

Curfew To Be Enforced

LAKEVIEW — Enforcement of the state curfew law, effective immediately, was announced this week by District Attorney Julian H. ... in Lakeview.

According to the law it is illegal for persons under 18 years of age to be out after midnight, unless accompanied by parents or someone of legal age who has the authority of custody. Herndon stated that there were cases where work or other activities might keep some under this category out after hours legally, and the law would not be applied to them.

First offenders will be taken to their homes and their parents informed, Herndon said, but on second offenses the parents will be cited in court.

Big Trout On Display

MOUNT SHASTA — A Dolly Varden trout, 26 inches in length, weighing seven and one-half pounds, has been added to the Mount Shasta Fish Hatchery for display in the outdoor aquarium.

This is the largest Dolly Varden reported caught in the last 10 years and was hooked by 11-year-old Pamela Carlson of Redding, in the McCloud River at Wynton, the nearby Hearst estate.

She used two single eggs and a four pound test leader. The fish fought for 40 minutes before being beached on a sandbar, breaking the leader. The youngster's father came to the rescue and put the fish into a fountain on the grounds. The fish was turned over alive, to Harry Shott, Mount Shasta game warden, who took it to the aquarium.

New Mayflower Launched, To Sail To America In Early Spring As Stunt

BRIXHAM, England — A former GI Saturday launched a replica of the Mayflower which is going to repeat the journey of the Pilgrim fathers to America—but without any females this time. Ex-airman Reis Leming, of Toppensh, Wash., who won Britain's George Medal for saving 27 Britons in the flood of 1953, drank a cup of wine and said: "I christen thee Mayflower II."

Lightning flashed across the sky, thunder boomed overhead and rain poured in sheets. Raising his voice to a shout, Leming who had been flown here from the United States, said: "This is one of the greatest things that's ever happened to me."

Then, following ancient tradition, he pitched the wine goblet overboard, ignoring the elements. Beric Watson, 22, who is to be a member of the Mayflower's crew plunged into the water. In a few minutes he recovered the goblet and gave it to Leming, who stood by his wife smiling broadly.

Nodding his head in approval was Warwick Charlton, one of the English organizers of the Mayflower project who said: "No glamor passes on this Mayflower journey."

Charlton said more than 1,200 applications have been received from persons who want to sail to America on the Mayflower when she leaves the English coast next April.

"More than 400 of them were girls," he said, "and although the original Mayflower had some ladies aboard, they're out this time."

Highlanders Name Chief

LAKEVIEW — Jerry Alger was named president of the Fremont Highlanders Ski Club at its first meeting of the season last week. He succeeds Jim Howard.

Other officers elected were Dr. R. N. Carothers, vice president; Rev. David St. George, secretary; treasurer, Howard was named to replace Jim Johns who resigned from the board of directors.

Getting under way at 10 a.m., a work party is being held at the Warner Canyon ski hill Sunday, September 23. All persons interested in skiing are asked to be there to help in making preparations for the coming season. They should take their lunches and any hand tools deemed necessary.

OTI-YMCA Center Opens Today For School Year

The OTI-YMCA center will open at 2 p.m., Sunday, September 23, with a full program of events planned for students during the forthcoming school year. Assisting with the center administration this year will be Paul Campbell and William T. Long Jr. with the YMCA, and Jack Douglas, assistant to the director at OTI.

The opening program will include refreshments, along with making available the many recreational facilities at the center. The center is equipped with a TV room and lounge, a snack bar, library, music room which can be used for club meetings, gymnasium, weight lifting room, and a miscellaneous game room equipped with a ping pong table.

Klamath Falls YMCA Director Campbell points out that the center operation is designed to provide a recreation spot for the students, along with encouraging and making possible additional fellowship among the students.

Directors point out that all students are invited and encouraged to make themselves available to the center's recreational facilities whether they be YMCA members or not.

The YMCA membership on the campus will meet each Thursday evening, with Rob Roy as president and Bob Clark as secretary of the group.
