

Chiloquin PTA Meets

The first PTA meeting of the school year was held at the Chiloquin High School Library Monday evening with President Joseph Jackson officiating at the brief business meeting which preceded the informal games and serving of refreshments. Over 40 people attended.

The program committee for the year will be headed by Hiroto Zakoji, head of the Indian education office. Publicity will be combined with the program department and other committees will be appointed after the next executive meeting is held.

Teachers were introduced before a series of relay games, pantomimes and stunts were put on. Climax of the evening was an "Elvis Presley" skit, given by the men attending with Joe Jackson as Presley and the other men as the teen-age audience of girls. Mrs. Lester Hoback, Mrs. Gail Ridenour and Mrs. Gordon Kuist assisted the program committee with the plans.

Refreshments were served by the eleven and twelfth grade mothers. Mrs. Hoback's fourth grade won the room count with the highest percentage of parents in attendance.

Other PTA officers in addition to the president are vice president, Mrs. Robert Doak, secretary, Mrs. Lyle Haas, and treasurer, Mrs. Frank DiUlio.

Bureau Offers Land Sale

KLAMATH AGENCY — Eight items of allotment land are being offered for sale through a bid invitation by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Klamath Indian Agency. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m., Wednesday, October 10, at Klamath Agency.

The land offered totals approximately 960 acres on which is nearly four and one-half million board feet of ponderosa pine and stands of lodgepole pine, sugar pine, white fir and Douglas fir.

Item 7 includes a ranch of Joan Isaacs Vigil, seven miles south of Chiloquin on which is a four-room frame house.

Item 8 is the Winona Wood Jonah properties within the southwest city limits of Chiloquin and just outside the town's city limits on which is a five-room dwelling.

The bid invitation is announced by M. M. Zollar, assistant superintendent of the Klamath Indian reservation.

Roosevelt PTA Plans Meeting

The Roosevelt PTA will hold its first meeting of the year, Tuesday, September 18 at 2 p.m. The presentation of the colors and the flag salute will be given by the Cub Scouts of Troop 8.

A playlet entitled "Mozart, the World's Musical Genius" based on Mozart's early years will be given by the students from Mr. Foster's and Mr. Johnson's seventh grade rooms, and assisted by Mr. Phelps' fifth grade class. Mrs. Mary Van Vector is the director. A short business meeting will follow with Mrs. R. J. Brinegar, president, presiding.

Jack Summerfield, child welfare supervisor of the Klamath County Public Welfare Commission, will talk on "The Community's Concern for the Underprivileged Child and his Family." The Roosevelt teachers will be introduced by Gerald R. Clemens, principal. Tea will be served by the members of the executive committee of the Roosevelt PTA.

There will be an executive committee meeting at 1:30 p.m.

Lutheran Ladies Aid Holds Meet

The Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid held a regular meeting the evening of September 6 at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Campton and Mrs. Fred Meyer.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Harold Eberlein and the topic discussion was presented by Rev. H. M. Warnke.

Final plans were discussed for the "Christian Growth Institute" to be held in Klamath Falls October 16 and 17. The following committees were appointed: food, Mrs. H. Braatz, Mrs. Earl Burwell and Mrs. J. A. Kirkpatrick; housing, Mrs. Harold Eberlein and Mrs. Frank Eberlein; organist, Mrs. Otto Steuben. Devotions for Vesper Service will be given by Mrs. Grace Rutter. The host pastor will be Rev. H. M. Warnke. A "Family Fun Night" will be held Sunday evening, September 23, to honor all new members of the church.

MRS. JOSEPHINE KITTREDGE

Candidate Explains Vote

Mrs. Josephine Kittredge, Republican candidate for state representative from this district, said Thursday that some confusion has developed concerning the race in which five candidates are entered.

"Some persons apparently do not understand that Klamath County will elect two representatives to serve during the next session of the State Legislature.

"Each party," she added, "was entitled to nominate two candidates. Four persons were nominated at the May primary election."

Other candidates besides Mrs. Kittredge are Klamath Falls Mayor Paul Landry, Republican; John Kerbow, Democrat, and Carl Yancey, Democrat.

The fifth candidate is Henry Seaman who filed on the Independent ticket. The ballot instructions will read "vote for two."

"In recent days," Mrs. Kittredge explained, "I have heard discussion of a 'single shot' vote, or voting for only one candidate, instead of two as allowed."

"It is my position," she concluded, "that all public officials should be elected by a majority of all the voters. I respectfully urge the electorate of Klamath County not to lose their right to choose two representatives. Every voter should follow instructions and vote for two candidates."

Nevada Gunnery Site To Be Eyed

LAKEVIEW — Attorney Forrest Cooper reported this week that Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson has appointed Floyd S. Bryant, who is an assistant secretary of defense, to make a personal investigation of the proposed western Nevada site for a U.S. Navy gunnery range.

The investigation is to include the Black Rock area as well as other sections of western Nevada including Tonopah. The Navy Department has made application for the use of the Black Rock area as a gunnery range.

Bryant's investigation is to see if some other area would be just as suitable for the Navy. The report may be the basis for the Navy's cancellation of the Black Rock application. They may then turn to some other western area for the gunnery range.

Athena Lampropulos Gives Varied Concert At Mills

For the Klamathites who filled Mills Auditorium to near capacity last night, the program heard there was an experience not soon to be forgotten. Miss Athena Lampropulos, of whom Klamath Falls can be justly proud, presented a farewell concert prior to leaving soon for study in Italy. For those present, it was obvious that here was a true artist, that one in a million combination of ability and personality that is immediately apparent.

Miss Lampropulos presented a varied program which showed to good advantage her excellent diction, amazing control of all registers, beautiful tone quality, and above all, her almost uncanny ability to interpret any type of vocal music.

She opened with an Italian number "E. pena troppo barbara" which proved very popular. This was followed by a group of five Brahms songs which Miss Lampropulos sang with the understanding and sympathy so necessary for these lovely examples of German leiter. Outstanding was "An Die Nachtigall."

Probably the dramatic highlight of the evening was the last number before intermission, the soprano aria Pace Pace Mio from "La Forza Del Destino" by Verdi. Here Miss Lampropulos demonstrated the qualities of vocal flexibility and quality as well as dramatic ability which have had audiences in Seattle cheering and predicting a great operatic future for her. Her grasp of Verdian opera was as professional as one could ask for.

After intermission, Miss Lampropulos sang a group composed of two spirituals, "Here's One" and "Didn't It Rain" and two numbers by the contemporary American composer, Samuel Barber, "A Nun Takes a Veil" and "Bessie Bobbitt." The last, an unusual and somewhat dissonant number, demonstrated the singer's ability for sensitive interpretation of numbers entirely removed in character and style from the rest of the program.

For her last group, Miss Lampropulos chose a group of Greek folk songs. These numbers, rarely heard in this country, were hauntingly beautiful, and one number "Ainte Keimissou Kori Mou," a lullaby which Miss Lampropulos sang unaccompanied, proved to be the audience favorite of the evening.

Finishing to considerable applause, Miss Lampropulos came back to encore twice with "Summertime" by Garshwin and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. The latter, so often overworked and over-interpreted, seemed to most of the audience to be sung the way it should be sung.

Flowers from Klamath admirers were presented to Miss Lampropulos at intermission and at the close of the program.

A special word of commendation should be reserved for the accompanist, Ruth Lobough, who played skillfully yet unobtrusively, proving a more sympathetic accompanist than many of the professionals who may be heard on concert stage.
