Reservoir May Contain Body

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Two volunteer skin divers prepared to descend into the chilly depths of Cambridge Reservoir in Waltham today in the hunt for Thomas L. Clark, 18, of Harvey, Ill., a Massachusetts Institute of Technology freshman missing a week. Last night Clark's father, Alfred, a telephone company executive, identified a shoe and scarf found near the reservoir as those of his son. Middlesex County Dist. Atty. Ephraim T. Martin promised that "when and if he is found" an inquest will be held. "The possibility of foul play cannot be ruled out," he said. The white-fringed scarf was found in the ice-coated reservoir about 3,000 feet from shore. The elder Clark identified it as one given the youth as a Christmas present in 1954. The shoe was spotted from a searching helicopter. It was on the ground near the reservoir. Young Clark disappeared Feb. 9 after he and nine other students—members of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity—were let out of cars in the Greater Boston area and told to make their way back to school as part of an initiation ceremony. All but Clark got back safely.

THE SWAYING TREES

The trees up high are bowing low, As the wind will blow and blow. They look as if they're going to crack. As they bend their long, long back They reach almost up to the sky. There's such a grey, I thought they'd died. But bending, swaying, they're still there.

Baptists To See 'Travelers' Film

"The Travelers," a film, with sound, will be presented at the First Baptist Church Sunday, February 19, at 6:15 p.m. This film includes all familiar scenes viewed by the traveler of 2,000 years ago—men with their beasts of burden along the wayside, the inn where he rested and ate the food he brought with him or choice viands set out by the innkeeper; merchants displaying their wares, begging alms, and children at play. Many of the scenes will recall and clarify familiar Bible phrases hitherto only vaguely understood. There will be a service of baptism at the 7:30 p.m. worship service. Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a.m. and morning worship at 11 a.m.

Vets Receive Land Priority

War veterans have priority in the purchase of 15 full-time farm units currently being offered in the Columbia basin irrigation project in Washington, the Department of Veterans' Affairs reported today. The sale is conducted by the federal bureau of reclamation. Applications must be filed by March 8 with the reclamation bureau in Ephrata, Washington. In Oregon, the blanks may be obtained from county veterans' service officers or from the Salem or Portland offices of the Department of Veterans' Affairs. The 15 farms range in size from 64 to 197 irrigable acres, and in price from $2020 to $10,174. Most of the farms are priced from $2500 to $3000. Most of the land is adapted to diversified farming. The farm units are scheduled to receive water starting in 1957. To qualify, an applicant must possess assets worth at least $4500 in excess of liabilities. He must have had at least two years of full-time farm experience, must be in good health, and must intend to farm as an occupation.

Church Woman Plans KF Visit

Mrs. F. L. Van Dooser of Portland, president of the Oregon Fellowship of Congregational Women, will be in Klamath Falls Tuesday evening, February 21, to meet with the women of the Congregational Church and other women interested in attending the meeting. Mrs. W. C. Little and Mrs. Norman Wilson are hostesses for the evening.

City Government Petition Told

A group of Klamath Falls residents are circulating a petition to be signed and presented to the mayor and city council asking them to appoint a committee to study the possibility of rewriting the city's charter to make possible the city manager-council form of administration. If the committee determines that this form of government will be good for Klamath Falls it will be empowered to revise the city charter and the revision will be placed on the ballot.

Only Seven More Shopping Days Til Xmas In Yuba City

YUBA CITY, Calif. (UP)—Only seven more shopping days till Christmas—in Yuba City. Christmas will come on Feb. 25 for the 10,000 persons here who were cheated out of their regular yuletide by a disastrous flood of the Feather River last Dec. 24. It will be Christmas in every way, regardless of what the calendar says. There will be special church services, a community Christmas party, a visit from Santa Claus and toys for all the kids. There will even be a last-minute Christmas shopping rush at the stores. The Christmas in February will not be without its somber side, however. Families still are mourning the loss of 37 persons who are known to have died in the swift rising flood waters. Others are still missing. South of Yuba City, in the rich "Peach Bowl" agricultural area, flood waters only recently were drained from thousands of acres of orchard land. There may be permanent damage to the trees that represent the livelihood of hundreds of families. But with the help of outsiders the Christmas spirit has been rekindled in Yuba City. The idea was born in four Southern California Lions clubs and spread rapidly throughout the state. Lions at Lynwood, Huntington Park, South Gate and Compton, all in the Los Angeles area, began making plans for the event while the Christmas gifts. Yuba City men never had a chance to open, were still floating in the flood waters around the town. Youngsters who spent Dec. 26 in emergency shelters scattered throughout Northern California, in many cases separated from their families, will have their Christmas party in a huge tent brought up from Hollywood. The San Francisco Lions will present a vaudeville show. Lions at Susanville arranged to truck in a load of Christmas trees.

Ward's Reveals New Personnel

DUNSMUIR — Montgomery Ward's has announced its personnel for the catalogue store which will be opening in Dunsmuir next month. Mrs. Penny Harra, who recently moved to Dunsmuir from Klamath Falls, has been hired as manager of the new store. Mrs. Vivian Copitsky will be credit manager. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Serpa, Scott valley, a pioneer Siskiyou county family. Both Mrs. Harra and Mrs. Copitsky have left for a four-week training course at Montgomery Ward's new store in Concord. Mrs. Lydia Pomeroy has been named to the sales staff and Miss Lynett Alton, inventory clerk. The store, which is primarily to facilitate catalogue orders, is located in downtown Dunsmuir at the store formerly occupied by Mac's Market. It will open March 15.

7 out of 10 WOMEN
Prefer "SERVICE" MEATS!
That's right! Surveys by Super Market Institute, of which Big Y is a member, show that 7 out of every 10 women prefer to have the butcher work on them when they buy meat. They like to pick out the fresh, tender cuts they want, and to have the butcher weigh them and wrap them right before their eyes. That's why Big Y sticks to "Service" meats.
