Alice Hein Is Autumn Bride In Yreka 1st Baptist Church

YREKA — In a fall nuptial ceremony in Yreka First Baptist Church, Alice Hein became the bride of Bobby Joe Smith on Saturday afternoon, October 19.

The bride, who has been living in Sacramento where she is employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hein of Gazelle. The bridegroom, serving at Travis Air Force Base, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Montague. Both are graduates of Yreka High School.

White gladioli decorated the altar for the candlelight service read by the Rev. L. R. Sanford.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, Alice was groomed in imported Italian silk, fashioned with exquisite lace and seed pearls at the neck and hip-line, a light fitting bodice, wrist length sleeves and a billowy hooped skirt. A small crown of pearls held her waist-length veil and her bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid tied with white satin was carried on a prayer book.

Maid of honor, Helen Easton, was attired in a gold velvet sheath with detachable overskirt of gold nylon tulle. She wore a clip hat of white feathers and carried a nosegay of white carnations and net.

The gowns of Gay Wendt of Montague and LaRay Kessner of Sacramento, bridesmaids, were similar in style of dark blue velvet. Their hats and flowers matched those of the maid of honor.

A buffet dinner was served to the 125 guests at the reception in gaily decorated Montague Hall. The beautifully decorated three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut by the newlyweds. Dancing continued until a late hour.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hein chose an afternoon frock of light blue. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white rosebuds. Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, wore an ensemble of gray lace over pink and black accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Best man, Stanley Hicks, close friend of the bridegroom, is also serving at Travis Air Force Base.

MRS. GEORGE DEVER, pictured above, is the former Rose Sayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sayers, 1921 Fargo, this city. She became the bride of Dr. George Dever on October 19 in St. Alphonsus Church, Seattle. For the 11 a.m. nuptials the bride wore a gown of antique taffeta trimmed with pearls.

A pearl-trimmed crown held her elbow length veil, and her flowers were white rosebuds with stephanotis.

Dr. Dever, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Dever, Seattle, attended Seattle University and is a graduate of Northern Illinois College of Optometry. He is a member of Omega Epsilon Phi and Tomb and Key honorary.

Rose is a graduate of KUHS, and has many local friends who will find the wedding news of interest.

Shower Fetes Louise Hubble

BONANZA — A bridal shower was given at the Bonanza Library at 8 o'clock October 30, in honor of Louise Hubble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King Hubble of Bonanza. Louise will be married on November 11 at Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church to Wayne Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dye also of Bonanza.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Jack Weiner, Mrs. Bill Burnett, Mrs. Mae Gale, Mrs. Charles Roberts Sr., Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Lester Leavitt.

An arrangement of chrysanthemums in fall colors was focal point on the gift table, and a white wedding cake topped with two wedding bells and inscribed "Louise and Wayne" in pink frosting centered the refreshment table. The cake was baked and decorated by Richard Roberts, friend of the couple.

Thirty-five friends attended the party and some who were unable to attend sent gifts and good wishes. Her three sisters, Mrs. Margie Newnam, Mrs. Lois Hard and Mrs. Wilma Roberts helped her open her gifts.

How To Last Until Xmas And Get Shopping Done, Too

The exciting whirl of holiday parties is fast approaching. And so is the frantic rush of Christmas shopping which is as much a part of the season as the fun.

At this time of year, we want to look our prettiest. Yet we feel we must employ every beauty trick we know. For in this gala season, there is so much to do and so little time in which to do it.

Short cuts must be made in the regular beauty routine, and by all means make them. But if you want to look your sparkling best, don't give in to the temptation to skip the job entirely—not even for just one night.

A day spent fighting crowds of Christmas shoppers may leave you tired and grimy. But don't drop into bed without thoroughly cleansing your skin. First suds gently with soap and water. Then spread a deep-reaching facial cleansing lotion over your face and neck. Work it into your skin, tissue it off, and you've removed every trace of grime. The creamy film that remains keeps your skin soft and smooth.

You'll get to bed a few minutes later, but your complexion will be clear and pretty in the morning.

To save time in hair care and still keep your tresses shining, one manufacturer offers a crystal-clear, fast-lathering shampoo that is claimed to eliminate the need for that extra rinse with vinegar or lemon to cut dulling film.

With everyone in high holiday spirits, dates are likely to crop up frequently. And the interpenetrating weather, so typical of this time of year, can play havoc with anyone's hairdo. It's a good idea to keep hair spray at the office as well as at home.

There's a new self-styling hair spray on the market that should be extremely helpful for quick setting. It dries faster than water and gives body to the hair, making the curl last longer.

If you've no time to set your hair before going out for an evening, just spray it before combing. Then when you comb, push the curl exactly where you want it. It will stay in place, the makers say, and can be refreshed by merely flicking a damp comb through the waves and pushing them back into place.

Here's a trick to remove the tired lines from your face if you've got to go out after a rugged Christmas shopping session. Take ten minutes to soak your feet in a basin of hot, sudsy water. You can do your nails or some other beauty chore at the same time, and you'll feel the tension lessen and quickly disappear.

Take advantage of every short cut to beauty that you know, and the rigors of the holiday season won't detract from your appearance just at the time you want to look your loveliest.

ANNOUNCEMENT was recently made by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle F. Gervais, Beverly Heights, of the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to A-2c John H. Say, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Say, Henley District. He was graduated from Henley High School in 1956 and is now finishing the course in electronic fundamentals at Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado. The bride-elect was graduated from Sacred Heart Academy in 1957. No wedding date has been set. — Photo by Miller-Williams

XMAS HINTS FOR THE MAN IN YOUR LIFE

One man of our acquaintance solves his Christmas shopping problem by simply making out a list of gifts for whom he's buying, and listing opposite each name: handkerchiefs. Or, some years, the list reads: stockings.

This is one man's solution. To each his own. But if he wants to, he can, with very little shopping around, give each lady of his acquaintance a different gift.

American stores, like stores in no other country in the world, are crammed at Christmas time with shimmering and-or useful gifts, whatever the lady's taste.

In the matter of bags, he can give her (if she's teen-age) a leather clutch bag personalized with her first name. In the hand, closed, it's slim and flat. But opened to its full length, it's roomy and holds a lot. Budget-priced, too.

If she's past teen-age, she'll cherish an imported French evening bag. This is a clutch, too, but one with great sophistication.

Thousands of white beads are hand-sewn together to make the bag. The front has a garland of embroidered roses in delicate shades of pink.

Lingerie is always a gift that women welcome. Robes were never prettier than they are this year. Any girl would feel cherished if she were given a quilted robe that's trimmed with ribbons and ruffles.

Costume jewelry and stockings are two gifts that women always hope for. If you want to give her lots of glitter to fill in a decolete neckline, pick a five-strand bib of crystals and pearls. Pick from topaz, black diamond or sapphire colors and add bracelet and earrings for a really luxurious gift.

When a woman gets stockings at Christmas time, she wants them to be sheer and beautiful. But be sure to get the stocking size before you shop.

Keeping white crib sheets white is simpler during sunny months. Dip sheets into rich soap or detergent suds. Without rinsing, hang them in the sun to dry. Follow this with a laundering. When bleaching such items, give them at least three hot rinses to flush away all bleach.
