"DENNIS THE MENACE"

Ike's Farm Policy Scored By Estes In Dakota Talk

MITCHELL S. D. — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today, "The Eisenhower administration is seeking to plow under what it considers the 'surplus' farm families."

"All through 1953, and 1954 and 1955," the Democratic vice-presidential nominee said, "President Eisenhower administration is seeking to plow under what it considers the 'surplus' farm families."

"He stuck right by him and cheered him on," Kefauver said in a speech prepared for a farm festival here.

"The economic disaster that fastened itself upon our farm families left President Eisenhower unshaken in his determination to keep his back turned against his own campaign promises," he said.

On an 11,600 - mile campaign tour that started Sept. 14, Kefauver is to go on to Jamestown, N. D. tonight and then strike out through several other Middle Western states.

In his latest bid for the farm vote, Kefauver renewed his charges that Eisenhower had broken his 1952 campaign promises to the farmers and fired fresh volleys at Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Vice President Nixon.

"For many farmers," he said, "the natural disaster of drought came to afflict them, along with the unnatural disaster of Ezra Taft Benson."

"And the millionaire dominated Eisenhower administration raised the interest rate on disaster loans to these farmers from 3 per cent to 5 per cent."

As for Nixon, Kefauver said the vice president during his 10 years in the House and Senate "voted consistently against farm price support, soil conservation, REA and other legislation to help agriculture."

Kefauver headed back to the Dakotas, which he touched briefly three days campaigning in Oregon and Washington close on the heels of Nixon.

In an interview at Longview, Wash., yesterday, he said a speech Nixon made at Colorado Springs was reminiscent of the 1928 campaign promise he attributed to former President Hoover.

Kefauver was referring to a speech in which Nixon spoke of "our goals" for the future and said, among other things, that "we could promise two automobiles, three television sets, a better house and a dozen other comforts that could mean so much to every American."

Kefauver said, "This two automobiles and three TV sets sounds like a modern day version of Herbert Hoover's promise of 23 years ago of two cars in every garage and a chicken in every pot."

"I don't think Mr. Nixon and the present administration are any more capable of delivering than Mr. Hoover was," he said. "The parallel, I believe, will frighten a good many Americans."

Ike Reports On Asian Aid Funds

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
 WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today the Far East got almost half of the 1 1/2 billion dollars obligated in non-military U.S. foreign aid during fiscal 1956.

The President's report on the last half of that year which ended June 30 left no doubt of the program's essential emphasis on defense against communism.

In his letter of transmittal to Congress, Eisenhower wrote: "The accomplishments during this six-month period under this program of mutual effort have further advanced the security, the economic progress and the well-being of the United States and our partners in the free world."

The report also noted:

1. Of the 760 1/2 million dollars obligated for Far East nonmilitary aid during fiscal 1956, 726 1/2 million was for "defense support."
2. That's a phrase to cover the aid the United States gives a country to replace funds that country uses to build up its national defense. Most of it went to South Korea, Nationalist China and South Vietnam.
3. All of the 110 millions sent Europe for nonmilitary aid in fiscal 1956 went for defense support.
4. The biggest share of the nearly 2 1/2 billions set aside for the whole mutual security program during fiscal 1956 went for direct military aid and defense support. Of the total, 843 millions was obligated or reserved by the Pentagon for direct military assistance.
5. During January-June 1956, the United States shipped nearly two billion dollars in military goods to the free world. Two thirds of it went to Europe. Half the value of the total was made up of planes and related air force items.
