Mutual Firefighting Forces Recruit Junior Inspectors

To the boys and girls of Klamath Falls and other basin communities, here is a chance to go a step further in continuing to show the remarkable interest you take each year in learning how to prevent fires before they start during Fire Prevention Week.

The appearance of the Junior Firefighter's Report program in the Herald and News is being sponsored by the Mutual Firefighting Assistance Forces Organization of Klamath County, in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week.

Children who wish to become Junior Firefighters will be performing a valuable service to their communities and will aid greatly in helping their local fire departments to teach fire safety. Here is what you should do to join this nation wide crusade against the needless loss of life and property through home fires: cut out the Junior Firefighter's Report blank, ask Mother or Dad to help you answer the questions, sign the report and then mail or deliver it to your local fire station where each report will be checked by the Fire Chief to see how good a Junior Firefighter you are.

JUNIOR FIREFIGHTER'S REPORT

To All Junior Firefighters:
How would you like to be a fireman for a day? Firemen have to prevent fires as well as put them out, and one of their most important jobs is to look for places that fires might start in such buildings as your own home. Ask Mother or Dad to go with you on a complete trip around your home, cellar, attic, backyard, garage and all to look for fire dangers. Mother and Dad may be surprised at the number of fire dangers that you may be able to point out to them and you can just bet that once they know them, it won't be long before they correct them.

1. Is there any rubbish such as old papers, broken furniture, junk, etc., in the attic basement closets garage yard
2. How often do you regularly dispose of rubbish?
3. Are walls, floors, ceilings, protected from overheated stoves, pipes, furnaces?
4. Are hot ashes kept in covered metal barrels?
5. Are matches kept in metal boxes away from heat and small children?
6. Do you ever use gasoline for cleaning or kerosene for starting fires?
7. Do you have any frayed electric cords in your home?
8. Ask Dad to go with you and inspect the fuse box and see if fuses are proper size (15 amperes)?
9. Are all mops hung up and oily rags kept in metal containers?
10. Does Mother have an electrical control on her electric iron to prevent overheating?
11. Do you have any fire extinguishers in the house?
12. Does Dad have plenty of ash trays in the house?
13. Do stovepipes pass through combustible partitions such as through attics or closets?
14. Are chimneys in good repair and cleaned once a year?
15. Do you have screens for all fireplaces that fully cover openings?
16. If your roof is of wooden shingles, do they have a spark arrester on the chimney?
17. What would YOU do if fire broke out in your house?
18. Where is the fire alarm box nearest your home?
19. Do you know how to turn in a fire alarm? If you do What is the Fire Department's telephone number?
20. If you have a gas stove are curtains or hanging clothes near describe how
21. If you have a gas stove are curtains or hanging clothes near enough to catch fire?

Enraged Bear Kills Trainer

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) - While his fiancée tried desperately to save him, a 28-year-old animal trainer was killed Tuesday night by a 300-pound performing bear he was taking from its cage.

Paul Lemery was attacked shortly after he entered the cage of one of four bears he had been training for television appearances. Hans, a European brown bear, pinned Lemery to the floor and clawed and bit him.

Lemery's fiancée, Shirley Rodriguez, 23, outside the cage, grabbed a seven foot pole and beat the bear repeatedly but it clung to Lemery. She then tried to lure the bear with sugar but was unsuccessful.

Screams by Lemery and Miss Rodriguez were heard by Robert Bellefleur, 26, an operator of a leather goods shop near the trailer where the bears were kept in three cages. He seized a .35 caliber hunting rifle, ran to the door of the trailer and fatally shot the bear in the head.

Lemery was still alive when police arrived and pulled him from the dead animal's grasp. He died en route to a hospital.

Goldwater Asks Probe Into Morse Campaign Donation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Donations of a lumber company crew in Roseburg, Ore., to the campaign fund of Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) should be investigated, Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said Tuesday.

Goldwater, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, said he asked the Senate Elections Subcommittee to investigate the contributions. He said Morse benefited from a special half day of work on Saturday, Sept. 15, at the Paul Hult Lumber Co. in Roseburg.

Goldwater said the time-and-a-half wages earned by the men who worked were contributed to Morse's campaign. Goldwater did not give the amount of the contribution nor the number of workers involved.

In Roseburg, Paul Hult, the lumber company owner, said 31 men volunteered to work a half day on a Saturday. The $42 they earned, Hult said, was donated to the Morse campaign in Douglas County.

Lumber produced in the shift was disposed of through regular channels, he said.

Goldwater had indicated the lumber processed by the workmen also benefited the Morse campaign.

Hult said the plant normally does not operate on Saturdays in the slack fall season. The idea to work the special shift "was kicked around" at the plant, the lumbermen said, and Morse supporters on the crew decided to donate their pay.

"It was strictly legal, I'm sure," Hult said.

A spokesman for the Morse campaign office in Portland said the matter was handled as a volunteer contribution" in Douglas County. "It is unfortunate that an attempt has been made to twist the facts in this case," the spokesman added.

Wife Wields Pool Cue

County Jailor Fred Calfee said Wednesday that Mrs. Betty L. Turner, 34-year-old Malin housewife, is "behind the eight ball" because she was too handy with a pool cue.

Mrs. Turner and her husband, Ed, were both sentenced to 30 days in jail following a Malin tavern battle.

The woman, who weighs 210 pounds, admitted to District Judge D. E. Van Vactor that she broke a pool cue over the head of an unidentified tavern patron whom she said was beating her husband.

"When Ed started getting the worst of it," she added, "I did what any other good wife would have done. I busted the other guy over the head with the pool cue."

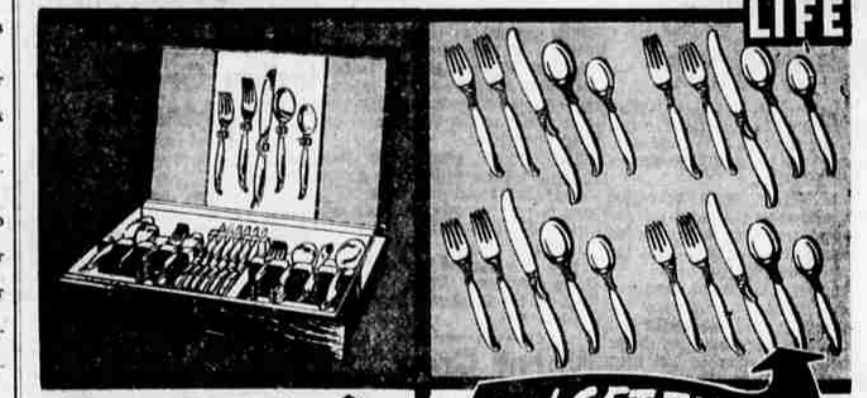

After remanding the Turners to jail, Judge Van Vactor issued a warrant for the arrest of the pool cue victim who fled the scene of the fight after first aid was administered.
