Briton Says Country To Defend Plan

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd Thursday told Parliament the proposed new Suez Canal Users' Association had the "full support" of the United States.

Lloyd defended by-passing the United Nations originally in the dispute. He declared it was obvious Soviet Russia would veto any suggestion for international operation of the waterway.

The foreign secretary made plain the Eden government has no intention of backing down in its open feud with Egypt's President Nasser.

RESPONSIBILITY
"The responsibility is ours and we shall discharge it," he declared. "We are not prepared to let unrestricted control of the operation of this canal pass into the hands of one government or one man. Upon that issue we are not prepared to compromise."

Just before Commons began the second day of an emergency debate on the Suez situation, the French disclosed Premier Guy Mollet had received a personal message from Soviet Premier Bulganin.

Prime Minister Eden also received a personal message from Bulganin, whose government has been supporting Nasser all down the line. Though details were not disclosed, French and British diplomatic sources said the Soviet leader was telling the two Western powers in a friendly way to take it easy.

NO MESSAGE
At Gettysburg, Pa., White House secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower so far had received no message from Bulganin on Suez.

Egypt cabled the United Nations in an effort to counter the West's bid for world opinion. Egypt charged Britain and France—who formally advised the Security Council Wednesday that Egyptian actions might block free passage—must bear responsibility for any snag in shipping growing out of a walkout of foreign pilots and technicians.

You will note, of course, that we joined with the British and the French in making the proposal. Does that mean that if it should lead to war with Egypt we would be dragged in?

Secretary Dulles (who is generally credited with devising the scheme) told reporters at a press conference held in Washington this morning the United States has no intention of "shooting its way through the Suez canal" in the event Egypt should block the passage of ships.

He added that in such an event the U.S. would favor diverting its ships around Africa, regardless of the higher cost that would be involved.

"Diplomatic informants" in Washington (meaning VIP's who are in the know but decline to be identified, by name) say the U.S. would be willing to ship substantial quantities of Western Hemisphere oil to Europe to offset any temporary shortage created by the long haul around Africa.

Let's not kid ourselves. In this cold war period, shooting war can start at any time when Russia feels that she is ready for it.

But—in that event Russia won't need any pretext. If she feels that she is ready to start conquering the world, she'll start shooting. In the meantime, however, capable negotiating is IMMENSELY important.

If shooting war can be stalled off long enough, it may never come.

GOP Book Hits Morse Vote Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Republican State Central Committee Thursday issued a supplement of 112 pages to an earlier booklet called "The Documented Record of Sen. Wayne Morse."

The supplement, as the original publication, contains reprints from various sources which the committee says shows conflicts in Morse's position on a number of issues.

And at Salem Thursday, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger said the Republican State Committee "should repudiate the candidacy of Gov. Elmo Smith because of his shocking record in the state Senate."

PREPARED STATEMENT

In a prepared statement distributed at a press conference, Neuberger said Smith's record is "shot through with opposition to civil rights, opposition to the United Nations, opposition to necessary legislative support of our public schools and colleges of higher education, opposition to the foreign trade policies of the Eisenhower administration, opposition to the aspirations of our elderly people."

Sen. Morse Wednesday took issue with an Interior Department press release which Morse said attempted to credit Douglas McKay with a $3,721,000 appropriation for expansion of tourist facilities at Crater Lake National Park.

McKay, Republican candidate opposing Morse in next month's general election, formerly was interior secretary.

PARK PLANS
Morse said "it took an election year to get McKay and the White House to hear the voice of the National Park Service and the voice of the people. After three years of low-budget requests, new plans finally were laid in this election year."

He added that it took the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress to get the Crater Lake appropriation. Morse also said that when McKay headed the Interior Department, "the first thing McKay did was to slash the Truman budget for the national parks by almost $4,000,000. . . it is interesting to note that the White House has recently displayed a sudden interest in national parks. It is perfectly obvious that it will take a Democratic-controlled Congress to carry out the much-needed parks rehabilitation plan."

On September 4 Don Kettler, a staff photographer, went out to snap a back to school picture. He walked into a classroom, selected a student at random, and came up with a picture of Ralph Warner, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Warner of 120 S. Carroll St.

On Wednesday, September 12, Kettler was once more on the prowl for a picture for the 9 o'clock special. He walked out in the street, saw one of the county's 11,000 students, and figured a kid, on his way to school would just fit the bill. That's right, smiling across the front page of Wednesday's paper was none other than Ralph Warner, the same son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Warner of the same 120 S. Carroll St.

