"DENNIS THE MENACE"

"DENNIS, THIS IS A LITTLE TOKEN OF MY... WAIT 'TIL I GIVE IT TO YOU, FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE!"

Cecil B. DeMille, 74, Has No Intention Of Retiring

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cecil B. DeMille, the fabulous film maker who will be 75 in August, declared today he has no intention of retiring.
 There had been rumors that the director's swan song to his long career would be "The Ten Commandments," by far his biggest and costliest epic. He even added fuel to the reports by hinting that his age might preclude any further films.
 But when I saw him in his Paramount Studio office, he seemed as vigorous as ever.
 "No, I don't suppose I will ever quit unless I am forced to," he admitted. "The movies are such a great medium of communication—the greatest the world has ever known. If you are a good story teller—and Mrs. DeMille and I believe that I am—I think you should stick at your trade as long as you are able."
 It has been reported that his next project will be a remake of "The Buccaneer," the Jean Lafitte story which starred Fredric March in 1938. I asked why he had chosen it.
 "I haven't," he replied. "I haven't made any decision yet. I have a number of things in mind, and 'The Buccaneer' is one of them. It is a good story and a fascinating time in our history."
 "I haven't had time to think of the next project. I still have five months of work to do on 'The Ten Commandments.' I have the scoring and editing, plus some technical sequences like the pillar of fire, the parting of the Red Sea and the clash of storms from the Mediterranean and the Red Sea."
 "The picture will be released as soon as I can get the work done. I was hoping to get it out by October, but there is so much processing to do that I may not make it until November."
 How long will the film run?
 "Six feet longer than 'Gone With the Wind,'" said DeMille, never one to be beaten. He added that the Civil War epic ran 3 hours and 41 minutes.
 The picture is said to cost 10 million dollars, and this may not be too much of an exaggeration, considering the scale on which DeMille operates. But he doesn't stress its enormity.
 "More spectacle is not enough," he said. "The public will be bored by bigness alone. You've also got to give them a story, and I think I have a great one."

Garcia Fails To Get Letter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The Air Force is trying to find out what happened to orders for Pvt. Joe V. Garcia, 30, who has waited 10 years for word on where to report for duty.
 Air Force officials in Washington have ordered Lackland Air Force Base officials to try to bring Garcia's records up to date to determine what action should be taken.
 Garcia was stationed at Lackland for a year but in 1946 spent two months at Brooke Army Hospital convalescing from injuries received in a tavern fight.
 He said when he returned to Lackland, his old outfit had been transferred along with his records and personal belongings. After three days of futile checking, a lieutenant told Garcia to go home and said the Air Force would get in touch with him in several days.
 Garcia, then 19, did as he was ordered. Since that time, he has been staying in San Antonio, working as a truck driver.
 A Lackland official said Garcia would not be entitled to any back pay for the 10 years because he has been on a "non-duty status."

Mrs. Jerry Scott Dies In Arizona

TULSAKE—Mrs. Jerry (Betty) Scott, 36, died in Yuma, Arizona on January 31 following a long illness. She was believed to be recovering satisfactorily when a complication developed. Results of an autopsy have not been received at this date from Yuma. Funeral services were held on February 3.
 Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott and son Lyle left at once for Yuma upon receiving word of her death. They were accompanied home by the widow and three young children, Billy, 8, Steven, 4 and Mark, one year old.
 Jerry Scott has lived in Yuma since he drew a homestead in 1948. He is a citrus rancher.

Schoolman Seeks Delay For Course

WEED—Start of a "Behind the Wheel Driver Training" program in the Siskiyou County high schools will not be possible in the near future because various high school principals in the county consider that it is not practical to institute the program at this time, reported Paul Fisher, assistant county superintendent of schools, at the February 9 meeting of the Siskiyou County Peace Officers Association.
 The training program has been investigated and encouraged by the association which gathered statistics throughout the state to show that students who received this program in their high school years have better drivers' ratings than those not receiving such training. Substituting the program possibilities was the fact that during 1955 a total of $7,245 was assessed in fines in this county which are, by law, earmarked for the driver training program. The fines are sent by the county treasurer to the state treasurer, and from there are distributed to the various schools in the state which have the program in effect.
 Resolutions passed by the association at their Thursday night meeting in Mount Shasta were: (1) a resolution to be sent to the Board of Education of the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors and the county personnel committee recommending an adequate salary increase for all county-employed law enforcement officers, justice court judges and their clerks, and also that a like resolution be sent to the various city police department and the police protection district of Weed.
 These resolutions were for the purpose of increasing the salaries of the above-mentioned employees in line with salary increases granted in the industrial field.
 Arrangements for the March 8 association meeting to be held at Weed will be handled by Police Chief Harold Barnum of Weed, game warden William Auman and Judicial Court Judge Kenneth Stone.

1956 Oscar Nominees To Be Revealed Over TV Saturday

By ALINE MOSBY
 HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The 1956 Oscar nominees will be unveiled on television Saturday—and this year the show has been remodeled to guarantee "no embarrassment."
 Last year any star who had a remote chance to cop a nomination sat in on the telecast. When the nominees were announced, the cameras caught the disappointed faces of the losers. This time kind-ly NBC-TV will not let that happen.
 "Not one prospective nominee will be on camera unless actually nominated," resolved Alan Handley, producing the show for the network. "This way there is less chance for embarrassment."
 NBC started telecasting the nominations only last year. Handley admits he then didn't think it would be much of a show. But it snared one of the highest ratings of any 90-minute "special."
 "For this year's show the prospective nominees will gather in NBC's Burbank studios. Susan Hayward, Spencer Tracy, James Cagney, Ernest Borgnine, Glenn Ford, Marissa Pavan and Frank Sinatra are among those expected to be nominated. Other stars will help announce the nominations.
 The technical awards will be flashed on the screen on cards while clips from last year's winning films are shown. The top acting nominees will be revealed by a surprise method—when clips from their movies appear on the screen.
 To master this complicated set-up, Price-Waterhouse, the accounting firm that counts the votes, had to let somebody in on the results for the first time.
 Veteran film cutter Bill Hornbeck was sworn to secrecy. Hornbeck is editing clips of the winning acting roles. The can of film will be sealed and opened only on the telecast. Price-Waterhouse is preparing the cards that announce the other winners.
 "We have no idea about the nominees," Handley insisted. "Some people always think this isn't on the level. But it is. The secrecy makes five times as much work for us."

MICE DAMAGE TRUCK
 FORT ROCK — Mice were responsible for a $45 repair bill Thursday on Dick Schaub's pickup truck. The vehicle was getting more and more sluggish each day and finally the motor turned over so hard it had to be towed to start. Taken to the garage for repairs it was discovered that mice had taken up lodging from the cushion and completely filled the clutch housing, causing enough drag to use up most of the motor's power. Schaub is buying poisoned grain for better truck performance.
