AAU Tries Moore; Cage Tactics Bossom

Santee Case Hits Oval Boss

By HAL WOOD

United Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Let's bring some of the backwash of the Wes Santee "disbarment from amateur athletics for life" case out into the open.

Tom Moore, director of the California Relays, goes on trial tomorrow for allegedly paying Santee too much money to compete in a half-mile run against Spurrer at Modesto last spring. (Santee, incidentally, won against the world record holder).

Moore, one of the true amateurs and lovers of track and field, is in the middle in this case. He is being accused of paying Santee something like $400 to appear at the relays which are run 24 hours after the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles 300 miles away.

MEMBER
A member of the Pacific Association AAU told me this:

"What could Moore do if he was to get Santee to run? He is called Santee, and the miler told him: 'see my agent'."

Moore refused to dicker with the agent, but finally got together with Santee on a price.

Santee didn't get any more, probably less, from Moore than he received for running several other places. Still, Tom is on the case for "over-paying."

HELD RECORD
Tom Moore is a former hurdles champion from the University of California. At one time he held the American record. Since his graduation he has been very interested in the promotion of track and field meets. He originated the California Relays at Modesto about a dozen years ago and has personally lifted them up to rank with the top events in the country.

Aside from this, Moore serves as an official starter at many AAU-sanctioned meets throughout the west, for which he refuses to accept a cent of pay.

If Moore really had wanted to cheat, he could have charged the relays for his services as a starter, then handed the money to Santee as a personal gift.

But, being honest, of course, Moore now faces disciplinary action.

OCU, Seattle Join NCAA Tourney List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma City University, setting a record with its fifth straight selection, and Seattle Thursday swelled the entry list to seven for next month's NCAA national championship basketball tournament.

The "at-large" choices were announced by Reeves Peters, commissioner of the Big Seven Conference and a chairman of the NCAA's Western Selection Committee.

Seattle, still shaking from an 80-48 pounding administered by the Boston Celtics Wednesday night, will meet Idaho State, champion of the Rocky Mountain Conference and an automatic qualifier, in the first round of the Western Regionals either March 12 or 13.

Seattle, 15-9 for the season, will be making its fourth straight NCAA appearance along with Idaho State. They shared the record with Dartmouth until Oklahoma City filed away its fifth consecutive NCAA bid.

The OSU Chiefs, who host Seattle Friday night, are 17-5 for the season and were ranked No. 18 in this week's Associated Press poll. They'll meet the third and as yet unnamed "at-large" choice in first-round competition at Wichita, Kan., March 13.

In their previous NCAA appearances, Seattle managed only a 2-5 record. Oklahoma City is 1-5 for the NCAA and Idaho State 2-3.

Earlier entries to the NCAA tourney, in addition to the automatic qualifiers, were Memphis State and Holy Cross, both Eastern "at-large" choices, and Connecticut and Marshall. The latter were automatic entries as champions of their respective Yankee and Mid-American conferences.

Cal Coaches Leave Posts

BERKELEY, Calif. (U)—Two veteran assistant football coaches Wednesday night resigned at the University of California—apparently on request.

They are Zeb Chaney, assistant varsity coach since 1946, and Hal Grant, freshman football and track coach since 1947.

Head Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf said:

"Every once in a while a change helps. This is no reflection on the two men involved. I deeply appreciate their fine services in the past. No hard feelings or dissension is involved. It's merely that I feel a change is advisable."

He gave no indication when he would name replacements.

Last fall California had its worst season of nine years under Waldorf, with two wins, seven losses and one tie.

Waldorf said Wes Fry will continue as backfield coach and Herm Meister as line coach.

There was no comment from Chaney and Grant.

Waldorf was under fire last season, which he termed "the very bottom of a cycle." The Bears have been going downhill since Waldorf's first four years at California in which he produced three Rose Bowl teams, each of them losing by a small margin at Pasadena.

Henley, Eagle Point Open A-2 Cage Play

State tournament plans are in the minds of Henley High School basketball players and school followers today as the Hornets journey to Central Point for a three-day District 6-A-C Southern Division Cage tournament.

Henley joins five other A-2 schools from Southern Oregon in the Thursday-Friday-Saturday elimination tournament, and should the Hornets capture this playoff, they would go against the winner of the Northern Division of the district and a berth in the state A-2 cage tournament next month at Salem.

Tonight, Henley meets Eagle Point in the "Little Six" opener at 7 o'clock. The second game to-night pits Illinois Valley against Brookings at 8:30. Friday's schedule calls for the winner of the Henley-Eagle Point game to meet Phoenix, and the winner of the Illinois Valley-Brookings contest to face Crater High, the host team.

Saturday, three games will be played. At 6:30 the Thursday losers will tangle, and at 8 o'clock the Friday losers. The championship game will tip-off at 9:30 Saturday night.

Last year, Henley picked up third place honors in the "Little Six" tourney by winning over Illinois Valley, 46-30, losing to Eagle Point, 56-44, and beating Brookings, 52-32.

Henley's 8-5 record for the season is second best in the weekend gathering. Phoenix is the favored team as the tournament opens after building a 19-3 mark in regular season competition. Crater has won 9 and lost 11, Brookings is 8-7 against similar competition, as Henley faces, Illinois Valley has won only one game out of 20 and Eagle Point has dropped 12 games while winning nine.

Crater will be defending the laurels which it won last year. The Cornets also claimed the honors in the A-2 play in 1953-54. This will be Crater's last year in A-2 play, next season they will join the A-1 ranks with Grants Pass, Ashland, Medford and Klamath Falls.

Coach Al Fairchild is expected to string along with the same starting lineup that he has used throughout most of the season. The forward spots might go to Dale Seay and Lee Roberts, and Randy Montgomery would handle the center chores. At guards the starting assignments will probably be given to Joe Arant and Gary Cunningham. Ted Blofky may also open against Eagle Point tonight at a forward or center position.

Games tomorrow afternoon at Henley will pit the losers of this afternoon's games at 1:30 and the losers of tonight's games at 2:45. Friday evening's games will find the winners of today's games meeting at 7:30 and the winners of tonight's two tests will vie in the feature game at 8:45.
