

Brooklyn Clinches National League Pennant

Dodgers, Yanks Vie Once More In Series

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal (the Barber) Maglie, Brooklyn's bearded Cinderella man, and Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw ace, were regarded today as almost certain starters for the opening game of the 1956 World Series when the champion Dodgers and Yankees renew their fall rivalry at Ebbets Field Wednesday.

The Dodgers yesterday earned the right to meet the Yankees for the seventh time in 16 years by capturing the National League pennant on the last day of the season with a hard-earned 6-6 triumph over Pittsburgh. The Yankees, who had whipped the Dodgers in all six series clashes until the Brooks turned the tables last year, clinched the American League championship September 12.

Odds-makers already were quoting the well-rested Yankees as 7 to 5 favorite to gain revenge on the Dodgers, who had to battle to the limit to edge out the Milwaukee Braves in one game. The Yankees also were a 6 to 5 choice to knock off the Dodgers in the opener in the Brooks' own backyard.

A sellout for the game was virtually assured with the balance of the 34,000 tickets gobbled up only hours after they were put on sale. Millions more were expected to watch and listen to the games, which will be telecast and broadcast nationally over NBC. Game time will be 1 p.m. EDT.

OPENING HURLER

Neither Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers nor Casey Stengel of the Yankees committed himself on his opening game hurler. All indications, however, point to Maglie and Ford.

"It could be Maglie, Craig or Erskine," Alston told reporters in the Dodger clubhouse after the game yesterday.

"I haven't been giving it much thought," Alston added. "I've just been thinking about winning this one. I'd like to open with Maglie, even though it means only a three-day rest for Sal. I think he might be able to go but I'll have to wait and see."

Maglie confirmed that his arm was bothering him a bit, but said it was only stiff, not sore.

"I'll pitch if the skipper wants me to," the 39-year-old righthander said. "I'll be ready."

Stengel only winked when asked whether he would start Ford.

"I ain't sayin' no and I ain't sayin' yes," Casey double-talked, "but you may recall he beat those guys twice in the series last year didn't he?"

ERA LEADER

Further proof that the Yankees' 19-game winner and the American League's percentage and earned run leader would pitch the opener was gleaned from the presence of Ford in a box seat behind home plate at the Dodgers' finale with Pittsburgh.

Pitching nominees for the next three games must be regarded as mere conjecture, but it was believed that Stengel will follow with righthanders Don Larsen, John Kucks and Tom Sturdivant. It wouldn't surprise, however, if Stengel started lefthander Tommy Byrne in a game at Yankee Stadium. Byrne pitched two solid games against the Dodgers last year.

Alston probably will come back with Clem Labine, Don Newcombe and either Roger Craig or Carl Erskine in the next three games. All are righthanders.

Ford's World Series record is three victories, including two over Brooklyn last year, and one defeat, also against Brooklyn.

BUM LIVESAVER

Maglie, a lifesaver for the Dodgers in the dramatic pennant triumph, with 13 victories in 18 decisions following his purchase from Cleveland in mid-May, has had two unfortunate experiences in World Series combat.

The Yankees disposed of him in five innings in the 1951 series against the New York Giants. Sal lasted only seven innings against the Cleveland Indians in 1954 but was not charged with a loss.

Despite their fatiguing last ditch pennant fight with Milwaukee, the Dodgers feel they can defeat the Yankees provided their pitching holds up.

"We've got the momentum," said Alston. "That's to our advantage. We're getting the hitting but we had to use up our pitching in order to win."

"It's all up to our pitching," said Jackie Robinson.

"It all depends on Clem Labine," said Pee Wee Reese. "I think Maglie is the kind of pitcher who can beat the Yankees. If Clem can do it we've got a good chance."

"We've got to stop Mantle and Berra," said Carl Furillo. "If we do, we'll win."

"We'll beat the Yanks," said Roy Campanella confidently. "In comparison to the tough season we had, the World Series will be a joy."

Lightweights To Kick Off Boxing Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A couple of promising lightweights, 21-year-old Johnny Busso of New York, and 23-year-old Tommy Salem of Cleveland, clash Monday night in what figures to be a close and spirited 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Conqueror of veteran Orlando Zulueta and free-swinging Johnny Digilio in his last two starts, Busso had accumulated a 27-3-1 record, including 13 kayos. The east sider has developed a strong following.

