Graham spoke at a service climaxed "Visitation Week," an annual event of the Protestant Council of Churches of New York City. This year's visitation program concentrated on the 36,766 persons who made "decisions for Christ" at Graham's New York crusade, last summer. A total of 1,284 went forward yesterday.

The crusade began with nightly meetings May 15 in Madison Square Garden. The preaching phase ended with a rally in Broadway just south of Times Square Sept. 1.

Last July 20, 100,000 persons jammed Yankee Stadium on a sweltering evening to hear Graham.

Despite yesterday's cold and threatening clouds, Graham doffed his overcoat when he began preaching from a stand at second base.

He predicted the downfall of the United States unless Americans follow the ways of God. Graham reviewed the perils facing the nation and said a congressman had told him that there is a strong element within the Kremlin that believes that Russia should attack the United States within the next two years.

He said it would be "most unfortunate" if Eisenhower should say anything in forthcoming speeches that would give the American people a "false sense of security."

Graham did not identify the congressman. Graham said he feared that God is "preparing a pagan nation" to destroy the United States just as he "prepared a pagan nation to destroy the ancient kingdom of Israel."

"We're asleep," he said, "but I tell you God has not changed. His coming judgment is more certain than any mathematical formula. You may laugh, you may sneer, you may doubt it. But I tell you it's coming. I am convinced the time is short."

The text of the sermon involved the Biblical story of the Prophet Amos who warned the Hebrew people that they would be destroyed as a judgment for their sins.

Pointing to the overcast sky, Graham said: "There's a world swinging out in that immensity of space called Heaven, and there's another world swinging out in that immensity of space called Hell."

Vatican Radio Takes To Air SANTA MARIA DE GALERIA, Italy (AP)—A powerful new radio station, declared by Pope Pius XII, today sent Vatican broadcasts throughout the world.

The Pope made the longest trip he has taken since he became pontiff—35 miles—to inaugurate the station's service yesterday. Speaking in Latin, the Pope called for dedication of modern inventions to the spreading of the Christian gospel. He urged the world to strive "for peace and fraternal unity."

The powerful transmitter and 24 towers—the tallest rising 260 feet—cost 2½ million dollars contributed by Catholics everywhere. The Vatican's first radio station, built by Guglielmo Marconi, was opened by Pope Pius XI 26 years ago.

Tot Shoots Sister To Death In Home CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A 5-year-old boy shot his sleeping baby sister to death yesterday with a shotgun which his father had left in the bedroom.

Coroner Lewis Powers said 19-month-old Audrey Anita Mansel was killed by the blast fired by her brother, Robert Ray Mansel.

"He just found the loaded shotgun and somehow managed to shoot it," the coroner said. "Of course he didn't know what he was doing." No charges were filed.

Another child, Deborah Lynn, 3, was asleep on another bed in the same room. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mansel, were out of the house.
