WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices remained higher although trading quieted in the stock market late Wednesday.

Leading issues scored gains of from 1 to 4 points in the wake of the medical report that President Eisenhower's health was good enough for him to go on actively "for another five or ten years."

In the earlier rush of heavy trading the gains stretched to around 6 points and the ticker tape, which reports transactions, fell as much as three minutes behind before it cleared up 40 minutes after the market opened.

Volume for the day was estimated at around three million shares in the heaviest trading since October.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains took a spill at the start and spent the rest of the session trying to right themselves on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Losses never ran to large amounts. Brokers were inclined to attribute the early sell off to the medical report on President Eisenhower's physical condition. They thought the President would vigorously oppose restoration of 90 per cent of parity price supports on basic crops.

City Council

The several plans for improving the system have been under study for some time and a cost analysis is being compiled by John Cunningham and Associates of Portland. This report should be in the city's hands by February 20, Mayor Paul Landry said. City Attorney Perkins said that legislation to place the project, or any part of it, on the May 18 primary must be introduced by the council not later than February 27. Several readings of the ordinance are required before the plan can be officially placed on the ballot, he said.

In further business, the council approved the payment of $5,077 to Pinniger and Watkins for repairs to the sewage system at the municipal airport. When the repair work is finished the city will have paid $18,540 for the job, which is 81 per cent complete. This amount will be repaid by the U.S. Air Force when they take possession of the base.

The council okayed a revokable permit to Allied Veterans Rehab Center, 707 South Sixth Street, to operate a center for physically handicapped and injured veterans to build and sell various articles.

Dunbar - Robinson Insurance Agency was awarded a contract for $3,800 of liability insurance.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. Louise Moore, under questioning by Defense Attorney Donald A. W. Piper, told the jury her daughter had a mania for passing spurious checks which existed for the past three years. Mrs. Moore said she made good scores of worthless checks passed by Mrs. Cutshaw in Klamath Falls, Sacramento and other cities.

The defense is attempting to prove Mrs. Cutshaw is mentally ill.

The nurse was arrested on complaint of the Payless Durg Store where she is alleged to have cashed a spurious $10 check.

Riley Lauds KF Region In Speech

Chamber of commerce members who heard Frank Branch Riley, one of America's most popular after dinner speakers address the Klamath Falls Knife and Fork Club Tuesday evening, must have chortled with glee.

Riley referred to this region as the "art gallery of the Almighty" and tossed a number of other colorful phrases that would make any civic booster turn green with envy.

The topic of Riley's talk, which was punctuated with rare samples of Irish wit, was "The Lure of the Pacific Northwest."

"The Pacific Northwest," Riley declared, "is the final objective of migratory America. For many years Oregon lagged behind other Pacific Coast states in population increase and industrial development.

"There was a turning point in 1940," he continued. "After 1940 more people came to Oregon than during the whole first century after Lewis and Clark explored the region. Today Portland has a bigger trading area than either Indianapolis or Kansas City. More electric stoves are used by Portland's 400,000 residents than all of New York City's millions."

The speaker also said that full exploitation of the Pacific Northwest is near at hand.

"For years," he added, "Oregon was behind in publicity and California was on everybody's lips. Los Angeles was the darling of the tourists and claimed a monopoly on sunshine. Los Angeles finally has become the third largest manufacturing city in North America."

Riley came here after an eastern tour during which he extolled the wonders of Oregon at meetings of the Harvard Club, Yale Club, Explorers Club and many business and professional groups.

Riley was introduced by Arthur Millard, George Elliott, president of the club presided at the dinner in the Willard Hotel.

Prayer Day Proclaimed

Mayor Paul O. Landry, has issued a proclamation for World Day of Prayer services to be held in the Klamath Temple on February 17 in which he called upon the people of Klamath Falls to observe the day as a special invitation to attend the prayer meeting.

For those unable to attend the meeting, to start at 1:30 p.m., the mayor called for one minute of prayer at high noon, asking God to "give light to guide, courage to support and love to reunite."

The day of prayer will be observed around the world for the 70th executive year with hundreds of thousands of Christians pausing in a spirit of reverence and unity.

Here, the meeting is being sponsored by the Klamath Council of Church Women and the service is open to all denominations.

It is also an opportunity to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad.

A second proclamation has been received, urging widespread participation in the service from Governor Elmo E. Smith of Oregon.

Local Cow Belle Leaders Return

Mrs. Ted Hyde of Bly, president of Klamath County Cow Belles, and Mrs. Dave Campbell, past president of the local group who is currently serving as second vice president of the Oregon State Cow Belles, have returned from Central Point where they assisted in organizing a new Cow Belle group.

Mrs. Campbell was guest speaker at the Jackson County Stockmen's Association meeting held Monday at the Central Point Grange Hall. Following the meeting, 10 women signed as charter members of the auxiliary organization.

Mrs. Collier Buffington was elected president; Mrs. John Bohnert, vice president and Mrs. L. Charley, secretary treasurer.
