WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission was urged by the chairmen of two powerful Senate committees Tuesday to turn thumbs down on the Idaho Power Co.'s plans for financing construction of its Brownlee Dam on the Snake River.

In a joint letter to Chairman Jerome Kuykendall of the FPC, Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash.) of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and Chairman Murray (D-Mont.) of the Interior Committee said there "are serious doubts... as to the economic soundness of the development."

Murray and Magnuson are both leaders in a Democratic move to obtain federal construction of a high dam in the Hells Canyon stretch of the Snake River. The federal site would be flooded out by Brownlee and two other low-level dams planned by Idaho Power.

The power company has asked the FPC for permission to issue 15 million dollars worth of bonds and 225,000 shares of common stock to finance Brownlee, which is about 50 per cent complete.

In their letter, Magnuson and Murray also said Idaho Power would face a financial loss by selling its surplus, 7.6-million-kilowatt-hour power from Brownlee to the Bonneville Power Administration, which sells federal energy for 2 mills. The senators said BPA would be Idaho Power's only surplus power customer.

"Is Bonneville to purchase this power at its cost and absorb the loss... then sell it at the postage stamp (2 mill) rate?" the senators asked.

"It would appear that the Idaho Power Co., in its eagerness to pre-empt the Hells Canyon stretch of the Snake River, now finds itself drowning in its own high cost power surplus," Magnuson and Murray said.

U.S., Egypt Situation Eyed

CAIRO (UP)—The next two weeks may provide a critical turning point, for better or for worse, in relations between Egypt and the United States, western diplomatic sources said today.

The sources, not Americans, said the United States may be able to turn the tide of its relations with the "neutral" Arab nations despite the latest psychological victory the Soviet Union scored with Sputnik II.

The key lies in an agreement on compensation by Egypt to shareholders of the private company that ran the Suez Canal before Egypt nationalized it last year.

Talks on this are known to be going on through U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

And there are strong reports here that World Bank President Eugene Black is coming to Cairo soon to talk to President Gamal Abdel Nasser, presumably about the settlement of that issue and the future development of the canal.

Agreement on canal compensation would clear the way for the unblocking of Egyptian government funds in the United States, now about $2,600,000.

Western diplomatic sources believe it would clear the atmosphere of some of the present bitterness and offer both sides a new chance to patch up hard feelings.

Truck Driver Escapes Death

PORTLAND (AP)—A truck driver kicked out the windshield of his burning gasoline tank truck and escaped with cut hands Tuesday.

The truck overturned on the traffic interchange between S.W. Harbor Drive and the Ross Island Bridge. Burning gasoline spread over the area, and 80 firemen and 20 pieces of equipment fought the flames.

The driver, Oliver Wendell Holmes, 46, Portland, said he was driving slowly when all at once he felt the trailer lifting up over him. The trailer tipped on its side and pulled the tractor with it.

Holmes said the connection between the two may have broken.

Traffic was jammed for blocks as the truck and its 7,500 gallon gasoline cargo burned. There were explosions—possibly from tires on the truck and trailer.

Firemen kept the flames from spreading to buildings in the area.

Police Arrest Young Bombers

PORTLAND (AP)—Police caught two bombers Tuesday night. They were 13 and 14 years old.

Patrolmen saw the boys running from a street corner in north Portland, nabbed them and went back to the corner, where they found a one-ounce bottle filled with black powder.

Police said it would have caused property damage, but the fuse failed.

Chinese Girl Wins 'Race'

SEATTLE (AP)—"Happy and ecstatic" that she had won her race against time, a Chinese girl, Young Kam-Ling, stepped onto U.S. soil Tuesday night at the end of a dramatic flight that brought her from Hong Kong just before her 21st birthday, the deadline for entering the United States.

Miss Young, daughter of a Honolulu Chinese, left a Northwest Orient Airlines plane at 9 p.m. after the flight here by way of Tokyo and Anchorage, Alaska. It was three hours before her 21st birthday and met the 20-year-age limit for Chinese immigration.

Wednesday she was to undergo a medical examination in the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here, another immigration requirement. Next she plans to fly to Honolulu to join her father.

Miss Young, who was born in Chansung, China, Nov. 6, 1937, left Hong Kong Tuesday with only 12 hours to go by local time to meet the U.S. immigration deadline.

