7 out of 10 WOMEN
Prefer "SERVICE" MEATS!
That's right! Surveys by Super Market Institute, of which Big Y is a member, show that 7 out of every 10 women prefer to have the butcher wait on them when they buy meat. They like to pick out the fresh, tender cuts they want, and to have the butcher weigh them and wrap them right before their eyes. That's why Big Y sticks to "Service" meats.

A second alternate will be elected at a later meeting.
The district convention will be held April 12-14-15 in Coos Bay. Vinture Club girls are sponsoring a card party in the city library on March 14, and it was announced that the Oregon State Mothers Club will sponsor a card party on April 7 for the benefit of the OSC scholarship fund.
Communications were read from Nancy Ambers, who received a Soroptimist nurse's scholarship and from members of the Brighton, England Soroptimist Club.
Suzanne Hamilton of Marvins' will present a style show at the next meeting.

BY LYLE DOWNING

C. BUZ LARKIN

Anyone observing C. Buz Larkin "buzzing" around town might logically draw the conclusion that the reason Rome wasn't built in a day was because the popular Klamath Falls insurance agent wasn't there. Known among his friends as "Always in a Hurry Larkin," the insurance vendor once was acclaimed the No. 1 prune picker in Yamhill County.

Larkin was born in Newberg in Yamhill County April 3, 1910. Other big events in that year included the dynamite blasting of the Los Angeles Times which killed 21 persons; Woodrow Wilson's resignation as president of Princeton University and entrance into politics; organization of the Boy Scouts of America and the first attempted dirigible flight across the Atlantic.

Young Larkin didn't cause much of a stir in Yamhill County until he demonstrated his prune-picking prowess in 1920. He was elevated from the prune orchard to a cannery the following year.

In 1923, Larkin enrolled in the school of business administration at the University of Oregon and was graduated in 1925. He returned to Newberg and with his brother, Wallace, took over operation of a farm implement and hardware store which had been established many years before by their father.

Recalling this stage of his career, Larkin said:

DEPRESSION HIT
"We just got wheeling and dealing in the hardware business when the big depression took a strangle hold on the town. For a long time anyone who entered our store with cash in hand, no matter how little was treated like royalty. I guess the darkest day in my career was the day in 1932 when both banks in Newberg closed their doors."

Life remained on a pretty monotonous level for the Larkin brothers until the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor in 1941. Within a few days after this catastrophe both boys were in the Army with commissions of first lieutenant. Military life for Buz Larkin was of short duration. He developed an ear infection which led to a medical discharge.

For the next seven years Larkin was employed by the J. E. Sirrenee Company of North Carolina as a purchasing agent for their construction operations in Tacoma, Washington. Then he moved to Klamath Falls.

BIG FUTURE
At this juncture in recounting his adventures, Larkin launched on a verbal appraisal of the Klamath Basin which would make a circus press agent turn green with envy.
"This is the most colossal spot on earth," he declared. "In fact, it's stupendous! Before long Klamath Falls will reach metropolitan proportions. San Francisco and Portland better look to their laurels."

One of the major events in Larkin's career was when he married Margaret Tony of McMinnville in 1936. They now have a daughter, Jamie, who is a senior at Klamath Union High School. The Larkins reside at 542 Pacific Terrace.

Willow Ranch Opening Set
NEW PINE CREEK — One sign that the long, sustained winter weather is running out was noted last week by Irvin Faris who reported that a sign is posted at the Willow Ranch mill announcing the opening of the plant on March 19. It has been shut down for more than two months.
Only the planer has been operating at the mill but now Truman Lawson's logging outfit is bringing in logs again. These logs were decks on the west side last fall so they could be hauled to the mill during the winter as they were needed. Wet winter weather made the road bed too soft for hauling and work had to be suspended.

Festival Big Success
NEW PINE CREEK — The successful Town and Country Festival sponsored March 2 by the Kelly Creek PTA, realized approximately $175.
The festival was held to raise money for a scholarship to be given to some local boy or girl preparing for the teaching field.
Included in the evening of fun were dart games, throwing contests, guessing games, a cakewalk, fancywork table, harvest table and a white elephant sale. Dale Bunch won a handsome pressure cooker contributed by a Lakeview firm.
Mrs. Mary Millsaps, president of the Kelly Creek PTA, and her committee were in charge of the event which was held at the Kelly Creek School.

Oregon Tech Firemen End Red Cross First Aid Course

Nine members of the OTI fire Department and four other staff members and students at the institute completed their advanced first aid course Monday. The 30-hour course was instructed by Willard Richards, through the local Red Cross office.

According to OTI Fire Chief A. J. Loomis, the entire 13-man complement of the station now holds advanced first aid ratings, which will enable them to further serve the Institute and the community in the case of emergency. Until recently the OTI department was the only actual state of Oregon fire station. It is now also under Klamath County supervision and works under the mutual aid system which calls on all departments when extra fire fighting facilities are needed in any area. Plans are now under way for the Associated Student Body to sponsor a modern, well-equipped ambulance which will be staffed by the department and available in emergencies at the institute.

Men who have just completed the Red Cross advanced first aid course are Assistant Chief James Baker, Lt. Howard Winnett, and Firemen Ed Fugivog, Marion L. Eaton, Clarence Landis, John Reeves, Frederick Alexis, and Bud Jacobson. George Miller, assistant football coach Jack Cumming, supervisor of custodians, and two OTI students, Roger Bagley and LaVerne Johnson, also took this volunteer first aid course. Other members of the fire department who have previously held the advanced first aid rating are Chief Loomis, Capt. Rollin Hines, Capt. Robert Blair and Lt. Richard Heinz.

APPOINTED
ALTURAS — The appointment of Mrs. Fred Ash of Alturas as Modoc County chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1956 Cancer Crusade was announced last week.
Modoc County won top honors in the state-for mass showing of the self-examination cancer film. It was estimated that 36.6 per cent of the women in the county viewed the film during the month of December.