Salem impressed in his first appearance in New York July 30, although he dropped a split, 10-round decision to undefeated Carlos Ortiz. Tommy's record is 22-6-1 with 4 kayos.

Jimmy Beecham, a bright, 21-year-old welterweight comer from Philadelphia, faces Hector Constance, clever, 25-year-old Trinidad veteran, in the Wednesday night radio-televised 10-rounder at the Miami Beach Auditorium. Beecham's record is 14-2, 7 knockouts. Constance's record is 25-8-8, 7 knockouts.

Tony Anthony, 21-year-old, seventh-ranking light-heavyweight contender from New York, and Clarence Hinnant, 23-year-old Washington, D.C., puncher, match power in the Friday night radio-TV 10-rounder at Washington's Capitol Arena.

This shapes up as the fight of the week. Each has won his last three fights by knockouts. Anthony, a member of the 1952 American Olympic boxing team, has moved up fast this year. He has a 27-4 record with 21 kayos. Hinnant's record is 21-8 with 16 knockouts.

Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, relegated to the role of a trial horse, will earn another hefty paycheck Tuesday night in London when he puts 22-year-old Dick Richardson, a Welsh milkman, to the test in the sold-out Harringay Arena.

Richardson has racked up a 16-2 record, including 13 kayos, in 21 months of pro battling. A crowd of 11,000 will see what he can do with the fading Cincinnati veteran.

Carl (Bobo) Olson, the former middleweight king, opens a comeback campaign Thursday night in Portland, Ore., when he meets Sammy Walker, of Springfield, Mass.

Cleveland Lands In Trouble; Colts Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns are in trouble; the Chicago Bears may be a disappointment; the traditional powerhouse can forget about the usual pasties.

These are the indications after the first weekend of action in the National Football League.

Cleveland, defending champion, was upended yesterday by the Chicago Cardinals, fourth-place Eastern Conference finisher last season, 9-7 on three field goals by Pat Summerall. The Bears, off a successful 5-1 exhibition season and tabbed by many to go all the way this year, bowed to the Baltimore Colts 20-21 under the pin-point passing of sophomore quarterback George Shaw.

The New York Giants, with Mel Triplett scoring three times, led all the way to beat the San Francisco 49ers 38-21; the resurgent Detroit Lions downed the Green Bay Packers 20-16; the Los Angeles Rams romped over the Philadelphia Eagles 27-7, and Lynn Chandonis, with three touchdowns and a 91-yard kickoff return, led the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 30-13 victory over the Washington Redskins.

DEFENSIVE CLUB

The Browns, always a good defensive club, prevented the Cardinals from scoring a touchdown but could not stop Summerall's accurate toe as he booted 3-pointers from 12, 16 and 9 yards out. Paul Brown's charges, who scored an average of 28.8 points a game last year, managed only one score, a 48-yard touchdown pass play from George Ratterman to halfback Ray Renfro.

Shaw, completing 12 straight passes, with two going for touchdowns, proved too much for the Bears to handle. He completed 19 in 25 attempts for 253 yards. The other two Colt touchdowns, set up by Shaw passes, were the result of two 1-foot plunges by Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the bruising All-American fullback from Wisconsin.

Veteran Bobby Layne, starting his ninth season in the NFL, returned to action in the third quarter after an injury early in the game, to boot a 12-yard field goal and score the deciding touchdowns for the Lions, cellar-dwellers last year in the Western Conference. The Lions led all the way, surviving a Packer touchdown on a pass from Tobin Rote to Gary Knefelc in the waning moments.

NEVER RECOVERED

The Giants jumped to a 24-0 lead from which the 49ers never recovered. A 44-yard Don Heinrich to Alex Webster scoring pass play, a 59-yard punt scramble by Frank Gifford, a 17-yard field goal by Gifford and a 35-yard Heinrich pass for Triplett's first touchdown, all in the first half, were enough for the victory.

Chandonis, out the entire exhibition season, appeared more than fully recovered from his injuries as he scored on 2 and 5 yard runs and a 17-yard pass from Ted Marchibroda, Washington, the second-place finisher in the Eastern Conference last year, could not get much of an offense going.

Los Angeles, last year's Western Conference champ, came through as expected over Philadelphia. Second-string quarterback Bill Wade passed the Rams to one touchdown and led the other two scoring drives.

