

KUHS Slates Band Concert

The Klamath Union High School Concert Band will present its second annual "Pops" concert Thursday, March 8 at 8 p.m. in Pelican Court, announced Andrew Loney Jr., director of music education in the city schools, today.

LaMar Jensen, conductor of the band, has arranged many specialty numbers including one by Steve Stone, new member of the music faculty, entitled "Papaya" by Morrissey—a trombone solo with band accompaniment. The entire first clarinet section will play "Interlude" by Morrissey. A small admission charge will be made for this concert.

The KUHS music department is planning two other concerts. The regular spring concert April 6 in which several of the city's large music groups participate and an added concert at Mills School on March 22.

The March 22 concert will be presented by the University of Oregon Concert Choir. This organization is directed by Max Risinger and is considered one of the finest college choral groups in the West. The KUHS A Cappella Choir will join in this concert.

Academy Plans Music Hour

Elementary music students of Sacred Heart Academy will be presented in a "Musical Story Hour" Sunday afternoon, February 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. Fairy tales familiar to all children will be narrated and musically illustrated by the children participating.

The story of the "Three Little Pigs" will be told by John Jendzjewski; "Cinderella" by Cyrille Rickbell, and "The Hare and the Tortoise" by Phillip Ball.

Music students who will be presented include: Christian Caldwell, Virginia Harris, Phillip Ball, Joanne Holland, Dennis Misco, Alice Callouette, Janice McNeal, Timothy McManus, Teddy Enright, Janis Morgan, Rosemary DeNault, James Moore, Sheila Hale, Lloyd Ross, Joan Marie Conlon, Richard Smith, Ida Mae Gonzales, Kathleen Perkins, Leah Lamb, Kathleen Black, John Jendzjewski, Mary Roycroft, Cyrille Rickbell, Paula Andrieu, Rhondalea Silvers, James Kosen, Linda Whytal, Alfred Keuter and Stewart Leitake.

Accompanists for the string students will be Patricia Kosen, Catherine Ross and Margaret Smith.

FIVE MEMBERS of the Oregon Technical Institute show off some of the prizes they won at the regional meeting of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, which was held in Eugene. From left are Don Schonchin of Beatty, Joe Miller of Frenchglen, who won a third and a fourth, his brother Jerry Miller, who won a first, Ken Schiewe of Weston and Harold Hatcher of Chiloquin. A sixth team member, Roy Faithful of Sprague River, is not shown.

Rodeo Club Takes Second

The Oregon Technical Institute Rodeo Club, organized for less than a month, collected second place in the regional meeting of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, held in Eugene last weekend.

Seventeen teams were entered in the event, which was won by California Polytechnic at San Luis Obispo with 315 points.

The OTI group piled up a total of 186 points on the strength of a first, a third and a fourth. Jerry Miller of Frenchglen copped the bareback championship while his brother, Joe Miller, collected third in the bareback riding and fourth in the saddle bronc riding events.

Six OTI students participated in the event. The school paid none of their expenses of participation. The contestants used Christensen Brothers stock and competed under Rodeo Cowboys Association rules.

The rodeo club was formed last month with H. A. Pedersen, Almon Geiss and Adam Eckrick acting as faculty advisors.

Weather Shows Minor Changes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, with light rain, snow and cloudy skies in most areas. No severe cold or storms were reported.

Heaviest precipitation in the past 24 hours was along the Pacific Coast and Idaho with falls measuring around 2 inches at Mt. Hamilton along the central California coast.

Light snow continued in most of the Dakotas and rain or snow hit sections of the lower Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and Arkansas and Tennessee.

Skies were cloudy over the rest of the country except along the Atlantic coastal states where clear weather prevailed.

FATHER JERRY

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Comedian Jerry Lewis has a brand new son today—and a whole nursery full of baby clothes for a girl. Hoping for a daughter, Jerry had stocked up on pink togas. But his wife Pat had him up last night by giving birth to their third son. Both Mrs. Lewis and the baby, Scott Anthony, are doing fine.

Desegregation Rider Scored

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The American Assn. of School Administrators has gone on record against any desegregation amendment to federal school aid on the grounds such a clause might lead to defeat of the legislation.

The association's annual convention, which winds up today, took its stand on the school aid question in resolutions adopted without objection.

It asked that federal school buildings funds be channeled through state departments of education. Local school districts should receive them, the AASA said, "on the basis of demonstrated need and effort."

In another resolution dealing with integration, the 18,000 school officials urged "that all citizens approach this matter with the spirit of fair play and good will."

They expressed conviction . . . that all problems of integration in our schools are capable of solution at the state and local levels."

Gilchrist High News

By MAXINE FLETCHER

Students representing grades five through 12 appeared at the February 15 meeting of the Gilchrist Community Garden Club in the Gilchrist High School Library to report on the activities carried on this year in the wildlife conservation study. Maxine Fletcher acted as mistress of ceremonies. From the fifth grade, Patty Cole and Ada Sampson told about their posters. Dorothy Houston announced the winners of the Garden Club essay contest. Shirley Edgar read an essay entitled, "Wildlife," written by Jacqueline Gustan, first place winner in the Garden Club essay contest. Shirley Edgar and Douglas Drake gave a demonstration on how to create pictures out of aluminum foil. Lee Ann Curtis talked about the work accomplished in English in grades seven and eight; Wanda Hight announced the winners of the county poster contest; and Mary Helen Edgar explained the work in which wildlife was the theme they used for place mats at Christmas. Mervin Jordan and Don Crotwell, from the ninth grade, gave information on their general science program, and poster sent for Education Week display. Bennie James presented his television program, "Game Management," a script written to enter in Klamath County script writing competition for juniors, with the help of Arthur Warren and Beverly Sample. After this part of the program, Mrs. Vern Brader told about the conservation work of the Garden Club.

Winners of the Garden Club essay contest were: first place—Jackqueline Gustan, who lives at Crescent Lake; second place—Billy Taylor, living at Chemult; third place—Mary Helen Edgar, who resides at Gilchrist; there were two honorable mentions, Chet Emery who lives at LaPine and Shirley Edgar who also resides at Gilchrist.
