

"WILL YOU BUY SOME COOKIES?" is being heard up and down the town these days as Girl Scouts offer the usual tasty confections and salted nuts for sale. The annual cookie sale got under way March 23 and will continue through April 7. Money from the sale goes for expenses of the Scouts not included in the United Fund budget, such as new camping equipment, the Girl Scout foreign exchange program, international events and senior conference. Mrs. Lowell Jones is 1956 sales chairman. Among the first customers, right is Mrs. Dennis Stone. Girl Scouts are left, Laura Kay DeRosier and Andrea Lee Mosley, both of Troop 61, Fairhaven.

Tour Planned By Recruiters

Representatives of the four women's branches of the armed forces will visit Southern Oregon next week, announced T-Sgt. Don Adams, local Air Force recruiting non-commissioned officer, Saturday. The four women recruiters, all from Portland, are: T-Sgt. Florence E. Green, Air Force; Chief Petty Officer Annette H. Rivers, Navy; Specialist 2nd Class Dagmar M. Larsen, Army, and M-Sgt. Esther D. Wnclawski, Marine Corps. The recruiters are scheduled to make talks at assemblies in the following high schools: Lakeview, 10 a.m. March 27; Henley High School, 2:30 p.m. March 27; Klamath Union High School, 10 a.m. March 28; and Merrill High School, 9 a.m. March 29. A panel discussion will be broadcast by the officers over KFLW at 9:30 p.m. March 27 and over KPJI at a time to be announced.

Grass Fire Season Starts

The 1956 grass fire season got underway Friday with three blazes being reported by the Suburban Fire Department. None of them caused any damage. The fires were reported at 11:43 a.m. on property owned by P. L. Weaver at 1205 Maryland, at 11:52 a.m. on property owned by Helt Smith at 2346 Kane, and at 1:20 p.m. on property owned by John E. Exeret, at 3035 Lodi, firemen said. The Suburban Fire Department also reported that some apparatus in the pin refinishing room at the Lucky Lanes Bowling Alley, 3319 South Sixth Street, caught fire at 4 p.m. Friday. Except for smoke, there was no damage, firemen said. Acting as the county fire department, the Suburban firemen extinguished a fire in the attic of the farm residence of Martin Green on the Homedale Dickson Road. Damage was restricted to the attic. The call was received at 10:20 a.m. Saturday.

KLAMATH FALLS JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

By FRANCIS KENYON
On March 21, counselors from the high school came to KJFH to explain about high school, to help the students in making out their schedules, and to preregister them. There was an assembly from 8:40 to 9 to introduce the counselors and tell what they were for. The counselors were Principal Carlson, Assistant Principal Anderson and Vice-Principal Smith. During the social studies periods the counselors helped preregister students and helped them with their schedules for next year. Rooms 12, 14, 15 and 17 are the only teams left in the Intraannual Basketball Tournament. Room 14 is the only unbeaten team. On March 30 there is going to be an Easter Program put on by the Social Committee. There will be Easter music and the Reverend Dale Hewitt will speak. Fathers night was held at Fremont PTA on Thursday, March 22 in the auditorium. Karl Gentry spoke in the colored films on "Wildlife." Refreshments were served following the meeting. Miss Phinney and Mrs. McLaughling won room count. Next week is a dreaded week for some students here at KJFH. It is report card week. The students will circulate the cards among the rooms on Monday and Tuesday for grades, and take the cards home on Wednesday.