NY Slugger Joins Select Batting Club

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the Oklahoma kid who didn't quite reach Babe Ruth's home run record, has moved into an exclusive hitting group by leading both major leagues in batting, homers and runs batted in for one season.

Only Rogers Hornsby, Lou Gehrig and Ted Williams ever did it before.

It was Williams, with two previous batting titles for Boston, whom Mantle beat for the 1956 American League crown. The 24-year-old New York Yankee center-fielder finished at .353 compared to .345 for Williams, who made the necessary 400 at-bats right on the head.

Mantle, the first switch-hitter ever to win a major league batting championship, also tagged 52 home runs (eight short of Ruth's 1927 record) and drove in 150 runs while posting the league's highest batting average since 1950, when Boston's Billy Goodman hit .354.

Milwaukee's Hank Aaron won the National League batting title with .328, but while he was the only major leaguer with 200 hits this season, it was the lowest winning average in the league since 1919 when Eddie Roush won with .321 for Cincinnati.

Top Elevens Sweep Wins On Gridiron

Where's that difference a year's supposed to make?

Once again, it's the Dodgers and the Yankees in another World Series. Right with them (1955 all over again) are Oklahoma, Michigan State and Georgia Tech, looking in all the world like the powers-to-stay in college football.

Bud Wilkinson's "poor 'til Sooner" from Norman, Okla., have demonstrated enough in one appearance to indicate it will take some doing to dislodge them from the No. 1 national ranking they drew in The Associated Press poll last year and in the first balloting this semester.

Michigan State, the Rose Bowl champion and favorite in the Big 10, made a tidy debut by taking the scalp of the Stanford Indians, considered the best in the Pacific Coast Conference.

LESS CHANGE

As for Georgia Tech and its experienced crew, there is even less change from a year ago. The Engineers have been out twice and twice home a winner in tight games, the kind Tech specializes in winning.

Wilkinson, who said he would be happy with a one-point victory over North Carolina in Oklahoma's opener, got a 35-point bonus from his kids. The 36-0 romp was the Sooners' 31st straight victory, tying their own national collegiate record set in 1948-1949-1950. One more sets a new mark and it ought to come Saturday against Kansas State.

Jim Tatum, Wilkinson's former tutor and new coach of North Carolina, has little doubt that Oklahoma has it again.

"They're the real national champs," said Tatum, who also lost to Wilkinson with his Maryland team in the Orange Bowl last January.

Michigan State had a more difficult time but broke loose from a 7-7 halftime score to whip Stanford, 21-7. The Big 10 title could be on the line as soon as next Saturday when the Spartans meet arch-rival Michigan, a 42-13 winner over penalty-weakened UCLA.

Georgia Tech, back with virtually the same team that beat Pitt in the last Sugar Bowl, won another squeaker — this one 9-7 over a Southern Methodist squad that upended Notre Dame in its opener a week ago. Tech opened the season defeating Kentucky 14-6.

If there was a shocker Saturday, it was Tennessee's 35-7 romp over Auburn. Both were rated with Georgia Tech at the top of the Southeastern conference.

In the East, Army and Navy apparently will vie with Pitt for honors. Pitt was back strong against highly-regarded Syracuse, 14-7 after its one-point victory over West Virginia a week before. Army brushed past VMI 32-12 but indicated a need to close up a few holes in its pass defense. Navy trailed William and Mary for a quarter, then opened up to win 39-14.

Out-Manned Tech '11 Bows To Grid Power

By HOWARD HANDY

RAMSOUR STADIUM, Compton, California — A valiant but out-manned Oregon Technical Institute football team fell to superior numbers here Saturday night after staging a torrid first quarter battle and when the dust of battle had cleared, coach Rex Hunsaker's Owls had absorbed a 45-0 defeat at the hands of the nation's number one junior college team from Compton.

The Owls staged a torrid defensive battle with the Tartars of Tay Brown throughout the first quarter but when the home team mentor began to substitute in the second stanza, the new men began to take their toll of the visiting Oregon Tech players.

Quarterback Bob Hivner paced a second quarter upsurge that was to break the back of the Owls and never again allow them a chance at victory. Hivner hurled three touchdown passes during the second quarter and engineered a fourth TD as the home club scored four times for a 26-0 halftime advantage.

