Gilchrist High News

By MAXINE FLETCHER

All over the nation people contributed to the 1956 March of Dimes Drive. Gilchrist also took part. The drive was sponsored by the Letterman's Club, during January. There were donations and a basketball game to raise money for this worthy cause. Vern Roehck, principal, reported that the contributions were as follows: Basketball game, $78.76; Grizzlies, $5; senior class, $15; faculty, $21.40; freshman class, who sold pop at the game, $5.10; juniorettes, who sold candy at the game, $2.20; seventh grade, $6.40; elementary grades, $52.33; making it a grand total of $158.19.

Canters placed in the various business firms in Crescent and Gilchrist by the Letterman's Club were not opened for counting, but were turned over to the March of Dimes Committee in Klamath Falls with the above sum.

Bogey Man's Real Drama Takes Place Behind Scenes

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Hollywood's top bogey men are making a super-colossal horror film, but behind the cameras there is a real-life drama that's more startling.

While the cameras rolled, a slender man watching on the sidelines said shortly, "I used to take five or six needles a day. And when I took the cure they took it all away from me. It was horrible, just horrible."

Bela "Dracula" Lugosi is back in the movies for the first time since he confessed he was a narcotics addict. He committed himself to a state hospital.

In the old days Lugosi was the star, the mad scientist who stirred bubbling concoctions, but on this set Basil Rathbone is playing the looney doctor, Lon Chaney, John Carradine and Akim Tamiroff also are in "The Black Sleep." Lugosi plays Rathbone's butler, a mute servant "who just lets people in and out."

"There is Basil playing my part," Lugosi said as we stood on the set. "I used to be the big cheese. I have no dialogue because I was a bit worried whether I could do justice to the expectations. I'm still recuperating."

In the gloomy set, Rathbone was reviving a man in the coffin. But I shivered more from the off-screen horror story Lugosi told me.

"I began using narcotics to kill the pain of sciatica," he said. "Finally the doctor said I used so much I would die in six months if I didn't stop."

"I couldn't afford the sanitarium. The only solution was to vol-

"George says I'm a genius!"

George is just amazed at how I manage to keep our house looking immaculate and still have time to enjoy the things I like to do most. Actually, all I've done is find a faster, easier way to do every job around the house. Like my wood floors. Cleaning and waxing them used to be my toughest chore. But now it's really one of my easiest. I just use Bruce Cleaning Wax. That way I clean and wax at the same time. And there's no floor washing at all. I'm through in half the time—and no more aching muscles from scrubbing. If you have wood floors, you'll want to try Bruce Cleaning Wax. It's simply wonderful!
