

A "HATTI AFFAIR" was the theme name of the recent Rotary Ann luncheon honoring Mrs. William M. Caldwell, wife of Rotary District No. 510 Governor Caldwell of Medford.

The Rotarian-wives' event at the Yacht Club on Friday, October 25, was at 12:30 p.m., the same time Governor Caldwell was officially attending the local Rotary Club regular Friday luncheon meeting in the Willard Hotel. At the wives' luncheon, the "Hatti" theme was carried out in gorgeous and-or ludicrous feminine headgear. Or, more explicitly — local Rotary Ann's provided a startling assortment of chapeaux for members and guests to wear at the table.

Styles varied from a pink plush poodle pate-piece, to one made of two yellow oven-proof paper pie tins joined with a band of blue spun glass, a crown of actually-baked blue meringue and an accent touch of red cake sprinkle.

"The Latest", a straw horn-of-plenty, spiralled to a top that held a miniature Sputnik — was designed for, and worn by the guest of honor. A foil-covered inverted saucepan adorned with a toy jet plane, for the wife of jet air base

Col. Raymond A. Thornton, and many other creations employing such unusual findings as reels of film, brassieres, pot holders, toy cars, chicken wire etc., were in the zany collection.

In the picture, from the left, are Mrs. Al Nyback, hospitality committee chairman; Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. O. K. Puckett, wife of Klamath Falls Rotary Club president, official hostess, who presided and introduced the honored guest; and standing, Mrs. Adolph Zamsky, wife of the local club's vice president.

All are showing interest in luncheon chairman, Mrs. Nyback's table decor. She had cleverly insinuated a rust-colored felt hat into the large, colorful arrangement of fall flowers.

Mrs. Caldwell entertained her luncheon audience with an informal account of the Rotary International meeting in Lucerne, Switzerland, which she attended with her husband.

Karen Friberg Is Bride Of George F. Bunning

In a morning ceremony on October 5 in Westminster Presbyterian Church, Eugene, Karen Friberg was married to George F. Bunning. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Friberg, former residents of Klamath Falls, now living in Eugene. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bunning, are also residents of Eugene. Karen is the granddaughter of Mrs. John Simmons, 1414 East Main, and the late John Simmons.

Lighted yellow tapers in candelabra illuminated the setting, and fall flowers decorated the altar. Organ music for the wedding was played by Mrs. A. T. Goodwin. The service was read at 9:30 a.m., by Judge A. T. Goodwin.

For the informal ceremony, the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length princess style dress of blue satin, made with a matching short jacket. Her accessories were in an antique gold shade blended with beige, and she carried a small arrangement of shaggy white chrysanthemums.

Donna Donahue, maid of honor, wore a beige faille princess style dress with brown accessories and a small brown velvet hat. Walter Brown was best man.

For the wedding trip to the coast, Karen wore a green wool suit with brown accessories. They are now at home, 828 North Twenty-Ninth Street in Corvallis, where both are attending Oregon State College.

Hardman-Welborn Vows Taken At Yreka Home Of Bride's Grandparents

YREKA—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wellons, Yreka, was the setting for the October 11 wedding of their granddaughter, Lucile Edith Welborn, Yreka, to James Marshall Hardman of Etna. The Rev. Charles Anderson, pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran Church officiated.

For the autumn ceremony, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white chiffon over white satin. The bouffant skirt flared gracefully from the slender waist of the fitted, short-sleeved bodice, that featured a Victorian neckline. A white velvet bandeau held her brief veil, and she carried a bridal bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's only attendant was her close friend, Leila Galfin, from Sacramento. She wore a pale green crystalline frock. Chiffon draped the neckline and formed a long floating panel at the back.

James C. Hardman was best man for his son.

The reception, also at home, was very informal, for the immediate families and a very few close friends.

The three-tiered ornate wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was cut by the newlyweds, and served with other refreshments under the supervision of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jesse Barnacassel.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barnacassel wore a gray print afternoon frock with black accessories. The senior Mrs. Hardman selected a taupe and pink print dress with black accessories for the occasion.

The bride is a senior at Yreka High School and is continuing with her studies. Her husband is a graduate of Etna High School, currently employed in Etna where they are now at home.

ST. BARNABAS GUILD

Mrs. Martin Gilt was hostess for the Guild of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church the afternoon of October 24. A large pumpkin and autumn leaves with black and orange crepe paper were used for decorations, and the refreshments were orange and yellow bread open sandwiches decorated as faces.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Owen People was in charge of the meeting. Final plans were made for the annual turkey dinner and bazaar to be held at the Bonanza school on November 9, serving starting at 6 p.m. Mrs. People is general chairman of the dinner and Mrs. Paul Monroe of the bazaar. A report made on the rest rooms being built at the parish hall indicated the roof is on.

The next regular meeting will be on November 28, place to be announced later.
