

Danville Said 'Nice City'

DANVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Feuding Mayor Girt N. Hicks today admitted Air Force charges that there are bawdy houses in Danville, but insisted his city is in "nice shape."

He ran head-on into opposition from a group of ministers who think differently.

The mayor said "you know as well as I do" that there is prostitution in Danville, but that didn't mean the Air Force should get high and mighty about it.

He said about 200 people have telephoned to congratulate him for "telling off" Brig. Gen. A. M. Minton, commander of the nearby Chanuse Air Force Base.

Minton charged that eight of his men contracted venereal diseases at Danville bawdy houses in February alone. He demanded that "something must be done" and found ready allies in the Danville Ministerial Assn.

The Rev. Gerald Sias said the mayor "obviously has been talking with a different crowd than we have." Danville church-goers will get an earful about the city's vice next Sunday, he said.

"It's Palm Sunday and we'll deal with the theme that good people in the community again have reason to be as sad as Jesus was sad when he went to Jerusalem," Sias said.

Case Asks GOP To Reject Electoral College Plan

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) appealed to his GOP colleagues today to reject a proposed constitutional amendment that would revise the system of electing presidents and vice presidents.

Although 30 Republican senators are listed as sponsors of the proposed amendment, Case contended its "adverse effect on the Republican party for the indefinite future cannot be questioned."

He also maintained in a memorandum sent to his fellow Republican senators that the proposal would cause what he termed "great and permanent injury to our society and our form of government and to the American two-party system."

Senate debate on the legislation got under way yesterday. Almost immediately there were sharply conflicting interpretations of its possible effect. Party lines were mixed on the question.

The proposal would do away with the present "winner-take-all" system under which a state's entire electoral vote goes to the popular voter, no matter how slim his margin.

The proposed amendment, as originally approved by the Senate

Judiciary Committee, would divide each state's electoral votes for president in proportion to the popular votes received by the candidate.

A substitute amendment, worked out by Senators Daniel (D-Tex), Mundi (R-SD) and Thurmond (D-SC), would let each state decide whether to cast its electoral vote in that manner, or to choose presidential electors as they now select their senators and representatives in Congress.

Put forward as a compromise, the substitute now lists as sponsors

54 senators—20 Republicans and 24 Democrats. Daniel said he thought it had "a good chance" of winning Senate approval.

To become effective, a constitutional amendment must get approval of two thirds of those voting in the Senate and the House, and be ratified by three fourths of the states.

The principal argument of sponsors is that the proposed constitutional change would bring about a more accurate reflection of the popular will in presidential elections.

Senators Douglas (D-Ill) and Kennedy (D-Mass), opposing the plan, contended the effect would be to increase further what they called the present overrepresentation of rural areas in government.

Salk Vaccine Reported Okay

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The man who evaluated the Salk polio vaccine says a year of widespread use has proved the vaccine to be safe, potent and effective.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. said records for the period show the incidence of paralytic polio is 2 to 10 times greater among persons who did not receive the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk in delivering the Gudakunst Memorial Lecture at the University of Michigan yesterday. The vaccine was evaluated originally at the university.

Most of the setbacks which followed release of the vaccine for public use last April 12 have been eliminated, he said.

Difficulties, he said, stemmed from variations in the potency of individual lots of vaccine and were caused by use of mercurio-late as a preservative for the vaccine.

"It is interesting to note," he said, "that no laboratory-confirmed paralytic cases (of polio) occurred after vaccination with a vaccine which was more than 70 to 75 per cent potent."
