Lake 4-H Units Off

LAKEVIEW — Lake County 4-H Club members who will compete in teams or individually at the Pacific International Exposition at Portland left Lakeview Friday morning, October 19.

The home economics judging team is made up of Louise Garrett, Bridie Guiney and Mary Jean O'Connor. In the livestock judging team are Joy Kerr, Don Hill and Sharon Ashcraft.

In individual competition, Sharon Ashcraft will show two steers and four lambs; Vivian Foster, Welthy Warner and Bob Warner, one steer each. The steers are Angus and the lambs a Suffolk-Hampshire cross. The appointed chaperones are Mrs. Lloyd Warner, Perry Ashcraft and Mrs. Andy Hill. Also going along were Lloyd Warner, Mrs. Ross Foster, and Club Agent Lee Hansen. Ashcraft left Thursday with the truckload of stock.

Each boy and girl furnishes $15 of expense money, and an additional $15 is given to each by the Lake County Leaders Association. The youngsters will have an opportunity to attend a banquet, a theater party, and a breakfast, each having a sponsoring organization. They are required to attend the program outlined for them in addition to entering a herdsman'ship contest and a showmanship contest. The herdsman'ship competition necessitates rising at 5:30 each morning in order to feed stock and clean pens. It will also be early rising for the chaperones and club agent as they go along each morning.

The transportation was furnished by Warners, Hills, and Hansen. They expect to return to Lakeview the evening of October 24.

Cow Belles — The annual fall luncheon and business meeting of Klamath County Cow Belles will be held on Monday, October 29, at 1 p.m. in the Pelican Cafe. Mrs. Joe Oliver, state Cow Belle president, will be a special guest. Members may bring guests.

Captain Creswell is a dentist in the USAF.

Retarded Children — An organizational meeting of the Klamath Falls Chapter of the Oregon Association for Retarded Children will be held Friday, October 26 at 7:30 at the county library, Third and Klamath. Mr. Forrest Hawley, Klamath Falls director of special education, will speak on the different aspects of: "The Special Class for Mentally Retarded Children." Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Rummage Sale — will be sponsored by the PEO Chapter U. Sisterhood, October 26 and 27, 806 Klamath Ave. former location of the "K" Cafe. The money derived from this sale goes to scholarships and philanthropic work. Last year a $225 scholarship given by the three Klamath Falls chapters, was awarded to Carol Loraine Larson, now studying at Oregon State College. The local philanthropy chosen by Chapter U for the past few years has been aid to the juvenile home. Mrs. Lloyd Emery and Mrs. A. V. McVey are co-chairmen of the sale.

Coon said that business can expand for the future now without fear of undue government competition, and as a result, more jobs and bigger payrolls are provided. He pointed out that 2 million dollars worth of synthetic rubber plants have been sold back to private industry, and production is expected to be increased by 40 per cent next year.

Coon Praises Free System

BLU—Congressman Sam Coon praised the free enterprise system of government here Friday, and said that he will continue his efforts to see that it is preserved and encouraged.

"The economic good times of the last four years without the stimulus of war production testify to the strength of this system," Coon said at a public meeting. He said that much of today's prosperity can be attributed to the fact that the Eisenhower administration fulfilled its pledge to get the government out of competition with business whenever possible.

He pointed out that 2 million dollars worth of synthetic rubber plants have been sold back to private industry, and production is expected to be increased by 40 per cent next year.

He also said that the Defense Department has terminated 40 automotive repair shops, 16 collier shops and 71 office equipment repair shops, as well as 200 other facilities in 33 other categories.

"This is a fine example of what is being done under this administration to return business to free enterprise, which, after all, is what has made this country great," he said. The Congressman and Mrs. Coon will drive to Lakeview Sunday afternoon and attend a series of coffee hours there Monday. Coon then will be in Bend Tuesday, give a noon luncheon speech in Redmond Wednesday, be in Prineville that afternoon, and then return to Baker Thursday.

P.T.A. RIVERSIDE PTA

By Mrs. Alexander Luft

The Riverside PTA held a meeting Tuesday afternoon, October 16 in the Riverside School cafeteria. The president, Mrs. O. M. Stearns, conducting the meeting, introduced special visitors and members: Arnold Gralapp, city school superintendent; Gary Robertson, city school supervisor; Mrs. Victor O'Neil, state school board member; Mrs. Winston Purvine; and Mrs. Hagan Moore, city school board member.

The main topic of discussion at the meeting was "Federal Aid to Education." Mrs. Sam Ritchey, program chairman, introduced the speakers: Mrs. Floy Johnson, a graduate of University of Idaho and Mrs. William Wales Jr., a graduate of the University of Kansas.

Mrs. Johnson, pointing out the need of federal aid to education, said the United States is on wheels and the educational needs of all children are our concern. At present, there is a great shortage of classrooms and the population is increasing every year. In places all over the United States and especially in the South, school facilities are inadequate and immediate financial aid is needed. Teachers leave the profession mainly because of overcrowded schools and inadequate facilities, not because of salaries. We have had some form of federal aid to education since the Northwest Ordinance of 1787.

