smash-up but not seriously.

Other point totals for the competition were: Utah 352.5, Washington State 324.7, Whitman College 307.4, Nevada 300.6; Stanford 283.2; Sierra College 288.3; UCLA 286; California 270.3; San Jose State 255; and Oregon State 212.3.

15 Trout Limit Asked By California

FRESNO (UP)—The California Wildlife Federation, representing 65 sportsmen's clubs in the state, was on record today in favor of retaining the daily 15 trout limit except in Southern California areas.

The federation made the decision during the weekend at the request of Northern California representatives headed by John P. Reginato, general manager of the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association with headquarters in Redding.

Reginato explained fishing pressure on northern streams was not so great as in Southern California. As a result, he said there should be no reduction to a 10 fish limit.

The Department of Fish and Game has recommended to the commission that the 10 limit be imposed in all areas except Sonoma, Mendocino, Humboldt, Del Norte, Trinity and Siskiyou counties and west of Highway 97 and 99 except the Sacramento Delta.

The federation's recommendation will be submitted to the commission Feb. 24 in Los Angeles when a final decision is scheduled to be made for 1956 angling regulations.

Syracuse Closing In

By UNITED PRESS

The defending champion Syracuse Nationals started to close in today in a playoff berth in the National Basketball Assn. as Vince Boryla, New York's new coach, started to discover the headaches that plagued Joe Lapchick.

The Nats, buried in last place in the Eastern Division, came through with a thumping 101-74 victory on Sunday and pulled to within two games of the third-place New York Knicks, who bowed to Boston, 116-108.

In other Sunday games, all day affairs, the Fort Wayne Pistons increased their Western Division lead to six full games by beating Minneapolis, 62-78, and the Eastern Division leading Philadelphia Warriors downed the St. Louis Hawks, 87-79.

Boryla, in his second game as Knick coach since succeeding Joe Lapchick, suffered his first defeat as Boston came from off an 8-3 deficit to win in the final period. Bill Sharman paced the Celtics with 26 points and Carl Braun led the Knicks with 22.

Fay Crocker In Miami Win Box

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)—A seven-foot putt that fell and a three-foot putt that didn't combine to make Fay Crocker, the winner of the Miami Beach Women's Open Golf Tournament for the second straight year.

The putt that didn't fall was Patty Berg's, and the veteran St. Andrews, Ill., pro had to take second place, one stroke behind the smiling South American.

Miss Crocker and Miss Berg were all even coming into the 18th hole.

Miss Crocker, National Open champion who registers out of Montevideo, Uruguay, posted a 71-73-144 in the 36-hole tournament. Patty had 71-74-148. Men's par for the 5,657-yard Normandy Shores course is 36-36-72.

Ruth Jensen, a Seattle amateur, and Betty Dodd, a San Antonio pro, fired 71s for the best score in the final round and pulled into a tie for third at 148 with Cathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla. Mrs. Cornelius shot a final round 72.

US Heading Toward Good Showing In Track Events

NEW YORK (UP)—The mile may have lost its traditional place as the "glamor race" but the evidence continues to pile up from the indoor track season that the United States will have its usual brilliant team in this year's Olympic games.

The latest returns today are world record performances by shot putter Parry O'Brien and Speedy Charley Jenkins, plus star efforts by Bob Richards, Arnie Sowell, Lee Calhoun, and Bob Barksdale, in Saturday night's New York A. C. games at Madison Square Garden.

The Baxter Mile usually is the top event of this carnival, but a poor field, a slow race, and a debated decision left the fans booing and tossing paper down on the track.

Irishman Ron Delany of Villanova won the mile, his fifth straight this season. But the time was a dull 4:14; the "big stars" were missing, and a lot of folks thought Delany should have been disqualified for a shoving incident with George King of New York University on the next-to-last lap. The officials debated that one for quite a spell before confirming Delany as the winner.

The fans also did some booing when Villanova's George Snyder was named the winner by an eye-lash over Duke's Dave Sims in the 60-yard dash. Sims, sensation of the sprint, got his usual bad start and either just was — or just wasn't — nipped by Snyder at the tape, depending on where you sat and whom you were rooting for.

But O'Brien was tremendous. The world shot putt record holder flipped the ball 59 feet, nine inches for a new indoor record — only three inches short of the fabled 60-foot mark. O'Brien is the only man in the world to have thrown a six-foot, nine-inch shot.

Jenkins set a new standard with 36.4 seconds in the Buermeyer 500 yard run, this being one of the very few meets in which that distance is run.

Richards, Olympic pole vault champion, soared over the 15-foot mark for the 89th time in his career with 15 feet, one inch and continues to seem a certain gold medal winner in this year's Olympics. Sowell, the Pittsburgh flash, won the half-mile in 1:53.8 for another brilliant effort this season. Barksdale, from Morgan State College, set a new meet record with a six-foot, nine-inch high jump.

