

Sojourners Annual Tea and Card Party In Willard Pine Grove Room

FALL FLOWERS IN SHADES OF LAVENDER centered the tea table at the Sojourners Annual Fall Tea, Saturday, September 15, at 1 p.m., in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel. The graceful arrangement varied in shades from deep near-purple tones to splashes of almost-white. Lavender tapers in silver candelabra completed the interesting table decor.

Each card table was centered with a jar of Oregon wild plum jam made by Mrs. A. V. McVey, who added a personal touch to each one with a small sprig of wild plum leaves and colorful red fruit. The edible centerpiece at each table went to the newest Klamath Falls resident seated there.

Standing, same order, Mrs. J. Pitts Elmore, Mrs. Lee Holliday, Mrs. Chet Stinson, Mrs. Bruce Lattin, Mrs. E. O. Jackson, Mrs. Norman McEwen, Mrs. A. V. McVey, Mrs. Herman Collier and Mrs. Anna Cook. A MAN SIZED SOIREE WAS STAGED by the Reames Golf and Country Club Women's Auxiliary Saturday, September 22, when the gals chalked up another successful FUN(d) party — (an annual club event beamed to raising money for various club needs).

Despite other social gatherings about town, there were about 200 out at the club for the evening of sipping and sampling during the cocktail and hors d'oeuvre hour—and supping later from the super smorgasbord which included substantial steaks on the menu—with dancing to Sync Halaas music for added fillip.

The large group picture includes committee members. Whether shown or not—husbands all helped. From the left, seated, Mrs. Ralph Hemmesch, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Soukup, Mrs. Clark Good, Mrs. Lloyd Drew, Mrs. George Brosterhout, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coulson (Mrs. Coulson seated in front, was general chairman); Mrs. Fred Burgoyne, Mrs. Robert Chilcote and Mrs. Chet Stene-cypher. Standing, same order, Ralph Hemmesch, George Brosterhout, Clark Good, club pro; and Lloyd Drew.
