

PTA NEWS

HENLEY
By Mrs. William Decker
A panel of speakers, which included Mrs. Violet Koehn, Jerry Thorne, Mrs. Virginia Dixon, Mrs. Ronald Whitlatch, Paul Campbell, and Rex Dye, explained the organizations of the United Fund at the Henley PTA meeting October 2, in the grade school cafeteria.

President Mrs. L. M. McBride opened the meeting, and the flag salute was led by Mrs. Franks' first grade. Mrs. Paul Fairlo, membership chairman, reported that to date there are 318 members, and that fourth grade teacher Mrs. Franks had won the membership prize. Treasurer Mrs. Ruben Peterson explained the items in this year's budget of $583.25, which was adopted without change. George Elliott, principal of the high school, announced that the carnival would be on November 16, and that a three act play would be given by the high school drama club in the first week of December.

Thorne, district scout executive, opened the discussions with information about the Boy Scouts. He said that though many people believe that rural boys are not interested in scouting, evidence from across the country proves the contrary. He pointed out that Henley Troop 11, organized by the Henley Grange in July of 1948, has had a total of 108 boys, while 89 boys have participated in Pack 11 since its organization in March of 1955. He also described the three programs of scouting, which are cub packs for ages 8-10, scout troupes for ages 11-14, and explorer posts for those 14 and over.

Mrs. Dixon, executive secretary of the Klamath Basin Chapter of the Red Cross, told about the three standing programs of the Red Cross in Klamath County. The first, the blood program, serves to furnish, through volunteer donors, the 100 pints of blood used monthly in the county. Mrs. Dixon stated that the blood used was not charged for by the Red Cross, and that the only charges made were for lab costs, hospital costs of intusing, and the cost of delivery of the blood from Portland. The second program consists of educational classes. To name a few, volunteer workers learn how to teach new first aid methods and swimming to handicapped or mentally retarded persons, and the public is invited to classes such as home nursing. The final and most widely known program of the Red Cross is disaster relief, under which 50 million dollars are spent yearly, all of which money is raised by donation. Here, close to home, the Red Cross is helping in the Bly area, furnishing dry blankets, replacing soaked mattresses, and putting emergency tar paper on some roofs. The criterion for disaster relief is need, not loss, and an outright grant is made to those in need.

Paul Campbell, executive secretary for the YMCA, began by stating the purpose of the "Y," which is to gather an association of people—youths and adults—to be concerned about service to others. He stressed the facts that all work is done on a volunteer basis, that the members take the responsibility, that the "Y" is self-supporting, and most important, that the "Y" serves all people regardless of whether or not they are members. Operating under the assumption that "good things happen to people in groups," the "Y" sponsors a weekly family night, a Labor Day camp for the whole family, women's gym classes, a rifle club, and classes in preparation for marriage. Campbell also explained that the "Y" is not a church, although it is based on Christian objectives, and is open to all faiths to be of service in places of need.

Mrs. Ronald Whitlatch, district representative of the Girl Scouts, described the new service groups, consisting of a neighborhood chairman, a troop consultant, and a troop organizer, whose function it is to enlist members, find leaders and in general to coordinate troop activities. She also explained that the Girl Scouts only sources of money are the United Fund and the annual cookie sale, all dues being sent to the National organization, and that this money is used mainly for camp expenses.

Real Estate Men To Meet

Real estate brokers and salesmen from Klamath and Lake counties will meet for an all day educational program at the Winema Hotel Thursday. These educational training conferences are regular occurrences and are financed by funds set aside from state license fees.

Approximately 60 real estate men will attend to hear the prominent speakers and to take part in the scheduled discussions. Clarence F. Hyde, commissioner of the Oregon State Real Estate Board, will be on hand to address the group as will Burton W. Dunn, educational supervisor of the real estate department.

Among other speakers will be L. L. Cunningham who is well known as a lecturer, William Abelmann who is a veteran realtor, and Ted Jensen who will speak on the legal aspects of real estate transactions. Subjects to be covered by the speakers will range from residential appraisals to human relations in selling. Deane Sacher, president of the Klamath Board of Realtors, urges all local real estate salesmen and brokers to attend.

JOSEPH KITLER

Couple Miss Crater View

A New Jersey couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kitler who came to this area for the specific purpose of visiting Crater Lake National Park and viewing the lake, was disappointed last week because their arrival on Thursday coincided with the first snow storm of the season in the park.

"We saw more snow up there on Thursday than we saw all last winter in New Jersey," Kitler said, adding that his home town of Highland Park, near New Brunswick, had a maximum of two inches of snow on the ground last winter. He is an electrician with the Permeel-Tape Company, a subsidiary of Johnson and Johnson and this was their first trip to Oregon.