This item is submitted as a means of lessening the shock of what might develop in the future. It isn't beyond possibility that one day you may pick up a picture of Whistler's mother . . . and there sitting on her lap will be none other than Ralph Warner of the same Carroll St. Warners.

Catholics Swarm Into Stadium For Crusade

By LYLE DOWNING

Hundreds of Klamath Basin residents crowded into Gem Stadium Wednesday night for a Catholic rally under the stars that had family prayer as its theme.

And dominating the scene was one of America's best-known clergymen, the Rev. Patrick Peyton of Buffalo, N.Y., founder of the Family Rosary Crusade and the Family Theater of the Air, originating in Hollywood.

The Most Rev. Francis P. Leipzig, Catholic bishop of the Diocese of Baker, also participated. The rally was arranged under the supervision of Monsignor Timothy P. Casey, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Klamath Falls. Clergy and laity from all parts of the Basin attended.

RECITATION PLEA
Father Peyton's plea for recitation of the Rosary in every Catholic home was clothed in eloquent and inspiring language. He left no doubt of efficacy of prayer.

Father Peyton said that after 11 years of intensive study to become a priest, he was stricken with tuberculosis and was bedridden for several years. When medical science was unable to aid him, he turned to prayer and sustained miraculous recovery.

"Since then," he added, "I have been going all over the world evangelizing Catholics in the Family Rosary Crusade. Ten million persons have signed pledges to recite the Rosary each day in their homes. The family that prays together stays together."

Bishop Leipzig spoke briefly. He pointed out that religious intolerance has virtually disappeared from America and that Catholics, Protestants and Jews are working together for the welfare of the nation.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME
The address of welcome was made by Monsignor Casey, W. G. Ely spoke for the laity. Families of Klamath Basin parishes led in the recitation of the Rosary.

John Holzgang presented Bishop Leipzig and Father Peyton was introduced by the Rev. Father John Phelan, pastor of St. Augustine Church, Merrill.

Father Peyton's talk was followed by Solemn Benediction with Bishop Leipzig as celebrant. He was assisted by the Rev. James M. O'Connor of Dorris and the Rev. P. J. Lanham of Chiloquin.

Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus who acted as a guard of honor were John Novak, Michael P. Lavenik, Herbert V. Rawlins, Brady Narey, Martin H. Conlin, Regis V. Andrien, George Andrew, Albert C. Lavenik, Charles J. Fiala and William H. Dennehy.

Lynn Roycroft was master of ceremonies. Members of the committee which assisted in rally arrangements included W. G. Ely, chairman; John R. Holzgang, associate chairman; J. L. Calhoun, rally chairman; Bernard H. Cavannah, associate chairman; Kyle W. Morgan, music chairman; Mrs. Joseph Heiderer, stage decorations; Dennis Carrier, grounds chairman, and James B. Cronin, usher chairman.

Temperatures Rise In State
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Temperatures rose 5 to 10 degrees over most of Oregon Thursday, from pleasant fall readings that Wednesday were mostly in the low 70s.

The Weather Bureau said this rise would not continue, because of a high pressure ridge moving down into Montana from Canada. Some high cloudiness may come from this on Friday afternoon.

Fog patches were in low areas of the Willamette Valley Thursday morning and lay in a thin but fairly solid layer from Portland to Seattle.

Non-Use Of Canal Eyed, Dulles Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday the United States has no intention of shooting its way through the Suez Canal if Egypt blocks the passage of ships.

Dulles told a news conference the United States would favor diverting its vessels around Africa under such conditions, regardless of the extra cost involved.

He said the U.S. government is ready to consider dollar loans to friendly countries which might be unable to withstand such a financial burden.

At the same time, Dulles appealed to Egypt to reconsider its initial violent objection to a plan for setting up an association of Suez Canal users.

British Prime Minister Eden disclosed Wednesday Britain, France and the United States would organize such an authority.

While Dulles' meeting with reporters was still in progress, the Egyptian ambassador announced that Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hussein had called on Dulles a few minutes earlier to give him "the urgent message that the scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression on Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

The embassy said the ambassador told Dulles:

"If the U.S. desires war then she may support this scheme but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said later the ambassador had left no written communication.

White said Dulles talked with Hussein along the lines the secretary laid out at his news conference.

Dulles' statement apparently had the personal backing of President Eisenhower.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm the President had conferred on the Suez crisis with Dulles by telephone before Dulles' news conference. The President was resting at his farm Thursday.

