

EMMERT-BRANDEJSKY WEDDING VOWS TAKEN DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY

Palms, baskets of white gladiolus, pink carnations, pale yellow chrysanthemums and many tall lighted white tapers formed the background for the nuptial vows exchanged by Betty Jane Brandesky and Joseph Weir Emmert. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brandesky, Route 1, Klamath Falls. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mansfield, 5575 Shasta Way, also of this city.

The double ring ceremony was read at 2 o'clock on March 18 in the Mt. Laki Community Church by the Rev. William Ainley in the presence of 60 relatives and close friends of the young couple.

Traditional music preceding the ceremony and the wedding march were played by Susan Williams, Stanley Kendall, vocalist, sang "Away" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white satin, waist length, made on princess lines. The long-sleeved bodice and skirt panels that fell from waist to hem were of lace. The frock was made by the bride and a college friend, Marilyn Collins of Portland.

Betty's hip-length illusion veil, borrowed from Mrs. Kenneth Lowe, fell from a pearl-encrusted heart-shaped tiara. She carried a lavender orchid and stephanotis on a white ribbon.

Mary Ann Sartin, Gervais, Oregon, college roommate of the bride, maid of honor, wore blue lace over tulle, made floor length with long sleeves. She carried a crescent-shaped arrangement of yellow Shasta pompon chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

An identical frock and flowers in orchid shades was worn by Shirley Will, Salem, bridesmaid.

Linda Brennan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Brennan, Klamath Falls, wore a white nylon dress over yellow tulle. She carried yellow and pink rose petals in a white basket and wore a wreath of the same flowers in her hair.

The ring bearer, Ronald Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peck, Klamath Falls, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Best man was Hollis Kiger of this city, ushering was Ronald Robbins.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brandesky chose a powder blue suit with white accessories and white rose buds and hyacinths for her shoulder corsage. Mrs. Mansfield wore a brown and white ensemble with white accessories and roses and hyacinths at the shoulder.

A reception at the church immediately followed the service.

The first piece of the three-tiered pink and white wedding cake, encircled with roses and topped with a bride and bridegroom, wedding bells and swan, was cut by the new Mr. and Mrs. Emmert. The confection was later served by Mrs. Hazel M. Roark, Portland.

Mrs. Walter Killian was at the punch bowl. Mrs. Kenneth Lowe was at the coffee urn, Carol Spicer was in charge of the gift table and the guest book.

The young couple left following the reception for a motor trip south. Mrs. Emmert was graduated from Oregon State College a few days before her wedding. She majored in agricultural journalism. She was president of the Oregon State Telemike Club, and secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary professional sorority for women in journalism.

Her husband was graduated from Klamath Union High School in 1955, is now working in the field of radio and television.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Hazel M. Roark, Portland, Carol Spicer, Portland, Mary Ann Sartin, Gervais, and Shirley Will, Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmert will be at home at 5704 Avalon Street.

Twin Sister Attends Bride At Mount Shasta Ceremony

MOUNT SHASTA — Georgina Salvastro and Delano Acord were united in marriage on Sunday, March 4, at St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Michael Nyles officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

A gown of white lace with ballerina length sleeves was worn by the bride. Her bouquet was of bouvardia and gardenias and she was given in marriage by her father, John Salvastro. Her twin sister, Mrs. Robert Cottini, was her only attendant.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Acord of Mount Shasta, was attended by his brother, Lowell Acord.

The bride's mother wore a gown of old rose lace with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Acord wore beige with black accessories and a white corsage.

A buffet supper at the Catholic Hall followed the ceremony. Marlene Vanni was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Robert Gilbert, sister of the bride, served.

The young couple are both Mount Shasta High School graduates and the bridegroom has recently completed a tour of duty with the Air Force. They will live in Mount Shasta.

TEEN-AGERS HAVE PARTY

LANGELL VALLEY — Michelle Brett and Charlotte Noble entertained a few friends at a teenage party at the Brett home the evening of March 14. Games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour, after which refreshments were served.

Present were Sherry Crawford, Joan and Verona Bailey, Kenny Albert, Bill Dearborn, Davis Thomas, Tommy Morris, Joe Alexander and the two hostesses.

S-H-U-R-E THERE WAS BLARNEY and a few Irish jigs at the Elks St. Patrick's dance on March 17 by the lads and the lassies who hail from County Down, the green banks of The Shannon or perhaps from the shores of Galway Bay. Never will they cease to remember their ancestry nor to be proud of it. Irishmen and their ladies of the Elks Lodge were committee chairmen for the annual affair. Music was by the Morgan and McDonald dance orchestra which lasted until near the morn. On the committee were, left to right, seated Pat McCarrie, M. G. Burk and Mrs. Burk and Ivan Bold. Standing in the same order are H. E. Oberheide, Mrs. Oberheide, Lloyd Sparks, dance chairman and Mrs. Ivan Bold.

THOSE WHO DANCED in honor of St. Patrick at the Elks annual Irish ball were bewitched 'tis said by the lavish Irish decor and the smorgasbord at midnight and by the strains of Irish music that floated 'round the hall. Resting a bit 'round the table were clockwise, Mrs. Otto Ellis, Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Les Hoback of Modoc Point; Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Stonecypher of Tulelake and Mr. and Mrs. William Adams of Malin.