Emergency Board Refuses Funds For Oregon Battleship

SALEM (AP)—The Oregon State Emergency Board refused Friday to allocate any funds for the Battleship Oregon Museum in Portland. The board directed the State Department of Finance to study how much it would cost to store the museum articles. The 1957 Legislature then would decide whether to close the museum permanently. Last year, the Legislature refused to appropriate any money to operate the museum. It has continued to operate, however, through private contributions. Harry Williams, chairman of the Battleship Oregon Commission, said the Legislature does not have jurisdiction in the matter and cannot close the museum. He said the commission is the only body with control over the museum. The museum contains relics of the famous battleship which raced around Cape Horn in 1898 to join the American fleet off Cuba, as well as other historical objects. The battleship itself was moored in Portland harbor until World War II. It became a barge, and now is a rusting hulk at Guam. The mast remains as a monument along the Portland seawall. The Battleship Oregon Commission asked the board Friday for $7,652 to run the museum until the next Legislature. Williams said the $7,652 was given to the commission in a trust fund by the U. S. Navy, but that the Legislature ordered it transferred to the state general fund. Then the commission requested $150 a month to pay the rental and upkeep on the museum until the Legislature meets. The board, failing to get a promise that the commission would lock the museum's doors, refused. Williams pleaded for continuation of the museum. Board members said they would like to turn the historical objects over to the Oregon Historical Society. Some board members were critical that the museum contains objects not related to the battleship. Authorized the governor to employ an additional research assistant at $7,200 a year, and another clerk. Approved start of the $122,500 remodeling of the State Department of Agriculture. Permitted the State Bureau of Labor to spend $12,500 to enforce the new law regulating billboards along highways. Allowed the State Census Board to spend $24,052 to make population counts and estimates for cities every year. Appropriated $5,000 to put a loudspeaker system in the state House of Representatives. There will be 10 microphones.

Former Modoc Man Dies In Sacramento

ALTURAS — Funeral services were held last week in Sacramento for James P. Moore, 74, a former Modoc County sheriff and county supervisor for 13 years, who died in that city on Tuesday. Survivors are his widow, Carrie, a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Miller of North Sacramento; a son, Forrest of Cocheville Valley; a brother, Franklin T. Moore of San Francisco and a halfbrother, Gilbert Armstrong of Red Bluff. He had served as sheriff from 1919 to 1923 and as county supervisor for 12 years prior to 1919.

Southern Demos Angered By Harriman Candidacy Plan

WASHINGTON (UP)—Some Southern Democrats saw their bad dreams coming true Saturday in New York Democratic Chairman Michael Prendergast's statement that Gov. Averell Harriman is "definitely" a presidential candidate. Prendergast said Friday night the New York governor's entry in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination was assured by Sen. Estes Kefauver's defeat of Aclal Stevenson in the Minnesota primary. Harriman has consistently said he is an inactive candidate. Many Southern Democrats find the thought of Kefauver as their party's standard bearer unpleasant. Some are even more opposed to Harriman. A convention fight between Kefauver and Harriman for the nomination would leave many Southerners with little choice. A highly placed Southern political figure already has predicted that a splinter group will be formed in the wake of the Democratic national convention. He said he is convinced the convention will nominate a candidate and write a platform that will be unacceptable to Southerners because of the racial segregation issue. Both Kefauver and Harriman have taken strong anti-segregation stands. Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) told a reporter Friday the nomination of either Kefauver or Harriman might result in a third party. He said Stevenson "has nearly eliminated himself" as a contender because of his poor showing thus far. Many Southerners are looking toward Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas as a possible dark horse candidate. But he is giving them no encouragement. Johnson is telling friends the fluid situation in the Democratic presidential sweepstakes is making him reluctant to commit himself as even a favorite son candidate from Texas. He was said to feel this might give the impression that he is heading a movement to sidetrack Kefauver's campaign. Kefauver's stock is booming since his Minnesota victory. Democrats who have tried to coax Johnson into the race have quoted him as saying he is "from the wrong direction of the country at the wrong time." By this he means that as a Southerner in a year when the party is split over civil rights he might not get enough northern support to win the nomination. Johnson's Senate associates are divided in their speculation about his attitude. Some believe he won't run. Others are convinced he will show a growing interest in developments foreshadowing a convention deadlock. At any rate they doubt he can turn down the favorite son proposal which was advanced by Speaker Sam Rayburn as a move to insure harmony in the Texas delegation.

