Yellow Gladioli - Bronze Pompons Decorate Sacred Heart Church For Stinson - McEnerney Nuptials

Yellow gladioli and bronze pompon chrysanthemums were the floral decor for the wedding of Colleen Gertrude McEnerney to Wallace Rexford Stinson on September 14.

The Rev. James Whittier of St. Pius X Catholic Church officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony in the presence of some 100 guests.

The vivacious bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. McEnerney, 2904 Summers Lane, and her father gave her in marriage. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stinson, are residents of Myrtle Point, Oregon.

For her early fall nuptials, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice was designed with a shallow scoop neck and long tapered sleeves. The lavishly full skirt was generously gathered at the top to stand out from the waistline. A temple bandeau held her fingertip veil of illusion; and she carried a cluster arrangement of bronze cymbidium orchids complemented by yellow rosebuds atop a white prayer book.

Her honor attendant was Katherine Reidy of Santa Clara and bridesmaid was Mrs. Robert Redmond of San Francisco.

Best man, Neil Hurley, and ushers, Robert Ford and Charles Filtz, are all of Klamath Falls. The bridal attendants wore identical princess style dresses of pale pink organza with contrasting pink taffeta bows. Their picture hats were also pale pink and they carried yellow pompons tied with matching ribbons.

Organist for the wedding was Mrs. Del Heffley.

The reception in Sacred Heart Parish Hall was immediately following the nuptial service. Focal point of the bride's table was an ornate three tiered wedding cake topped with pale pink wedding bells.

Three aunts of the bride presided at the table. Mrs. Josephine Ebbe served the cake; and Mrs. Julie Haas and Mrs. Lenora Simon poured. Irma Clawson registered the guests.

For her daughter's September wedding Mrs. McEnerney wore an afternoon dress of lightweight blue wool with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Yellow rosebuds and white accessories complemented the beige wool suit worn by the senior Mrs. Stinson.

The newlyweds, after a honeymoon in Reno and at Lake Tahoe, have been at home, 4030 Mack Avenue, since October 4. For travel on the wedding trip, the new Mrs. Stinson wore a black and white wool suit with white accessories.

Colleen was graduated from Sacred Heart Academy and St. Joseph College of Nursing in San Francisco. She has been employed locally as a registered nurse. Her husband is a graduate of Oregon State College with a B.S. degree. His fraternal affiliation on the Corvallis campus is Kappa Psi, pharmaceutical fraternity. He is employed as a pharmacist.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Vern Davis, sister of the bridegroom, and her two daughters, from Coquille; Mrs. Gertrude Morrow, Mrs. Betty Reynolds and two children, and Bernard McEnerney, Sacramento; Mrs. Lenora Simon, Mrs. Josephine Ebbe and Mrs. Julia Haas, Redding; and Robert Redmond, the bridegroom's husband, San Francisco.

The mother who talks more than her share about her children is a bore to other mothers who have to listen. Furthermore, they can't help but suspect that she is trying to impress them with the fact that her children are superior to theirs. And that no mother can do with an audience of other mothers. So she might just as well save her breath.

Mattson-Bredeeen Vows Said in Merrill Church

THEIR WEDDING PICTURE . . . was taken in the Merrill Presbyterian Church after Noreen Bredeen became the bride of Raymond Kermit Mattson in an afternoon ceremony on September 15.

MERRILL — The Merrill Presbyterian Church was the setting for one of late summer's outstanding weddings, when Stella Noreen Bredeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Joseph Bredeen, became the bride of Raymond Kermit Mattson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mattson. Both families are of Merrill.

The Rev. Lloyd Henderson read the double-ring service at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon, September 15, in the presence of 150 wedding guests. Floral decorations in the church were basket arrangements of apricot gladioli, bronze mums and blue wheat.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Lillian Thomas, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Delmar Haskins who sang "Friendly Persuasion" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, escorted by her father who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over net and bridal satin. The long-sleeved, fitted bodice with a narrow yoke of tiny pleated net, had a sweetheart neckline trimmed in sequin clusters. The skirt of lace fell in graceful classic lines from the pointed bodice to form the chapel length train.

The fingertip veil of illusion was draped over the little heart-shaped disc of pearl trimmed lace and enhanced the bride's piquant beauty. The bridal bouquet was a large white orchid atop a white Bible.

Doris Bredeen, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore an apricot iridescent taffeta gown featuring a lavishly bouffant skirt of flaring godets from the waistline and two fly-away panels from the neckline bow to the flaring hemline. Soft folds forming the sweetheart neckline and dainty cap sleeves completed the picture. The bridesmaids, Mary Bredeen, sister of the bride, and Janice Lisk, cousin of the bridegroom, wore Alice Blue gowns identical in style to the maid of honor's. The attendants wore sprays of apricot daisies on their curls and carried old fashioned bouquets of bronze mums, apricot gladioli and blue wheat.

Little Mary Rebecca Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Baldwin of Ridgefield, Washington, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon frock and carried a basket of flower petals. The ring-bearer, John Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thomas of Klamath Falls, wore a white dinner jacket and dark trousers, a replica of attire worn by the men in the wedding party.

Chosen as best man was James David McMurtrey of Merrill; and ushers were Bud Maupin and Larry Bell, also of Merrill.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bredeen wore a radingote gown of Elizabeth blue iced taffeta styled with a pleated under panel and complementing white accessories. Mrs. Mattson chose a blue sheath frock with three-quarter length sleeves and white accessories. Their rosebud corsages were identical.

The reception was in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Mrs. Dave Jones before a large floral arrangement. Focal point of the reception table was the four-tiered wedding cake, baked and ornately decorated for the festive occasion by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Stella Darr. The cake was served by Mrs. Lois Abbey of Klamath Falls.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Betsy Mattson, grandmother of the bridegroom; at the coffee service was Mrs. Stella Darr. The gift table was attended by Myrtle Barnes and Mary McCullough.

For the wedding trip to Reno, the new Mrs. Mattson chose a gray suit of Italian imported silk tweed. The young couple are now at home in Merrill.

Both the newlyweds are graduates of Merrill High School. The bridegroom attended one year at Oregon Technical Institute.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Forse of Minneapolis, great uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Axel Larson, also of Minneapolis; and Mrs. Richard Mattson from Seward, Alaska.

OCTOBER 26, is the date set for the wedding of Paula Jean Kothoff to Michael Pedersen in Tulalake Latter Day Saints Church. The announcement was made by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kothoff, Merrill. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pedersen, Tulalake.

The cocktail guest who never gets away from the table where the food is being served makes a public pig of himself. He shows plainly that he is much more interested in eating than in talking to the guests. If you are invited to a cocktail party you are expected to snack—not stuff.
