

SAC Continues Mock Attacks

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Giant Strategic Air Command bombers, armed with electronic signals instead of explosives, roared high over Kansas City, St. Louis and Atlanta again today in a second day of mock bombing runs.

The giant B36s and B36s from Carswell Air Force Base here opened the first day of the ninth annual SAC bombing navigation reconnaissance competition Wednesday night by B47s and British Royal Air Force bombers from Pinecastle Air Force Base at Orlando, Fla. A total of 45 crews flew Wednesday and 45 other crews will fly today.

From eight miles up, the planes flashed electronic beams at the targets. In wartime, the beam would be a bomb. Ground crews received the blip on a radar screen which also showed the target, and a photograph of the screen showed within feet how close the bomber came to his target.

Today's schedule calls for a B36 to leave from Carswell at 11:53 p.m. e.s.t. and make its run over Kansas City at 1:47 p.m. The fifth B36 in the series is to strike Kansas City at 2:57 p.m. e.s.t. and the last one at 3:47 p.m. The first B36 strikes Atlanta at 4:49 p.m. e.s.t. and the last one at 5:25 p.m. e.s.t.

The first B32 strikes Kansas City at 5:40 p.m. e.s.t. and the last one at 6:20 p.m. The first of the giant bombers moves over St. Louis at 6:18 p.m. e.s.t. and the last one at 6:58 p.m. The first B32 arrives over Atlanta at 7:20 p.m. e.s.t. and the final one at 8 p.m.

From eight miles up, an Air Force spokesman said, it was unlikely the planes could be seen unless they left vapor trails.

The 11th Bomb Wing at Carswell, made up of B36s, won the competition last year.

Many Attend NY Crusade

NEW YORK (UP)—The official tally on attendance at Billy Graham's New York crusade meetings showed the evangelistic effort attracted 2,145,000 persons, it was announced Wednesday.

The evangelist's staff also revealed that 60,577 persons recorded "decisions for Christ" in the course of the crusade, which began May 13 in Madison Square Garden and officially closed last Sunday with a rally in the Polo Grounds.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist had cancelled all engagements for the next three weeks to go to his Montreal, N. C., home and recover from a knee injury suffered when he was butted by a ram.

Members of Graham's evangelistic "team" will go without him to San Francisco for a ministerial seminar Nov. 11 to prepare for a crusade in the Cow Palace due to begin April 27.

Graham will also hold a series of evangelistic meetings in the Caribbean area in January, a crusade in Charlotte, N.C., next fall, and another in Australia in early 1959.

SHASTA PTA By Mrs. Laddie Totell and Mrs. Arlin Bragg

"What is PTA?" a subject which included the fact that this is the largest organization of its kind in the world, was the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Claudia Moore, junior vice president of Region No. 5, to members of the Shasta PTA on October 23 in the school auditorium.

She compared the PTA to a building with its blueprints representing the basic policies of the PTA. The structure, she said, compares to the objectives of the organization including the promotion of the welfare of children and youth, in the home, school, church and community; need for a closer relationship between school and home, and the need for parent-teacher cooperation.

Development of united efforts between educators and the public for securing highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education for every child is also one of the objectives of PTA.

Continuing, Mrs. Moore said that each local unit adds a brick to the structure. The windows in the building represent the aims of PTA which include giving each child an equal opportunity to learn; cooperation and not dictation with school officials; to search for facts rather than finding fault with the schools; and to seek to raise the standards of the home instead of being critical of standards.

Mrs. Floyd Buck, president, called the meeting to order. She introduced Jerry Thorne, Boy Scout executive, who spoke on scouting and sought sponsorship of a scout troop by the Shasta PTA. Members approved the proposal and Mrs. Buck appointed Mrs. Raymond Tice, chairman; Mrs. Norman Proley, Mrs. Willard Ward and Mrs. J. M. Woodward as a committee to work with Thorne and Hal Geiger on plans for the troop organization.

Elton Fishback, principal, introduced Mrs. Isabelle Brinker, supervisor of elementary school education.

MT. LAKE GARDEN CLUB

By Mrs. Noah Nyhart

Sylvia Jones, president of the Mt. Lake Garden Club, presided over the regular monthly meeting held at the home of Mrs. Irving Dixon. Mrs. Jones was assisted by Helen Held.

A total of 17 members and two guests were present. The guests were Mrs. Mary Martin and Mrs. William Georgesen, both of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Georgesen spoke about the old fashioned varieties of roses, the sweet briar and moss roses which bloomed in the spring time.

A variety of the moss rose has now been developed for more continued bloom. Discussed was the winter care of roses and the propagation of roses from cuttings.

Caring for chrysanthemums and other perennials was also included in the topic for the afternoon's program.

Ruby White brought a display of fall foliage which she had waxed with paraffin, adding glitter for sparkle and color.

Arrangements were made and displayed at the meeting by Carrie Campbell, Dorothy Born and Gia Houck. Fall colored foliage and flowers were used in making the arrangements.

A spring flower show was discussed and the club voted in favor of having a flower show in June. A lengthy discussion was held on protecting of birds such as the owls, hawks and gulls.

About 16 varieties of hawks are beneficial to the farmers in riding his grounds of rodents. There are a few species which are not beneficial, but the majority deserve protection.

The beneficial birds save the farmer thousands of dollars annually. With the pastures and fields in the area now being heavily over populated by meadow or field mice and constantly increasing, it is vital these rodent destroying birds be protected.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Held.

The next meeting is to be held in the home of Mrs. Warren Woodward on November 18 with Mrs. Ed Born as co-hostess.

Harmonious grouping of plants and shrubs in landscaping will be the subject for discussion.
