Montague Soldier To Return Home

MONTAGUE — Mrs. Lola Tyler has received word that her son, SP-3 Richard Tyler, with the Army's Armored Division in Germany, will be home for Thanksgiving. He wrote he would be in New York on November 14 and receive his discharge at Oakland after two years of service.

He has received the motor vehicle mechanic badge, second place award in his company as sub-machine gun expert and recently the Good Conduct Medal.

Dick was born and raised in Montague and is a graduate of Yreka High School. Prior to entry into the armed forces he was a manager of the Home Market at Yreka.

Mrs. Tyler, accompanied by her granddaughter and Dick's niece, Carol Ann Walker Winningham; Evelyn Tyler and Mrs. Rita McNeil (Dick's sisters); and Johnny McNeil, a nephew, will all be on hand at Oakland to welcome Dick home. Another sister, Mary Norman, lives at Klamath Falls.

Xmas Tree Plans Fizzle

BERLIN — Communist planning went haywire in the Christmas tree department yesterday.

For weeks East Berliners have been waiting for the erection of a promised noel tree—a 100-year-old, 110-foot giant—on Marx-Engels Platz, the city's Red Square.

Finally, out of the forest of Thuringa the shimmering pine was hauled into the square. Enthusiastic citizens gathered to watch complicated cable machinery raise the tree.

The cables went berserk. One pulled one way, the other another way, and the tree snapped in two. As the pieces were being hauled away, Neues Deutschland, the Communist party newspaper, rushed into print with the comforting news that the Red regime has sent an urgent order to Thuringa: Get another tree quick.

Heart Ailment Claims Life Of Czechoslovakian Leader

VIENNA (AP)—Antonin Zapotocky, one of the leaders in the Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia and its president since 1953, died early today in Prague after more than two years of heart trouble.

Radio Prague announced the death. The veteran Communist would have been 73 next month.

He had been in poor health since suffering a severe heart attack in August 1955. Nine days ago he had another heart attack and the Prague Sanatorium said last night his condition had deteriorated.

Zapotocky was one of the founders of the Communist party in Czechoslovakia. That was in 1921, a year after a meeting in Russia with Lenin which began a lasting loyalty to the Soviet Union.

Conservative in his communism, Zapotocky did not go along with the policy changes of Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov after Stalin died in 1953. Under his influence as president, Czechoslovakia retained the memory and symbolism of Stalinism after Nikita Khrushchev began to chip away at them in Russia.

Despite some arrests of youths, Czechoslovakia under Zapotocky remained quiet when Poland on one side and Hungary on the other were inflamed last fall with anti-Soviet feeling.

In Vienna, Antonin Novotny, first secretary of the Czechoslovak Communist party, and Jaromir Dolansky, deputy premier and a member of the party Politburo, were considered favorites to succeed Zapotocky. Prime Minister Vilem Siroky is a Slovak, and the presidency so far has not gone to that minority group.

Zapotocky was born Dec. 19, 1884, into an atmosphere of revolution. His father, a tailor, in an industrial area near Kladno, was one of the founders of the first Socialist party in that part of what was then the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Zapotocky sided with the extreme left when the Czech Socialist party split in 1920, leading to founding of the Communist party. In 1929 he became secretary of the Communist Trade Union Federation and began to build a popularity with workers that later helped him to the presidency.

Imprisoned by the Germans from 1939 until 1945, Zapotocky returned to Prague after World War II and worked with Klement Gottwald, virtual boss of the Czech Communist party. With Russian backing, they seized power in 1948 and turned Czechoslovakia into a Soviet satellite.

Gottwald became president and Zapotocky was premier from 1948 to 1953, when Gottwald died.

After 1953 Zapotocky remained in the background of Czech public life. With collective leadership the Communist by-word after Stalin died, no "cult of personality" was built up about Zapotocky.

China Charges Plot By U.S.

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio charged today that American-made arms seized by Hong Kong police last weekend were intended for Nationalist Chinese sabotage and terrorist activities in Red China.

The radio, quoting Communist newspapers in Hong Kong, said the arms had been brought into Hong Kong from Formosa and hidden here by American and Chinese Nationalist secret agents.

Hong Kong police over the weekend seized two caches of American-made arms, including 16 pistols and eight submachineguns. They arrested five Chinese men and three women but refused to say where the arms came from or what was to be their use.

Mrs. Bowles has postponed telling her father of his wife's death until after his birthday because of the effect the news might have.

Williams' advice for a long life is, "Lead a clean, moral life, get up for breakfast, stay around for dinner and go to bed with supper."

He has boasted that he would live to be 120.

"My grandpappy lived to 119," he said once. "I'm going to beat that. Don't see why I can't if nothing turns up."
