Local Government Subject Of Talk Before AAUW

The constitutional structure of local government, consisting of city and county units, must be modified and adjusted to meet the needs of urban and metropolitan areas not anticipated when the constitution was adopted in 1859, Kenneth A. Tollenaar of Portland said Saturday in Klamath Falls. Tollenaar, who is executive secretary of the Oregon State Legislative Interim Committee on Local Government, spoke to members of the Klamath Falls Chapter, American Association of University Women. Basing his remarks on results of a two-day committee meeting earlier this week in Salem, Tollenaar said action is obviously needed to encourage annexation and to strengthen and extend the functional authority of county governments.

County planning and zoning is emphasized in another committee proposal, which would coordinate city and county planning agencies. Also recommended are better control of reporting on special tax districts. Specific recommendations are made for metropolitan areas. "Klamath Falls illustrates the problems faced almost universally by urban areas," Tollenaar said. He cited the sewage problem in the Altamont area — one of the older suburban areas in the state — which does not yet have a solution "to a very dangerous potential hazard," and the formation of suburban fire districts following two major fires. He praised the development of Ward Park as one of the three suburban park and recreation districts in the state and the current formation of an area planning department under joint sponsorship of the city, county and school districts.

Tollenaar was introduced by Patti O'Connor, program chairman. Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. G. W. Nelson, president. During the business meeting, the group voted to endorse Proposition Two on the November ballot which would enable school districts to accept, hold and dispose of stocks given or bequeathed. Musical selections were sung by Jewel Howard accompanied by Mrs. Sam Mushen. Announcement was made of the November 17 meeting at the Willard Hotel at which Bea Willard, Ford Foundation scholarship winner from Tulelake, will speak. A fellowship food and book sale will be held following the meeting to raise funds for the branch's contribution for advanced study by deserving women.

Former Agent Tells Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Soviet agent Victor A. Kravchenko shot an intruder who entered his apartment Saturday night. Kravchenko, fearful of assassins, said he grabbed for a gun when the stranger allegedly pushed into his East Side apartment and started beating him. Kravchenko, 51, fled his job with the Soviet Purchasing Commission in Washington in 1944 and sought asylum in this country. He is the author of "I Chose Freedom," an anti-Communist book. Last night he told newsmen he would have to search for a new apartment where he can resume his incognito life as a mining engineer. He has been using the name "Peter Martin."

Military Junta Takes Over Honduras Republic

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—A three-man military junta ruled this Central American republic today in the wake of what apparently was its first bloodless political coup in history. Julio Lozano, 71, was removed as chief of state by the junta led by Gen. Roque J. Rodriguez, leader of the Francisco Morazan Military Academy.

Other members of the junta are Col. Hector Carraccioli, chief of the Honduras air force, which played a leading role in the revolt, and Maj. Roberto Galvez, son of former President Juan Manuel Galvez. A Honduras broadcast said one of the first acts of the junta was to proclaim illegal the election two weeks ago of a Constituent Assembly for this banana-growing country of slightly over 1 1/2 million population. The broadcast called the election "a national shame" and said it did not represent the popular will.

Joining the air force units were the 1st Infantry Battalion, elements at the military school and military garrisons at San Pedro Sula and La Ceiba. Some prisoners were taken, but a broadcast over the Honduran radio said all would be released shortly. The radio accounts said complete calm prevailed throughout the country.

The Assembly had been called by Lozano to meet Nov. 11 and was expected to elect him president for a full six-year term. Members of the Liberal party headed by the exiled Dr. Ramon Villeda Morales had assailed the election as a fraud. Twelve persons were killed in election day violence. Villeda Morales, a 49-year-old obstetrician, won the most votes for president in the 1954 presidential election but failed to gain the absolute majority required for election. He was exiled last July on charges of seditious agitation. There was speculation that he would now be permitted to return to the country, along with other exiled Liberal party members. Lozano, who has been acting president with the title chief of state since September 1954, claimed a clean sweep for his supporters in the election two weeks ago. He heads the National Union party. He declared that his
