Darmody-Dailey Rites In 1st Christian Church

First Christian Church was the setting for the October 5 marriage of Jacqueline Eleanor Dailey to Ralph Michael Darmody. The 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony was read by Otis Bell, pastor of First Christian Church.

Mixed bouquets of early fall flowers decorated the church for the informal autumn wedding which was attended by approximately 80 mutual friends of the nuptial couple.

Mrs. Darmody is the daughter of the late William and Ida Power, Steubenville, Ohio. Parents of the bridegroom, the late William and Lilly Darmody, were residents of St. Louis, Missouri.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Joseph E. Green, the bride's daughter; and Fairbanks M. Belinger, both of this city. Ushers were Joseph E. Green, son-in-law of the bride, and Rudy V. Carlson, the bridegroom's son-in-law, both of Klamath Falls.

Organist for the wedding, Mrs. Stanley Kendall, accompanied vocal soloist Judy McFarlan.

The bride wore a waltz length dress of pastel yellow and green nylon sheer, and she carried a small arrangement of asters and baby rosebuds tied with wide yellow and green satin streamers. Mrs. Green wore an autumn green satin afternoon dress and a corsage of pink and white roses.

The reception was in the Knotty Pine Room of the church immediately following the ceremony. Assisting during the evening were Mrs. Rollin Gillette, Mrs. Mattie Collins, Mrs. Paul Hilton, Mrs. Lena Edwards, Mrs. George Carson, Mrs. Otis Bell, Mrs. Paul Eden and Mrs. W. H. King. Out-of-town guests were Irwin

WEED

WABENO COUNCIL

An exchange of Halloween silent-pal gifts highlighted the social hour of the Wabeno Council, degree of Pocahontas, meeting held Friday night, October 18.

Mrs. Ace Hildreth, pocahontas, presided at the regular meeting and announced final plans for the official visit of Inez Means, great pocahontas of the reservation of California, to the local council November 11.

Invitations to attend the official visits of the great pocahontas, to Idaka Council 210, Red Bluff, and Idola Council 187, McCloud, were received and read.

Mrs. Rachael Doughty received the coin award for the evening and Mrs. A. O. McRae was given the mystery package.

Autumn leaves decorated the hall and lined the tables for a potluck supper following the meeting. The gift exchange and games completed the evening entertainment.

BPW CLUB

A parade of hats, depicting chairmanships of the local Business and Professional Club, was presented in skit form by the losing team in the recent membership contest at the October meeting held last week at the Fawn Club.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, losing team captain, acted as narrator and introduced the hat personalities.

A report of the recent Northern District Conference held in Mount Shasta was given by the delegate, Mrs. H. C. Strothers, who also gave a report on legislation.

Mrs. Joyce Holmquist, president, presided and announced plans for the club entertainment of the senior girls of the Weed High School at the November meeting.

Autumn decorations centered the dinner tables and were interspersed with Halloween motifs. Mrs. Mary Young, Mrs. Graham Allen and Mrs. Norman Bond served as the committee for the evening arrangements.

YREKA

THETA RHO GIRLS

At the recent meeting of the Laurel Theta Rho Girls Club No. 99, an election of officers was held with Betty Bagans chosen as president of the group.

Other officers elected were Barbara Sauer, vice president; Audrey Juhl, secretary; Sydney Wagner, financial secretary, and Kerry Beebe, treasurer.

Closing the meeting was the serving of refreshments by Carol Sauer and Janice Massero. Next meeting of the club will be held October 21.

LAKEVIEW

JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Official guests were honored and three new members initiated at the meeting of Bethel No. 47, International Order of Job's Daughters, at the Masonic Temple in Lakeview Monday evening, October 21.

Making her official visit to the Bethel was Mrs. Evelyn McGill of Beaverton, Oregon, state grand guardian. Also present were Mrs. Minta Adams, state chairman of publicity, and her husband, Floyd, from Portland. Mrs. McGill presented a gift to Honored Queen Judy Snider on behalf of the Grand Bethel. She also conducted a school of instruction during the afternoon.

Janice Decker, Betty Lou Harris and Mary Lynn Fenimore were the initiates. Members of their families were guests for the evening and were introduced following the presentation of Mrs. McGill, the honoring of Susan Juller of Lakeview, Grand Bethel treasurer, and the presentation of Mrs. Hugh Mercer, Bethel guardian, and Jack L. Groom, associate guardian.

Mrs. Groom, hospitality and social chairman, arranged for the reception which followed. Fall color arrangements were used for decoration.

Plans were discussed for the dance sponsored by the Bethel for Friday evening, October 25, at the temple, and the next regular meeting was set for October 28, at 7:30, at which time degrees will be conferred.

Never call a business or professional man at home about a business matter. It is an imposition. Office hours are the time for discussing business matters. A man's home may not be his castle, but others shouldn't try to turn it into a second office.