Northwest Orient Airlines held the Seattle-bound flight for 40 minutes until she arrived at Tokyo International Airport.

Actually she won the race before noon, Alaska time, Tuesday when the plane stopped at Anchorage.

Miss Young speaks no English. But an interpreter who was at the airport here said she told him she was "happy and ecstatic" at being in the United States.

Rocket Crash Date Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A group of University of California scientists has calculated that the rocket orbiting with Russia's Sputnik I will crash to earth about Dec. 11.

"That's an approximate date," said Dr. Leland E. Cunningham, UC astronomer. "We can be in error by as much as three or four days."

Cunningham said the prediction of the rocket's doom was the work of electronic computers at the university's Livermore radiation laboratory. The computers fed data supplied by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., and by Cunningham.

Cunningham said he and the Livermore technicians are trying to revise their prediction, "to make it more accurate."

"About Dec. 11," Cunningham said, "the rocket will go into a rather steep dive—all of a sudden. It's hard to say how quickly this will be."

"But we believe the rocket will be pursuing a comparatively normal orbit one day and then three or four days later it will be down."

He predicted Sputnik I will re-main aloft for at least another month.

Baby 'For Sale' Ad Explained

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP)—"Baby for sale, six inches high, big brown eyes, lovable."

This advertisement in a local paper brought A. J. Cook an avalanche of phone calls, describing him as everything from a brute to a "monster with no human feelings."

Hastening to set the record right Wednesday, Cook—a pet shop owner—told a reporter:

"I carelessly left out the first word in the advertisement. The word was 'BUSH'."

A bush baby is a lemur, a nocturnal animal from the tropics.

Mayor Of NY Re-elected By Record Vote Margin

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner won a second term last night by 920,000 votes—largest majority ever rolled up for a mayor in the history of the nation's largest city.

The son of the late New Deal senator, Robert F. Wagner Sr., amassed 1,507,342 votes to 587,440 for Republican Robert K. Christenberry, a hotel executive backed by President Eisenhower.

The size of Wagner's victory was being studied in political circles for possible national implications.

Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman was quick to say it reflected voter disillusionment with "the form of Republicanism you see in Washington under President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon."

Other Democratic leaders spoke in similar vein.

The triumph raised the question whether Democratic leaders would call upon Wagner to strive for higher office although he has said that "God willing" he will serve out his four-year term as mayor.

Wagner captured every one of the city's five boroughs and ran particularly well in Manhattan's predominantly Negro Harlem section.

Political circles had awaited the Harlem outcome with special interest to see whether its normal Democratic majorities would be reduced by the efforts of Democratic Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas to block school integration in Little Rock.

The mayor's margin in Harlem was about 4 to 1, compared with Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson's edge of about 2 to 1 in the same area in the last presidential campaign.

Space Travel Said Restful

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today that nothing could be more restful than a junket through space.

Tests have shown that human beings isolated from the pull of gravity become accustomed to weightlessness, a broadcast to North America said.

It added that this "provides the best form of rest for human beings."

Moscow radio said 16 persons took part in a series of experiments under simulated space flight conditions.

Five at first had "illusory sensations," the broadcast said. But after frequent repetitions, "Human organism becomes accustomed to it."

The largest plurality ran up previously in a mayoral race was 694,000 for Democrat William O'Dwyer in a three-cornered race in 1945.

Wagner had the Liberal party as well as the Democratic nomination but could have won on the Democratic line alone. The Liberal line on the voting machines gave him 219,096 votes.

The Democrats also scored victories upstate. They wrested majorities from the Republicans in eight cities and themselves lost control in three, for a net gain of five. Additionally, the Republicans in Oswego lost City Hall to a Liberal.

Democrats took over in Amsterdam, Canandaigua, Corning, Kingston, North Tonawanda, Lackawanna, Glenn Falls and Johnsonville, while retaining control in Buffalo, the state's second largest city.

Republicans ousted Democrats in Peekskill, Hornell and Tonawanda. The GOP won some success by gaining control of Rockland County, home county of Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Friedberg.

In statewide balloting, under local option, and rejected a proposal for a state convention in 1954 to revise and amend the state constitution.

A state constitutional amendment approved by the voters would allow bingo to be played under auspices of religious, charitable and similar nonprofit groups.

The Democrats backed the constitutional convention proposal which most of the Republican leaders opposed. The Democrats had hoped to win control of a convention and—among other things—put through a reapportionment of legislative seats.