They agreed that Oregon is beautiful despite the unexpected snow in the Klamath country. "Anyhow," Mrs. Kitler commented, "missing a sight of Crater Lake this year gives us an excellent excuse to come back again next year."

OVER THE GARDEN GATE

JUNIPER GARDEN CLUB
By Harriet McCollum

On September 9, the Juniper Garden Club met at the fairgrounds for a regular business meeting with Mrs. Orville Ferrell presiding. Eight members and one guest were present. Plans for the district meeting were formulated at that time.

At least twice a year this district, composed of 10 clubs, meets for a day of business and good fellowship. The Juniper Garden Club is a newly chartered group, and it was the first time they had been asked to serve as hosts to the district meeting.

Approximately 80 garden club members met at the fairgrounds early September 16. The rooms were appropriately decorated, carrying out the theme for the day, "A Hunting We Will Go."

Mrs. Wallace Uerlings, assisted by Mrs. Graham Berry, was in charge of the morning coffee hour. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in true camp style.

Mrs. C. E. McClellan was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. R. A. Nelson registered guests upon their arrival. Mrs. Lloyd Seely and Mrs. Clark Kendall were in charge of the horticulture display. The number and beauty of the fall blossoms were truly outstanding.

The women of the Shasta-Home-dale Extension Unit served the noon luncheon. Mrs. A. H. Bradford was in charge of table arrangements, fall flowers and game birds. Each guest received a favor of one or more fall planting bulbs. Corsages were presented to the state officers, presidents of each club and guest speakers. Red hats were worn by each member of the hostess club.

Dr. and Mrs. Gentner of Medford were speakers during the afternoon. Mrs. Gentner spoke on roses and the doctor on pests and their control.

Firms Sign Union Pacts

Three more California pine area lumber companies have signed contracts with local unions that end 1957 wage and contract negotiations, according to C. L. Irving, managing vice president of Pine Industrial Relations Council, Klamath Falls. The companies are McCloud River Lumber Company, McCloud, Paul Bunyan Lumber Company, Susanville, and Setzer Forest Products, Greenville. PIRC says there were no wage increases or cost benefits provided in any of the three settlements.

IWA Local 6-64 signed the agreement with McCloud River Lumber Company, on behalf of three bargaining units in the company's logging, sawmill, and townsite operations. About 950 employees are affected. Signing with Paul Bunyan Lumber Company was Lumber and Sawmill Workers Local Union No. 3033, on behalf of about 225 workers. Minor contract changes were made in both agreements, with the McCloud agreements extended to June 1, 1958. The Susanville agreement runs to May 1, 1958.

The Setzer agreement was signed with IWA Local 13-372, which union represents the company's Greenville logging employees. About 50 workers are affected. The settlement agreement simply extends the old agreement to April 1, 1958.

Soviet Chief In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE (AP)—Soviet Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov began an eight-day visit to Yugoslavia today. The Russian defense minister is the highest ranking Soviet military man to come here since World War II.

Zhukov landed at the ancient Adriatic port of Zadar from the Soviet cruiser Kulibshev.

Adm. Mate Jerkovic, the army chief of staff, Gen. Lubo Vuckovic and other high-ranking Yugoslav military officers welcomed Zhukov, who is a member of the Soviet Communist party's ruling Presidium.

After inspecting a naval guard of honor at Zadar, Zhukov was taken to the nearby military airport of Zemunik to be flown to Belgrade. Zhukov and his party of high-ranking Soviet officers will visit military units and installations in Croatia and Slovenia, in western Yugoslavia, as government guests.

Riots Flare In Warsaw

WARSAW (AP)—For the fifth straight night street fighting broke out in this Communist capital, but the anti-government demonstrators had dwindled from a mass student protest to a small crowd sparked by rowdies.

About 100 riot police charged last night's jeering crowd of 1,000 with clubs after a teen-age gang set a wooden flower kiosk afire. Forty persons were reported arrested in the clash outside the Warsaw Palace of Culture.

The disorders began Thursday night, when police broke up a demonstration against closure of the student newspaper Po Prostu for criticizing the Communist government. After another clash Friday night, organized students took no further part and rowdies moved in.

Communist authorities kept up a press campaign demanding severe penalties for demonstrators. Total arrests and casualties have not been announced.

A resolution by the University Youth Union called for quiet. It said: "We condemn the riots but at the same time consider that they were the logical consequence of militia interference, inconsiderate action of students and lack of proper organization."
