Morning Coffee Is Pleasant Respite From Gloomy Days

Mrs. Franklin Weaver treated approximately 125 of her women friends to a pleasant respite from a long spell of dreary weather when she was hostess at a coffee on Thursday, October 3, in the Pelican Party Room from 10 a.m. until noon.

Unpleasant outdoor weather seemed suddenly remote to guests as they were greeted in the charming downstairs room.

Fall flowers in unusual and interesting color combinations were used in the room bouquets of dahlias, spider chrysanthemums and pompons.

The artistic table arrangement was of large bunches of grapes with grape leaves lavishly overflowing a wide pedestal bowl of silver. Candlelight illuminated the setting and was reflected in the silver urns, trays and serving dishes that were filled with a wide assortment of "coffee" pastries.

Pourers were Mrs. Warren Bennett, Mrs. Seth Kerron, Mrs. W. Ray Lamb, Mrs. Dick B. Miller Sr., Mrs. Frank Jenkins and Mrs. Joan Houston.

Assisting were Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, Mrs. Lois Serruys, Mrs. C. Buz Larkin, Mrs. George A. Myers, Mrs. F. Cecil Adams, Mrs. Claud Davis, Mrs. J. J. (Jake) Steiger, Mrs. Loren Palmerton and Mrs. Stanley Miller.
