our brewmaster goes shopping

Every year our brewmaster, Dr. Max Zimmermann, goes shopping for over 2 million bushels of select quality ingredients to brew the light, refreshing beer.

And, we might add that price is no object, for only the choice, golden barley and sun-ripened hops are selected.

Fortunately, Dr. Zimmermann hasn't far to go. Even though he could go elsewhere, the finest malting barley in the world is grown in the fertile soils of the rich Pacific Northwest. Dr. Zimmermann just visits some good friends and neighbors who know that he personally inspects and selects from the premium quality crop far in advance of the market offering.

After his shopping is over, he comes home to combine these select ingredients with the purest water in the world and brews for you the light, refreshing beer... Blitz Weinhard.

Now, Dr. Zimmermann goes to all this trouble because quality is our master at Blitz Weinhard... and quality begins with the select ingredients used. And that's why we're asking you to discover for yourself...

Blitz Weinhard... the light refreshing beer
