

* "It's the Water" *

that makes Olympia
refreshingly different

In every instance where a beer has gained fame for extraordinary quality, it has been established that a rare and distinctive brewing water—a water that could extract the most delicate flavors from premium hops and grains—was responsible for the product's excellence.

Such was the case at Munich, Pilsen and Dortmund on the Continent, and at Burton-on-Trent in England. It is also true of Olympia in Washington State. Sparkling-pure artesian water—naturally perfect for brewing as it flows from the earth—is used exclusively to brew Olympia Beer. If consistent quality matched with a subtle difference in character and flavor are what you seek in refreshment, the good taste of Olympia awaits your pleasure!

Visitors are always welcome to "One of America's Exceptional Breweries," Olympia Brewing Company, Olympia, Washington, U.S.A., 9-30 to 4-30 every day.
