

Herter Supports Richard Nixon

BOSTON (AP)—Gov. Christian A. Herter (R) says if "President Eisenhower wants Nixon again" as a running mate "I think he certainly will be nominated."

Herter also told a news conference last night he is "certainly not" going to enter any contest for nomination for Vice President. "There isn't going to be any contest," he added. "I haven't the vague notion how you could have any contest. The convention selects the nominee for Vice President."

Herter was mentioned as a possible presidential candidate if Eisenhower decided against running. He now is being mentioned in some quarters as a likely choice for the GOP vice presidential nomination.

DUTCH TREAT HONEYMOON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A Dutch treat honeymoon is anything but a treat, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 63, indicated in winning a divorce. She testified her 80-year-old husband Clifton insisted they split expenses on a second honeymoon after a separation last July. The Smiths married in 1932.

Pupils Hear Fight Promoter

The combined sixth grades of Rogue River School near Grants Pass heard a talk last week by Mac Lillard, well known Klamath Falls fight promoter, who, with Mrs. Lillard has been making trips into Mexico nearly every year for more than a dozen years. The classes had just completed the geography study of the country of Mexico and the principal and teachers asked Lillard to give a personal report, highlighting interesting things they had seen and recorded in movies and pictures on the trips.

the "tourist," and she "bought" Mexican money in exchange for American money to demonstrate the rate of exchange to the class. Lillard explained the practice of gathering in the plaza in Mexican communities where music and singing are part of the daily life and not reserved for fiestas. "We never saw a rude Mexican child," Lillard said, "on any of our trips."