Mrs. Wales, pointing out the dangers of federal aid to education, said the states must be encouraged to take care of their own needs. Oregon has a high standard of education because it spends a larger per cent of its tax money on education than most states. With federal aid, there is danger of federal control to education and each state could take care of its own needs if it spent more tax money on education.

During the discussion period, Gralapp, in answer to a question about the educational needs being a temporary or continual problem said, "If these children do as well as their dads and mothers, this is a continual thing. We are going to have federal aid if we don't do something on the local level." Oregon has a high standard of education but we must not relax or be complacent, because our needs are rapidly increasing.

Robertson pointed out that we are considered educated people in Oregon but we spend more money for liquor and cigarettes than for education.

Tom Ward, legislative chairman, explained ballot title No. 2, "Authorizing State Acceptance of Certain Gifts," that will be on the Nov. 6 ballot. The purpose is to authorize the state to accept, hold and dispose of corporation stock which has been donated or bequeathed to the state by will. It is an amendment to the Oregon Constitution that was passed by the Senate and House of Representatives and is endorsed by the Oregon Parent-Teacher Association.

The principal, Don Golding, announced student enrollment is now 203. The new first and second grade assistant teacher is Mrs. Ella Dickinson.

Mrs. Buff Runnels, ways and means chairman, announced the school carnival will be Friday evening, November 2. All carnival workers are to meet in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening, October 23, at 7 p.m. to make plans. Sam Morris, Riverside cubmaster, announced Cub Scout membership is low and encouraged parents to have their boys, from eight to 10 years of age, join the Cub Scouts. The scouting program helps to make better citizens.

Mrs. Stearns announced Mrs. Margaret Bennett is taking care of the Collins accident victim children, four boys aged 13, 4, 3, 5 months, and two girls aged 9 and 2. Anyone having clothing that might fit the children should take it to 422 Main Street or 3125 Delaware Avenue.

Room prizes were won by Mrs. Jeanne MacBeth's third grade with 29 per cent parent attendance and Mrs. Caroline Westover's fifth grade with 53 per cent parent attendance. Mrs. Florence Pielke, sixth grade teacher, won the door prize. Mrs. John Parisotto was in charge of children.

Refreshments were served by seventh grade mothers. The tables were decorated with autumn leaves. The next meeting is scheduled for November 20.

Mann Named On Vet Group

Dr. Orton Mann, Klamath Falls dentist, has been named chairman of the Klamath County Veterans for Hatfield, it was announced Saturday.

Dr. Mann will organize veterans in this area behind the campaign to elect State Senator Mark Hatfield, Republican, as secretary of state. Hatfield is the only candidate for the office who is a veteran. He commanded a landing craft during the Pacific Islands invasion.

Drunk Driving Fine Levied

LAKEVIEW — Gene Morris of Corcoran, California, appeared before Justice of the Peace O. C. Gibbs in Lakeview Thursday morning, October 18, and entered a plea of guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail and fined $300.

Morris was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Joe Baptiste and City Police Chief Frank Anderl on the highway north of Lakeview. Baptiste said they chased him about six miles, and at one time paced him at 70 miles per hour. He was driving a large transportation truck, without the trailer, and was zigzagging on the highway. The truck is owned by a California company which was engaged to load cattle for shipping out by some Paisley stockmen.

Death Takes R. J. Dunlap

Robert Jackson Dunlap, 60-year-old custodian of the Medical Dental Building, died at Klamath Valley Hospital Saturday morning where he was taken following a heart attack.

Hospital attendants said Mr. Dunlap was hunting near Klamath Falls at the time he was stricken. He died a short time after admittance to the hospital. Mr. Dunlap was born on April 4, 1896 at Dunlap, Illinois. He was a veteran of World War I.

Besides his widow, Pearl Dunlap, Klamath Falls, he is survived by two brothers, Howard Dunlap, Medford, and Wilbur Dunlap, White Salmon, Washington; three sisters, Agnes Zimmerman and June Holgate, Yakima, Washington, and Frances Fallman, Great Falls, Montana.

The body was taken to O'Hair's Memorial Chapel. Funeral services will be held there at 2 p.m. Monday with the Rev. Dale Hewitt officiating. Interment will be in Klamath Memorial Park.

Pay Raise Plan Backed

Enthusiastic support for her campaign to obtain an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour for election workers was reported Saturday by Mrs. Josephine Kittredge, Republican candidate for state representative.

Mrs. Kittredge pointed out that the lawful minimum wage in the United States is now $1 an hour.

"These people work in elections," she added, "are required to do arduous and exacting work. Surely they are entitled to at least the minimum wage that is prescribed by law. The pay increase is contained in both the Republican and Democratic platforms."