The game began with the Owls kicking off to the Compton club. Neither team was able to advance with any degree of regularity in the first quarter. As the gun sounded ending the period, the Owls took over on their own 21 and made their most concerted drive of the evening in the opening minutes of the second quarter.

Robert Stoy came out on quarterback to direct the attack and with halfbacks Tom Carion and Carl Pastore along with fullback Benton Ollison doing the running, they moved to the Compton 32 before they were halted. During the drive, Stoy completed two passes, one to Charles Eccleston and the other to Al Van Lewven good for 20 yards. Pastore added runs of six and eight yards during the drive that also netted two first downs.

After the Owls were halted and forced to punt over the Tartar goal line, the Compton club took over with a vengeance and failed to let up until the halftime intermission. The Compton team moved the ball out to their own 31 yard line to set up the game's longest individual run as Alberto Silva slanted off tackle for 50 yards and a first down on the Owl 20 yard line.

Hivner then faded back to pass to Tom Beardman in the end zone for a 20-yard score and Mike Black kicked the extra point to give Compton a 7-0 advantage after six minutes of action in the second quarter.

Just prior to the first score, a brief altercation on the sidelines was quelled almost as soon as it started and neither team was assessed a penalty as the tough, hard going brought a momentary flare of tempers. Coaches of both teams quickly brought their players under control and no further incidents occurred during the course of the game. In fact, the balance of the game was played as cleanly as any football game could be and players of both teams intermingled at conclusion of the tilt in a friendly gesture of congratulations and enthusiasm.

The second Compton touchdown came the next time the Tartars gained possession of the ball as Hivner hurled to third string right end Paul Reed on a 66 yard touchdown play. Reed completely outran the tiring Oregon Tech secondary after catching the ball on the Owl 45. Tom Metzner blocked the conversion attempt and the Tartars held a 13-0 advantage after nine and one-half minutes of action.

Hivner then came through with a 53-yard scoring play to left end David Bridgewater two minutes later and Black kicked the conversion point giving Compton a 20-0 lead. Final score of the second quarter came as the result of a recovered fumble on the Oregon Tech 15. Two plays later a first down was set up on the OTI five.

Three line plays followed with Henry George carrying the ball into the end zone from two yards out with 35 seconds remaining on the scoreboard clock.

The Owls halted a Tartar threat midway through the third quarter when quarterback Richard Pekala recovered a fumble on the Oregon Tech four yard line. With their backs to the wall, the Owls were forced to punt and when the Tartars failed to gain, they punted to the OTI five. Again the Owls elected to punt out of danger but this time the Tartars were not to be denied. Third string quarterback Bill Davidson passed to right end Jim Sullivan for a 42-yard scoring play with Tom Beardman kicking the conversion point. This was the one score of the third quarter.

In the fourth stanza, the tired Oregon Tech team that had seen four complete Compton elevens on the field as Tay Brown used a total of 44 players in the contest, could not match the Compton squad. Two touchdowns were added in this period, one a two-yard plunge by Dave Hall and the other a two-yard run by Sam Williams. The final score came with 25 seconds of play remaining.

For the out-manned Oregon Tech team, several boys stood out above their teammates. Norm Kollen at tackle, Alvin Jones and Frank Wilson at guard and Tom Carion at halfback were the top stars.

After the game, Rex Hunsaker admitted that the Compton depth had a great deal to do with the Owls' first defeat of the 1956 season. "They wore us down with superior numbers," he said by way of explanation and not as an excuse or defeat.

The Compton team had just won its 19th straight and had run its amazing record to 27 straight games since their last defeat. For the Owls, the loss was the first in three outings this year.

Coach Tay Brown of Compton paid tribute to the Oregon Tech defense when he said: "That is the best defense we have ever faced. They used a loose six man line and the only reason we finally cracked it was because of our depth. We had 44 boys on the bench tonight and all of them played in the game."

The Oregon Tech team, coaches and boosters left Los Angeles Sunday morning and expect to arrive back in Klamath Falls Monday afternoon to prepare for their next game with Portland state at home next Saturday night.

Neither team suffered any injuries of any consequence in the game that found both clubs playing throughout the evening. The Owls will be at full strength against Portland State next Saturday in the belief of Coach Hunsaker.
