KENO PTA
 By Mrs. Leonard Ramsey
 "I would like to stay in Klamath County," said Carlisle Harley, exchange student from Costa Rica, when he visited Keno PTA with Francis Skinner and Herb Pollard on Tuesday, October 8, in the Keno School.
 Marjorie Curleman of the county health staff explained the functions of the health department to the community. They consist of well child clinic, immunization shots, mental health, and communicable diseases.
 Skinner, Klamath County 4-H agent, gave a short resume of 4-H work throughout the nation and county. He introduced Pollard, a member of the board of trustees of the First National Bank, who presented achievement pins to members of four different 4-H clubs.
 Skinner presented ribbons, won at the Oregon State Fair, to Sandra Sohrakoff, Celia Kerns, Marjorie James, Carlene Latrell and Mary Kelly.
 The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Larry Owen. Special prize was won by Lloyd Howard and room prize was won by Stan Sevruk's eighth grade. There were 48 parents present. Refreshments were served by the first grade parents.
 The next meeting is scheduled for November 12.

KLAMATH COUNTY COUNCIL PTA
 By Mrs. Alexander Luft
 "The theme of the Klamath County Museum is the history of Klamath Basin in its broadest sense," explained Roy Carlson, curator of the Klamath County Museum, when he spoke to members at the Klamath County Council PTA meeting on Tuesday, November 5, in the Keno School gymnasium.
 The continuity of the displays tells the Klamath Basin story step by step, Carlson continued. For research purposes, the museum has historical photographs and document files. The educational purpose of the museum is to show the individuality of Klamath County.
 The museum has a school services program which includes guided tours, unguided tours conducted by teacher and two room mothers, and study collections which are incentive material that schools may borrow for students to study. Dioramas, based on documentary files and research, are also available for teachers to borrow.
 The policy of the museum, Carlson explained, is that it exists entirely on things that are given or loaned to it. There is no money available to purchase things.
 The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Putnam. Mrs. Putnam read from an aricle written by Judge Virgin H. Langtry, entitled "A New Look—At First Graders," that explained some homes are constantly falling apart and not providing the basic structure in personality of children as they must. Almost any experienced grade school teacher can determine at the first grade level a substantial proportion of the children who from 8 to 10 years later are going to be known as juvenile delinquents.

 During the business meeting, the council decided to give Station KOTL-TV a certification of merit for the cooperation and time that has been devoted to PTA.
 Mrs. Ray Dunn announced that Gene Stivers would prefer to work with local PTA units on parent education study groups rather than work with the county as a whole.
 Mrs. Larry James, Mrs. John Crossline, Mrs. Marion Padgett and Mrs. Merle Anderson were in charge of refreshments.
 Mrs. Guy Moore, Mrs. Chet Burrell, Mrs. Gerald Johnson and Mrs. Larry Owen were in charge of decorations.
 The next meeting is scheduled for December 3 at Pelican School.

Weed Lions Plan 'Turkey Event'

WEED—The public is invited to attend the annual Weed Lions Club "Turkey Event" set for Monday night, November 25, at the Weed Hippodrome. Special use of the funds derived from the turkey event will be determined in a suggestion contest for a community project which is open to public entries. Leno Lenzi, general chairman of the event, will accept project suggestions until November 20.
 Projects sponsored in the past by the Lions include the original main playground, bus shelters, iron lung, floodlights at the football field, Easter egg hunt, assistance with the Weed Community Ambulance, Boy Scouts local program, and sight conservation that provided two pair of glasses and three eye refractions for local deserving children during the past year.

Nation's Flu Toll Mounts As Epidemic Hits Kansas

By UNITED PRESS
 A flu outbreak in Kansas that struck tens of thousands of persons and caused five deaths "may just be getting started," a health official warned.
 The Kansas fatalities were the first reported in the Sunflower State. With reports of flu deaths in other states, the new deaths gave the nation's influenza toll its sharpest rise in more than a week.
 A United Press tally shows that at least 500 persons have lost their lives due to Asian flu, other types of influenza, and complications of both since the outbreaks began last summer.
 Topping the nation was New York with 134 deaths, followed by Pennsylvania 99, Michigan and Ohio with 41 each, and California with 40.
 Others were Iowa, 28, Illinois and Louisiana 21 each, Wisconsin 18, Nebraska and Washington 16 each, Connecticut and Minnesota 15 each, Utah 11, Colorado and Indiana 10 each, Tennessee and Hawaii 9 each, Kentucky 8, Kansas and Oklahoma 5 each, New Jersey 4, Maryland, Missouri and Oregon 3 each, North Carolina 2, and 1 each in Arizona, Maine, and the District of Columbia.
