

LEAVING ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH after their simple, quiet, early morning wedding on October 5, are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Short. The bride is the former Barbara Diana Hooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hooper, Midland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Short, Henley.

The Rev. Galen Onstad was officiant at the morning rites, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The couple was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Rebecca Short, and Leland Webber, both of Henley. The bride wore a white lace and tulle ballerina length dress, designed with a high necked, long sleeved bodice of lace. The lace continued a little over half-way down the skirt to a scalloped border on the wide full flounce of airy tulle. A delicate headband of white feathers and pearls held the shoulder length veil. Her bridal flowers were red rosebuds and white mums carried atop a white Bible. Her attendant wore a pale blue satin ensemble with short princess jacket. She wore a blue velvet headband with a matching blue veil, and her corsage was of carnations.

Both of the newlyweds went to school in Henley. Ronald is a pre-dental student at Oregon State College, and the couple is now at home there.

That crowning glory, the hair, often is a warning signal. Emotional upsets, tension nerves or fatigue affect your hair. Massaging is a way to get the tingle back in the scalp. It also relaxes you. Place thumbs at back of neck and dig in. Follow with brisk brushing and frequent shampoos.

NANCY LEE AMBERS is the bride-elect of Robert Hall, according to the recent announcement made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ambers, 922 Fulton Street.

Nancy is a senior at Emanuel Hospital School of Nursing in Portland, and Bob, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall, San Diego, is a sophomore in electrical engineering at Oregon State College.

FINAL SESSION

A fitting finale to the 17th Annual Conference of 14th District of Quota Club International, was the gay and delightful "Chuckwagon Breakfast" staged at the Klamath Yacht Club under the direction of Doty Poole, breakfast chairman.

The hearty meal was served at 9 o'clock in true buckaroo style. After breakfast district officers elected at the Saturday afternoon session were installed in an impressive candlelight ceremony by charming Quota Club International President Elsie Yarter. Lucille Larson, Ardath L. Danielson and Betty Malm were all reelected to their respective offices in the 14th District, as governor, lieutenant governor and secretary-treasurer.

The entertainment program for the concluding session was a clever skit "Around the World in 14 Days" — presented by Eugene Quota Club. The Eugene Quotarian billed as "Queen of the Merrill Potato Festival" is Betty (Mrs. Bob) Porter, who lived here for many years before moving to Eugene.

Before leaving the "stage" the Eugene group invited Quota clubs in this district to meet with them in Eugene next year for the 18th Annual Conference of 14th District of Quota Club International. The invitation was unanimously accepted.

Klamath conference chairmen who engineered the successful weekend of social and business sessions were Laverne Slusser, general chairman; Cardula Eells, co-chairman; Vera Chase, reservations and registration; Nadine Colvin, transportation; Lou Hoselton, publicity; Alice Vitus, finance; Helen Majors, luncheon; Ninon Nyback, banquet and Dottie Poole, breakfast. Past presidents of Klamath County Quota Club were conference hostesses.

MIDLAND

FAREWELL SUPPER

A farewell potluck supper for Mr. and Mrs. John Mistler and Ralph was given recently by the Midland Community Club, but because of unforeseen circumstances the guests of honor were unable to attend. Mrs. Mistler, who started the club in 1942, was its first president. There are still seven charter members and a total membership of 20.

This first social event to be held in the unfinished community hall had a turnout of 31 members and friends who were served in the dining hall and kitchen. Members had worked hard removing lumber, fixing windows and providing adequate lighting and heat for the function.

Leona Andrieu read a poem about how the club originated which was composed by Helen Farmer. Dawn Peters gave a humorous reading, and the audience sang "The More We Get Together."

The club's gift, a quilted taffeta bedspread and vanity set, was presented to the Mistlers at a later date by the president and five of the charter members.