Many persons are assisting Mrs. Kittredge in obtaining signatures on petitions which will be presented to the state legislature at its next session. The petitions advocate an amendment to the present election law so that the pay boost can be allowed.

Whaleburgers New Delicacy

WASHINGTON (UP) — Whaleburgers could become as American as hot dogs in a few years.

Whales are so big it takes a long time to get them refrigerated. As a result, most of the meat in the past has spoiled before they are cut up and stored in ships' holds.

But a team of Canadian researchers contend tests show whale steaks can be kept fresh for long periods by using antibiotics, such as chlorotetracycline.

And one of the Canadians said whales make "mighty fine eating" if properly preserved and prepared. The Canadians reported their findings at the Food and Drug Administration's fourth annual symposium on antibiotics, which ended Friday. The symposium heard a series of reports that poultry, meat, fish and many other foods can be kept fresh weeks longer with the use of antibiotic preservatives.

Elvis Victory Elates Fans

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Elvis Presley's court triumph over a fighting charge left a mark of new esteem in the hearts of bobby soxer fans Saturday and of one little woman about 65 years old.

As the rock 'n' roller left the court room jammed with 207 (by actual count) shrieking young females Friday the tiny woman bustled up to Presley and said, "I'm just an old lady but I like you too."

The hefty Presley, who admittedly punched two filling station attendants in the fist-throwing episode, gently took her face in his hands and said, "You look like you're about 25 to me."

As Presley drove away preparing for a trip Saturday night to Biloxi, Miss., to rest up for a TV appearance (on the Ed Sullivan show) the little woman was heard to remark, "Isn't he a dandy?"

The judge acquitted Presley of assault and battery and disorderly conduct charges and fined his opponents, Ed Hopper, 42, who allegedly threw the first punch, and Aubrey Brown, 21, who joined in the skirmish.

Presley's women followers had descended on city hall by auto, taxi and even in trucks for the trial and greeted his acquittal with squeals of delight.

Four Relate Artic Ordeal

EDMONTON, Alta. (UP) — The English-born bride of a federal scientist was hailed today as a "wonderful scout" for fixing barbeque squirrel while she and her husband were stranded with two pilots nearly three weeks on a frozen Arctic lake.

Mrs. Mary Hunter, a nurse who came to Canada to "see the world" 2 1/2 years ago, was flown here Friday night with her husband of seven months, fisheries research expert Gerry Hunter of Nanaimo, B.C., and bush pilot George Gonzalez, a former Argentine air force officer.

They were brought from an isolated mining settlement in the Northwest Territories where the fourth member of their party, pilot Dick Warner, was hospitalized for a rest. Warner staggered through 28 miles of muskeg and bush for a week to carry word to the miners that the party had been forced down Sept. 23 in their two single-engine planes after straying 300 miles off course en route home.

Hunter, who was hospitalized here with an infected blister received as he chopped wood for a campfire, and Gonzalez hailed the scientist's brunette wife as "a wonderful scout."

They said she did all the cooking during their enforced wait in the wilds. The men cut down trees to build a rough long cabin, radioed calls for help, and fashioned trying pans and a kettle from one-gallon oil cans that were stowed in the planes. They also caught 42 fish in the nine mile long lake, and shot 21 squirrels and two ducks.

EDITOR PASSES PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Emanuel S. (Cy) Banks, 56, financial editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer since 1950, who had been in the newspaper business 30 years, also working for papers in Baltimore and Chicago, died Friday.

Rain Makers Set To Go

The North American Weather headquarters at Santa Barbara municipal airport, Goleta, California, have filed notice of intention to conduct a weather modification program for the California Oregon Power Company. Period of the program is from November 15 through April 30, 1957.

The program will use silver iodide ground generators to increase snowpack in the area north of Lake of the Woods to beyond the Copco Toketee Falls power plant.

"Empty" Gun Wounds Youth

A 19-year-old transient farm laborer was in critical condition at Klamath Valley Hospital Saturday night after he shot himself in the head while playing "Russian roulette" with what he believed was an empty automatic pistol.

The victim is Robert Franklin Gillean of Wichita, Kansas, who was living in a labor camp at Newell, 10 miles south of Tulelake.

According to Deputy Sheriff F. A. Dobson, Gillean was hunting pheasants near Newell at the time of the accidental shooting. The officer said the youth fired eight shots at a covey of birds in a field.

Witnesses told Dobson Gillean took the clip from the pistol and placed the muzzle of the gun against his temple.

"Look, Russian roulette!" he yelled, and pulled the trigger. Hospital attendants held little hope for his recovery.

Ethel Pankey Passes At 59

Ethel Flo Pankey, 59, a teacher at Peterson School, died Saturday in Klamath Valley Hospital.

Mrs. Pankey is survived by a son, Ivan Pankey, Klamath Union High School student. She was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The body is at O'Hair's Memorial Chapel where funeral arrangements will be announced later.
