Father Of Bridegroom Officiant at Kent-Moak 2 p.m. Nuptial Rites

First Christian Church was the setting for a memorable marriage ceremony on September 1 at 2 p.m. when Ruth Marie Moak became the bride of Carter L. Kent.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Coen, 1629 Dayton, and the late Lee Arnold Moak. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kent, Kimball, Minnesota, and his father, minister to the Kimball First Christian Church, officiated at his son's wedding.

The 125 guests in effect, shared the special sentiment of the father's personal advice to his son and daughter-in-law, included in the service.

During the ceremony the bridal party faced the wedding guests standing before a background of palms and large bouquets of gladioli illuminated with candlelight from tall tapers in floor candelabra.

Albert W. Moak, Sacramento, gave his niece in marriage, and the couple was attended by Mrs. Gary (Dorothy) Haney, of this city; and Travis Kent, Kimball, who served his brother as best man. Ushering were Charles Pyron, Los Angeles; Lyle Dawn, Medford, college friend of the bridegroom at San Jose Bible College; and Don Steers, this city.

The bride's dress of all white nylon lace was made with a short, sleeved fitted bodice, scoop neckline trimmed with seed pearls, and a walk-in length full gathered skirt. A lacy seed pearl encrusted tiara held her veil of illusion. The bridal bouquet was also all-white—of gardenias and stephanotis with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Haney, matron of honor, wore an aqua lace ballerina length dress with a matching picture hat, and her colonial bouquet was of white carnations backed with aqua net and ribbons.

Keith Kent, uncle of the bridegroom, sang "At Dawning" and "Because," before the ceremony. As the nuptial couple knelt in prayer at the end of the ceremony, Stanley Kendall sang "Bless This House." Mrs. Stanley Kendall, organist, accompanied the soloists and also played the traditional wedding music.

After guests were received in the church parlors, the couple left for Crater Lake and leisurely drive down the Redwood Highway to San Jose where they will live while he continues his studies at San Jose Bible College.

At the reception, Clarice Thompson registered the guests; and Kaye Kent, sister of the bridegroom, and Elaine Kendall served cake and punch.

For going away, the new Mrs. Kent wore a dressmaker suit of light blue nylon with flecks of navy, navy accessories and the gardenias from her bridal bouquet as a corsage.

Here from out-of-town for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kent and Kaye and Travis, Carter Kent's sister and brother. His grandfather, Jackson Kent, Fernie Kent and Dorothy Adams, aunts, all from Webster City, Iowa; Herbert King, Kimball; Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Moak, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hitchner and children, David, Lonnie and Danny, Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Freeman and daughters, Marjorie and Dee Anne, Arcata, California; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kent, bridegroom's uncle, and children, Lynn, Norlyn and Terry, San Jose; W. O. "Grandpa" Cogswell, Springfield, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buerer, Cupertino, California; Mrs. D. L. Dick and son Robert, Oakdale, California; and Klamath Falls relatives of the bride were Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Moak and sons Edwin and Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lively and Mrs. Floyd Moak, whose husband was unable to attend his niece's wedding because of illness.

The bride's mother, a long time resident of Klamath Falls has been for many years with the city library.

ADDED TOUCH

For a "bag-stag" luncheon, chicken salad with cashew nuts added along with the regular ingredients makes a real party dish. Serve shortly after the nuts have been mixed in or they are likely to become soggy.

AT HOME IN CORVALLIS — where the bridegroom is a business major at Oregon State College, are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rice. The bride, formerly Mary Elizabeth McConnell, is a graduate of OSC in home economics.

In embroidered white organdy over ivory polished cotton, Mary Elizabeth McConnell became the bride of Charles A. Rice on September 8, in First Methodist Church.

White gladioli illuminated with candlelight decorated the church for the 8 p.m. service read by the Rev. Dallas McNeil in the presence of some 150 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConnell, Milton-Freewater, and she was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rice, 124 North Laguna. Patricia McConnell, Milton-Freewater, was maid of honor for her sister; and the bridegroom's brother, Donald Rice, was best man. George Steele and Kenneth Wallin ushered.

Organist for the wedding, Mrs. Earl Redman, played traditional nuptial music.

The bride's dress was designed with a simple polished cotton square necked bodice, long floor brushing skirt with side panels of the embroidered organdy from the waist to hemline—and tiers of gathered ruffles trimmed the back. A seed pearl trimmed bandeau held her fingertip veil—and she carried a bouquet of blue-tinted stephanotis centered with a white orchid. The bride is a graduate in home economics from Oregon State College; and her husband is presently enrolled at the same school. They have been at home, 1463 Western Avenue, Corvallis, since September 15.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rice, Milwaukie, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Rice, Portland; and Vivian Earnest, Glendale, Oregon.

Rites in Reno Church Of Interest Here

MERRILL — Before two large baskets of multi-colored gladioli, Dolores Irene Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Conner of Merrill, and Dale Lee McCulloch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard McCulloch, also of Merrill, exchanged wedding vows Tuesday, September 11, at 2:30 p.m., in the Reno Community Baptist Church.

The simple but impressive double-ring service was read by the Rev. Glenn Wise, cousin of the bride, in the presence of the immediate families.

Mrs. Wilbur Haskins, aunt of the bride, played the traditional wedding marches on the piano. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over tulle. The very bouffant skirt was worn over a hoop. The bodice was fitted and featured a boat neckline and small puffed sleeves. Her headpiece was a small sweetheart shaped tiara with a shoulder length veil of net. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She carried a red rose corsage on a Bible. The Bible was given to her by the bridegroom's father.

The bride chose for her only attendant, her younger sister, Donna Conner, who wore a teal blue suit with pink accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Frank Testerman, Klamath Falls and brother-in-law of the bride, was the bridegroom's best man. The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Wise.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Conner chose a rose colored dress with a matching hat and accessories and wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. McCulloch wore a blue suit with beige accessories and also wore a white carnation corsage.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Merrill High School. The bridegroom is presently employed with the Balsiger Motor Company in Klamath Falls and the new Mrs. McCulloch will continue working at the South Sixth Street branch of the First National Bank.

After a brief honeymoon trip to Seattle the young couple is now at home at 1405 Delta Street in Klamath Falls.

Layette Shower

LANGELL VALLEY—A layette shower at the Colwell home September 21, for Mrs. Ralph Issitt, was given by three hostesses, Mrs. Rose Stalnaker, Mrs. Bessie Campbell and Mrs. Bob Seater. A hostess-gift for the baby-to-be was a bassinette—which held some of the presents which overflowed onto the fall-flower decorated table.

Mrs. W. D. Campbell won the contest prize. After gifts were opened, refreshments were served to Mrs. Issitt, Mrs. Merle Huntley, Mrs. Maurice Spillane, Mrs. Ralph Vaden, Mrs. Bill Fisher, Mrs. Ray Davis, Mrs. Louis Randall, Mrs. Enos Bland, Mrs. Homer Roberts, Mrs. Luther Noble, Mrs. Bill Burnett, Mrs. Nova Noble, Mrs. W. D. Campbell, Mrs. Claude Brown, Mrs. Harry Noble and Mrs. Les Leavitt.