FBI Agent Horace Ashenfelter, the Olympic steeplechase champion, won the two-mile for the sixth straight but his time was 9:06.6.

Nashua Got Swaps Worried?

By GAYLE TALBOT

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—They could be wrong, but the men who surround Nashua and refer to him as "the millionaire" do not expect to see their old rival Swaps at Gulfstream Park next month. Or anywhere else, ever again.

A couple of them were discussing it in front of Nashua's stall the other morning while the golden colt was being readied for his daily workout, which is one of the most popular shows being offered in Florida this winter.

"Well," said the first one as he squinted at his morning paper, "I see where Swaps had a real good workout yesterday. Do you suppose they're really going to get him ready to come East and tackle this horse again?"

"Naw," came the impatient rejoinder, "read on down. While Swaps was having all that workout they also were pulling him out of another big race out there. What are they saving him for? Those fellows are too smart to match him against Mickey here again."

Not understanding quite all he heard, this correspondent asked why the proprietors of the Kentucky Derby winner might be unwilling to send him against Nashua again when Gulfstream Park was ready to put up a $100,000 purse for such a meeting.

"If they know anything," it was explained, "and I'm pretty sure they do, they know that a horse as smart as Swaps doesn't get over the kind of licking we gave him in Chicago last summer. Don't think he won't remember the horse that did it to him the next time he sees him. They said that Summer Tan had acute indigestion or something of the kind after Mickey got through with him last year. All he had was a broken heart, and we gave it to him. When we finish with 'em they don't come back, do they, Mickey?"

Hockey Race Edge Narrows

By UNITED PRESS

Only three points separate the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs and the last-place Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League today, and from the looks of things, the tight three-col race for the last playoff spot probably won't be settled until the final games of the season.

The Leafs battled back to tie the Black Hawks, 1-1, Sunday night as both clubs picked up a point on the fifth-place Boston Bruins, who were buried by the Montreal Canadiens, 7-1. Boston trails Toronto by two points.

In other action, the Rangers, paced by Danny Lewicki, defeated the third-place Detroit Red Wings, 2-1.

Big Guns To Meet In NCAA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Naulls and Bill Russell, two of the best big men in West Coast basketball, will meet March 16 at the NCAA regional tournament unless there is a king-sized upset.

The tournament's opening game at Corvallis, Ore., matches the champs of the Pacific Coast Conference and the California Basketball Assn. and Monday Naulls' UCLA team led the PCC, while Russell's San Francisco Dons topped the CBA. And there's little chance either will be pushed out.

Naulls hit for 37 points Saturday as the Bruins dropped Stanford into sixth place.

UCLA beat Stanford, 50-48, Friday and 81-72 Saturday in an overtime.

That left UCLA with an 8-0 PCC record against 8-2 for second place Southern Cal, USC whipped Washington State twice, 76-55, and 85-54.

The Friday and Saturday Stanford plays at USC, UCLA at Oregon State, Washington State at Cal and Washington at Idaho. Oregon is idle.

California won two at Idaho, 54-44 and 67-58.

Washington won two from Oregon, 68-50 and 70-61.

Center Bruno Boin set an all-time Washington record for a sophomore as he dropped in 20 points to lead the Huskies to their Saturday night victory. But Washington had to come from behind to pull the game out of the fire. After trailing most of the first half, Oregon went ahead 43-38 early in the second period. Ray Bell and Jerry Ross scored 16 points apiece to share scoring honors for the Ducks.

At Los Angeles, Southern California pulled away to a 47-24 halftime lead over Washington State and was never threatened. Larry Beck was high man for the Cougars with 11 points. Jim Dunne scored 15 for the Trojans.

California and Idaho battled to a 35-35 halftime tie. The Bears tightened their defense in the second half and outpointed the home team 32-23. Jay Buhler of Idaho took scoring honors with 22.

Malin Whips Tule Honkers

Malin avenged an earlier season loss to the Tulelake Honkers Saturday night at Malin by walloping the Tule High cagers, 60-41 in a non-league game. The win was Malin's 17th against a single loss.

Norm Oliva scored 30 to lead the Mustang victory while Gary Dahle led the losers with 18 points. Malin held the lead at all of the quarter marks, 17-11, 28-22 and 43-32.

Malin also won the preliminary game by dumping the Tulelake Bs, 57-50.

TRAINING

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals opened their spring training camp Sunday with 48 players, including some of the varsity, reporting to new manager Fred Hutchinson. There was no batting practice. Hutchinson had the athletes running, throwing and limbering up for two hours.