Death Takes John Heckman

LAKEVIEW—Judge John Rutter Heckman, 84, a resident of Lakeview since 1910, died Saturday. A charter member of the Lakeview Elks Lodge, he operated a dairy and restaurant here, then homesteaded in Valley Falls for 10 years, and then returned to Lakeview and operated the Lake County Tire Shop with his son-in-law. He was elected county judge and served for 18 years until his retirement four years ago. He also served on the city council. Survivors include the widow, Lucy Heckman of Lakeview; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Landon of a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Landon of Lakeview; a brother, Charles Heckman of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; also one grandchild, three great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from the Elks Lodge with the Rev. Gordon C. Griffin officiating. Interment will follow in Sunset Park Cemetery. Pallbearers will be Walter Carter, C. B. Wilson of Alturas, Harry Sanders, Harry Vernon, Tex Artburn and Clem Adamson. Ouseley-Osterman Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Fall Injures Housemover

Eddie Dent of the Dent Brothers housemoving firm was in critical condition last night after he fell off the roof of a two-story house the firm was moving in Merrill early Saturday afternoon. According to Jim Kaler of Kaler's Ambulance Service the entire side of his head and face was caved in. Kaler left at about 6 p.m. Saturday to rush the victim to Sacred Heart Hospital in Medford, where a brain specialist will operate in an attempt to save his life. Dent was on top of the building guiding electric and telephone wires over the chimney when he apparently slipped and fell off the building, Kaler said. Before leaving for Medford, he was hospitalized for a short time at Klamath Valley Hospital. Kaler's records do not show Dent's home address, but the firm has offices at 4401 Miller Avenue, he said.

Martin Putnam is chairman of the nominating committee. Various committees also will make their annual reports. The meeting will conclude with the showing of a Boy Scout movie, "They Also Served."

Sacred Heart Notebook

By ELDA DAL BROO
Having taken the last of their term exams the thoughts of SEAs are now turning to report cards. These fateful, little, white cards will be given out Monday, March 26. The faculty and many students attended the movie based on the Oberammergau Passion Play, Wednesday at Mills Auditorium. Spring is making its debut around SEA in several ways. The baseball team has begun its daily practice. Students are discarding their winter togs and several clubs have begun making plans for picnics.

OPPOSITION
ALBANY, Ore. — A resolution opposing any changes in the United Nations charter which might "lead to any form of world government" was approved here Friday by Oregon Daughters of the American Revolution. The organization, holding its 42nd annual conference, elected officers at Saturday's closing session. Delegates from 21 state chapters attended.

Springtime Business Shows Spurt Despite Bad Weather

NEW YORK (AP)—The springtime business upsurge started this week, despite a couple of savage onslaughts from the weather. Merchants in some Eastern cities found their hopes for a record Easter shopping season smothered under a foot-thick blanket of snow. Department store sales across the nation dipped below the corresponding levels of 1955 for the first time this year. Meanwhile activity in other lines was mostly on the upbeat. The steel mills scheduled a scorching production pace of 2,446,000 tons or 99.4 per cent of capacity after hitting an all-time high of 3,477,000 tons the week before. Check clearings showed a gain of 17 per cent; business loans by New York banks set a new record.

Mothball Fleet Ships Released

STOCKTON (UP)—Seven wartime victory ships have been cleared for release from the Stockton mothball fleet to transport a backlog of iron ore from Stockton to Japan. News of the Federal Maritime Board's action in releasing the ships was relayed to port authorities here yesterday by the office of Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.). The ships will be released under charter to Pacific Far East Lines and will be ready to sail in about eight days. Port Director Elmo Ferrari said the ships will help transport about 100,000 tons of iron ore from Nevada mines which have accumulated on the Stockton docks.

Tulalake Grange Sponsors Party

TULELAKE — Eight tables of pinocle and four of bridge were in play at the public card party on March 22 which was sponsored by the Tulalake Grange. Funds from the party went to general Grange use. High score in pinocle was won by Mrs. P. C. Bergman and A. E. McClymonds. Low went to Mrs. Roy Campbell and William Weikamp. High score in pinocle went to Mrs. Ross Daniels and C. E. L. Moore; low to Mrs. Leonard Mesbke and Jonas Waldin. Mrs. Pat Kirby and Elmer Scott took the traveling award. Mrs. Richard Flynn, chairman, Mrs. John Bayley and Mrs. H. T. Street served refreshments. Spring flowers were used on the tables.