Hagerty announced, too, that Eisenhower will fly here Friday afternoon for a White House conference with Premier Robert Menzies of Australia. Menzies heads the commission which failed to reach agreement with Egypt's President Nasser in recent Suez discussions in Cairo.

Dulles made no reference at his news conference to Hussein's visit.

Egyptians Take Crisis Side To UN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt carried her side of the Suez crisis to the U.N. Thursday, charging Britain and France must bear responsibility for any obstruction in shipping resulting from a pending walkout of foreign pilots and technicians.

This appeared aimed to counter the declaration of Britain and France in a letter to the Security Council president Wednesday that Egypt's attempt to end the system of international operation might endanger free passage of the canal.

A walkout of about 100 expert foreign pilots, timed for tomorrow night, may be the showdown on whether Egypt is able to operate the canal. A stoppage of canal operations could bring the crisis to a head.

But an Egyptian official declared, "Navigation will continue."

The pilots gave notice yesterday shortly before British Prime Minister Eden, in the House of Commons, and French Premier Guy Mollet, on radio and television, made the new plan public—and claimed U.S. support.

The proposed association of principal canal-using countries would hire its own pilots, coordinate canal traffic, collect tolls and make "an appropriate payment" to Egypt. Eden pledged "such further steps as seem to be required" if Egypt interfered with the plan. He spoke against "abject appeasement."

Col. Abdel Kader Hatem, Egypt's official spokesman, called the proposal "provocation leading to war against Egypt," declaring:

"It is clear the aim of this proposal is to create a situation which would result in armed aggression against Egypt. . . . It also seems this plan is intended to provoke Egypt to fight."

Indian Land Policy Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal by the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians that tribes be allowed to purchase land now held in multiple Indian ownership drew a "wait and see" attitude from the Bureau of Indian Affairs Wednesday.

Declining to take a position on the proposal, Rex Lee, the Bureau's associate commissioner for legislative matters, said:

"I would be hesitant to comment until we know what precisely is being proposed and what it's designed to cure."

The proposal was made at the recent Spokane convention of the ATNI by President Joseph R. Garry, who said legislation to that effect would be sought at the next session of Congress.

Radar Bids To Be Called

Bids on a U.S. Air Force radar installation to be located near Hamaker Butte south of Klamath Falls will be advertised by the U.S. Navy in the near future, reported the Washington office of Senator Wayne Morse today.

The Navy is acting as the construction agency for the Air Force on the radar site, as they are at the Klamath Falls Municipal Airport. The radar installation, expected to cost about one and one-half million dollars, will have approximately 200 Air Force personnel manning it when completed and will be logistically supported by the 40th Fighter-Interceptor Group at the Klamath Falls Municipal Airport.

Radar installations like the one to be built here, are used to survey all aircraft in the area and to vector jet fighter-interceptor aircraft toward any unidentified aircraft which do not have flight plans filed with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, or who stray off course. This radar station will fill a void in the existing air defenses of the Pacific Coast and will be administered by the 20th Air Division of the Western Air Defense Force which is headquartered at Hamilton Air Force Base, California.

The project is expected to be put under contract within the next few months, Air Force officials stated.

Nine Plead Not Guilty

Nine persons arrested in a series of Klamath County gambling raids last week entered pleas of not guilty Thursday to charges of selling lottery tickets.

District Judge D. E. Van Vactor acceded to a request by Defense Attorney Edwin E. Driscoll to be allowed additional time to decide whether each of the defendants will be tried with or without a jury.

The raids were made on taverns and pool halls by state police at the request of Klamath County District Attorney Richard Bessley. Subsequently, Bessley said he was determined to rigidly enforce state gambling laws.

None of the defendants were in court Thursday morning when their cases were set for pleading. Attorney Driscoll, on behalf of his nine clients, entered pleas of not guilty. Judge Van Vactor set bail at $100 each. Driscoll said he would post the bail.

State police are holding 200 punch boards and 10 slot machines seized in the raids.

SERIOUSLY INJURED EARLY LAST NIGHT was James E. Douglas, Klamath Falls, when the pictured pickup which he was driving left Highway 39 about one half mile south of Henley and crashed into a power pole. Investigating state police officers said it is believed that Douglas must have fallen asleep at the wheel. Douglas is sales manager at the Dugan and Mest automobile agency in Klamath Falls. He is being treated at the Klamath Valley Hospital.