Elected to Wagner were his two running mates, Council President Abe Stark and Comptroller Lawrence Gerosa. The Democrats also increased their representation on the 25-member City Council from 23 to 24.

Wagner, 46, campaigned on his record of what he called "efficient, honest and humane government."

Christenberry, 58, a former State Athletic Commission chairman making his first campaign for elective office, accused the administration of waste, of allowing the school system to deteriorate, and of failing to cope with crime and juvenile delinquency.

The vote in Wagner's favor piled up so rapidly that he claimed victory only 2 hours and 20 minutes after the polls closed at 7 p. m. Christenberry conceded a short time later.

Ship Okay After Storm

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—The four-masted German sailing ship Passat resumed its Atlantic voyage with all hands safe Wednesday after causing widespread alarm with distress calls Tuesday night.

The Passat's sister ship, the Pamir, was lost with 80 men Sept. 21 in a storm near the Azores. Only six of those aboard were saved.

As the Passat turned to ride out a storm Tuesday night, 500 miles southwest of the Spanish port of Vigo, its grain cargo shifted and the vessel began to list heavily.

The captain radioed the ship's operators, Zerssen and Coll, of Leubeck, Germany, but indicated no serious danger. Zerssen ordered the captain to call for aid to stand by. The firm also dispatched two rescue tugs from Vigo.

The Passat's emergency call sent the British motor vessel Rangitanga hurrying to assist. But the sailing ship righted itself by flooding a ballast tank. The cargo then was secured to balance the vessel.

Demos Elect Governor Who Favors Segregation

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Democrat J. Lindsay Almond Jr., 59, carried his pledge for a last ditch fight against any race mixing in public schools to a landslide victory for governor in yesterday's Virginia election.

The white-thatched former attorney general, who had the potent backing of the Byrd political organization, easily beat down the second challenge of Republican Ted Dalton.

Dalton lost by a 9 to 5 margin on a program that called for moderation on the school-race issue. His plan would have substituted for massive resistance a program permitting token integration—enough, he said, to satisfy the requirements of federal court orders.

Near complete returns gave Almond 63.73 per cent of a vote that topped a half million, a record for Virginia in a non-presidential election.

When The Associated Press ceased tabulation at 2 a. m. more than 9½ per cent of the vote was reported. Returns from 1854 of the state's 1908 polling places showed Almond 320,286; Dalton 182,251.

Lieutenant governor—A. E. S. Stephens (D) 309,048; Horace E. Henderson (R) 163,228.

Attorney general—Albert S. Harrison Jr. (D) 304,551; J. Livingston Dillow (R) 153,279.

Republicans made their biggest push in years to try to enlarge their representation in the 100-member Virginia House of Delegates. They came out where they went in—with six.

Dalton, with no illusions about his second challenge to the 30-year dominance of the organization headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), never claimed a victory. He hoped for a strong showing, approaching the 45 per cent he rolled up against Gov. Thomas B. Stanley four years ago when the total vote was 412,000.

The use of federal troops at Little Rock—according to the Democratic leaders—gave them all the clincher they needed.

Almond will take office January 11, three days after the 1958 Legislature convenes for its regular 60 day session. The Assembly will look to Almond for possible repair work on its legal program of massive resistance, already dented by federal court decisions. This program ultimately closes any public school which is integrated under court order. If a locality insists on operating its school in accord with the court order, state funds for similar school in that district would be cut off.

Four Virginia localities already are under federal court orders to desegregate but the effective dates have been stayed thus far by appeals.

Auto Chase Ends In Death

EUGENE (AP)—One youth died and another is in critical condition after a stolen car in which they were being chased by a state policeman failed to make a curve and crashed about 30 miles east of Oakridge at 8:37 p.m. Tuesday.

State police said David Richard, 15, of Susanville, California, died shortly after his arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital in Eugene. A second occupant of the 1955 hardtop vehicle was Clifford Miller, 15, whose condition was listed as critical. State police said the names of the youths' parents are not yet known here.

The chase began shortly after 8 p.m. Tuesday going west on Highway 58 from Highway 97 and state police said the vehicle reportedly was stolen from Susanville about 10 a.m. that morning.

The chase began at Wocus when the juveniles sped away from a service station without paying for a tank of gasoline.
