

Stumpage Rates Increased On Warm Springs Cutting

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Stumpage rates to be paid by the Warm Springs Lumber Company, Warm Springs, Oregon, for timber cut under contract since last April 1 on the Schoonie units of the Warm Springs Indian Reservation are being increased by approximately 14 per cent for ponderosa pine and 44 per cent for Douglas fir and other species, the Department of the Interior announced today.

The increases were put into effect through an order signed October 15 by Secretary Fred A. Seaton following an extensive re-survey of stumpage rates adjustments ordered last March 21 by former Secretary Douglas McKay, which were protested by both the tribe and the company.

Before leaving office on April 14, McKay indicated in a memorandum to Under Secretary Clarence A. Davis that he had been compelled to issue the March 21 order without time for adequate consideration and recommended a restudy of the entire record.

At current lumber price levels, Secretary Seaton's action will increase the tribal income for the year beginning April 1, 1950, by about $125,000 if the company cuts the usual volume of timber during that period.

Under terms of the contracts, the stumpage rates are pegged by ratio to current lumber prices. In former Secretary McKay's order of March 21, the ratio of ponderosa pine was increased from 30 to 33 per cent and for the other species from 4 to 14 per cent. Secretary Seaton's more recent order increases the ponderosa ratio to 35 per cent and the other ratios to 23 per cent.

In giving his reasons for ordering the latest increase, Secretary Seaton pointed to the technological developments in the lumber industry and changes in marketing conditions which have made the earlier rates "completely unrealistic." One of the factors which he specifically mentioned was "the tremendous growth of the plywood industry and the utilization of wood waste in various processes."

Secretary Seaton also pointed out that the meaning of certain parts of the contract is in dispute and is involved in litigation now pending before the District Court of the District of Columbia. He added, however, that "since the Department precedent which was established by Secretary McKay in 1944 takes a liberal view of the right of the secretary to so fix these stumpage prices as to somewhat conform to the current prices of timber, it is my view that such an interpretation should continue unless the litigation now pending should determine otherwise."

MOTION PICTURE

The motion picture, "Martin Luther," will be shown at the evening services of the Suburban Christian Church Sunday in the Summers School building. Starting time will be 8:30. The film is being shown in connection with a series of messages on church history. The sermon at the 11 a.m. service will be, "Why There Are So Many Churches." The public is cordially invited to attend.

NEEDS MORE EXPLORATION

WASHINGTON (UP) — French Ambassador Herve Alphand was asked Wednesday at a National Press Club lunch how American girls compare with French girls. The ambassador replied he doubted he had been in this country long enough to make a real comparison, then added, "I want to continue a little more exploration on this matter and perhaps can give a reply in a month."
