70 Attend Voters School

BONANZA—Seventy persons attended the last voters school sponsored by the Bonanza Farm Bureau at 8 o'clock October 18 in the library. Lester Jones, chairman of the bureau, introduced citizenship chairman Elsa Rueck, who introduced her co-worker Winitred Burk and the speakers.

First speaker was Ed Geary, who talked on state taxes and how legislative measures have had effects on county taxes. A. R. (Major) Dickson explained why taxes were raised since the reappraisal of all property in the county, stating that the tax is set by the State Tax Commission, not the county assessor.

Harry Boivin and Henry Semon explained the seven amendments to be voted on November 6. Questions and discussion followed the speeches. Other candidates attending were Josephine Kittredge, Dorothy Lowell, Clyde Caldwell and John Kerbow.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lester Jones, Mrs. Lloyd Hankins and Mrs. Ida Casebeer, assisted by Mrs. Don Horsley and Mrs. Jess McFall.

Drive Under Way In Siskiyou

DUNSMUIR—Drives for financial support of the Shasta Silver Tip District, Boy Scouts of America, are underway in five communities in southern Siskiyou County. Weed started its drive last week, with Harry Reents as chairman. A dessert meeting, followed by a door to door canvass October 25, will kickoff McCloud's drive, with James Hogan their chairman.

Phil Googins is Mount Shasta's chairman, Pondersa's is Phil Flannel, and a chairman for the Dunsmuir-Castella area will be named this week. Paul Alcouffe of Dunsmuir is general chairman of the drive.

School Play Under Way

Rehearsals for "Here Comes Charlie," to be presented November 2 under the direction of Anna B. Dolezal, are in full swing at Gilchrist High School.

Reports on the plot of the farce-comedy reveal that Larry Elliot, played by Bobby Garner, finds himself in a predicament. He has just received a letter from the man who once saved his life, and is now dying, and for whom he promised to do anything he could, saying Charlie is arriving to be his ward.

Larry, expecting a small boy of four or five, is some what taken aback when Charlie, enacted by Ella Harris, appears.

Charlie and her guardian Aleck Twigg arrive and from that time on there is confusion.

Nora Malone, Leann Curtis in real life, and Officer McGrill, played by Mike Oxborow, add humor to every situation, while the Smythe-Kersey family, played by Sue Craig as the mother, Beverly Sample as the daughter, and Charles Patterson as the son, represent the haughty imposters. Kay Rolison, in the role of Fanny Farnham, portrays the devoted aunt, and Arthur Warren, as Ted Hartley, the trusted friend.

Russell Cole as Aleck Twigg springs surprises on everyone, bringing the comedy to a satisfying and hilarious conclusion.

'Package Deal' Under Study

DUNSMUIR—Plans for a "package deal" weekend to interest winter sports enthusiasts from the Bay Area are being formulated by hotel, motel and restaurant operators in Dunsmuir. William DeCristina and J. M. Jones spent several days in San Francisco last week making arrangements with travel agencies and bus companies.

As soon as snow conditions permit, H. L. Rubidoux of Dunsmuir, recently granted a franchise by the Public Utilities Commission, will provide bus transportation from Dunsmuir to skiing areas.
