

Ore Tech Drops JC Athletics Affiliation

Oregon Tech, which since its beginning in 1948, has competed athletically as a junior college has withdrawn from the National Junior College Athletic Association.

"This was made necessary because more and more athletes are expressing interest in the school's advanced courses," announced Rex Hunsaker, the Tech School's Athletic Director. "We feel that inasmuch as a four year school conference is natural now to consider competition with the four year schools in this area."

Tech, though listed as a junior college, has competed on even terms with members of the Oregon Collegiate Conference. They recently placed third in the football race and last season captured both the track and basketball championships.

"We have thoroughly enjoyed our competitive relationships among junior colleges," stated Hunsaker. "This competition has included two of the top junior college teams of the nation, Compton College from California, and Boise JC from Idaho, as well as junior college competition in the states of Washington and Utah."

"This merely means that we are announcing a policy of using athletes in their junior and senior years and so therefore we are no longer eligible to belong to the National Junior College Athletic Association."

"Several junior college teams have indicated interest in continuing on our schedule and inasmuch

Fullmer May Meet Champ

NEW YORK (UP) — Manager Marv Jensen disclosed today he had a guaranteeing letter from Jim Norris that would enable him to force a middleweight title fight in case Gene Fullmer beats Neal Rivers at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Fullmer won the 169-pound crown from Sugar Ray Robinson last Jan. 22, Jensen explained. Fullmer consented to defend against Robinson indoors at Chicago Stadium on May 1, because of the letter of guarantee from Norris, Jensen explained. And Gene lost his title on a fifth-round knockout.

The letter to Jensen, dated April 23 — a week before the Chicago fight — and apparently signed by Norris, reads:

"Dear Marv: This will confirm our understanding. In the event Gene Fullmer defeats Ray Robinson in the middleweight title fight on May 1, then the International Boxing Club will promote a fight in New York between Gene Fullmer and Carmen Basilio for the middleweight championship of the world."

"In the event Robinson defeats Fullmer, then the winner of the Robinson-Basilio contest will meet Gene Fullmer in a middleweight contest. Fullmer is rated second only to Robinson among contenders, and if he beats unranked Rivers Friday night, Jensen said, "I'll insist that Fullmer gets the first title shot at Basilio, in case Robinson retires and doesn't fight him."

"Or, if Robinson decides to fight Basilio, I'll insist — by legal means, if necessary — that both Robinson and Basilio sign contracts, guaranteeing that the winner will defend against Fullmer."

as we will have a limited number of advanced athletes we will be pleased to have them do so."

W. D. Parvine, director of Oregon Tech confirmed withdrawal from the National Junior College Athletic Association due to several three year curricular offerings.

"We believe it necessary to clearly define our educational objectives in fairness to some junior colleges who have expressed concern," stated Mr. Parvine.

UCLA Backs Athletic Plan For Full Ride

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA's faculty representative in the Pacific Coast Conference, has recommended that college athletes be given the "full ride" — tuition, books, board and room.

Dr. Kaplan, who also is chairman of the U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year, offered his views at a news conference following a Bruin Varsity Club banquet Wednesday night.

The educator endorsed in part the stand taken by Ohio State University faculty men who say a re-definition of amateurism is needed in college sports.

"I don't think that football players and other athletes should share in the gate receipts and that sort of thing," Dr. Kaplan said. "But I think they should get a reasonable support for their contribution."

"I don't think an athlete should come out of college with a profit, but I also don't think he should take a loss. He should receive the essentials — board, room, books and tuition."

He suggested that representative groups of athletes and other students from Pacific Coast Conference schools might get together and formulate a set of standards.

"I'm confident their proposals would be modest and practical. After all, the faculty people have failed to solve the problem, so why not let the students have a try?"

Dr. Kaplan called the Ohio State recommendation a move in the right direction, and added:

"I would like to see the idea picked up and developed to the extent of defining an amateur in college sports as one who comes out, even when he graduates,

Machen Batters Hurricane Flu, Injuries For TKO Victory In Tenth Hit Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A title fight, low blows and possibilities of retirement formed boxing topics today after undefeated heavyweight Eddie Machen slammed and battered Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson into surrender.

The 195-pound Machen, 25, of Redding, Calif., wants the championship bout with Floyd Patterson. He has an added talking point since his televised fight with Jackson last night goes into the record as a 10th-round TKO, the same as Patterson scored over the Hurricane July 29.

Jackson and Manager Lippe Briedbart declared Eddie hit several low blows in taking his 24th straight victory. Machen said he didn't hit below the belt knowing Referee Frankie Carter didn't assess any penalties for low punches.

With Jackson's right eye puffed closed at the end of the 10th, Briedbart called Carter over to view the damage and Frankie stopped it. The fight was scheduled for 12 rounds.

"I recommend that the fight be stopped," said Briedbart. Asked if he would have Jackson retire after the two consecutive batterings by Patterson and Machen, Lippe replied: "He'll have to take a long rest. Retirement is up to him."

The Hurricane, from St. Albans, N.Y., who weighed his heaviest at 201 for this one, had little to say. Asked what he thought Machen could do against Patterson, he said only: "It'd be a good fight. Who'd win? I dunno."

Jackson went down for a five count in the first round when he took a left and a right to the head. But from then on he remained upright although staggered repeatedly and wincing visibly under Machen's body attack.

"I thought my left hooks to the body and head hurt him the most," Machen declared.

Patterson had knocked the Hurricane down three times before Referee Ruby Goldstein called a halt after 1:52 of the 10th in their July 29 engagement.

Despite that beating, Jackson's appearance here drew 14,107 fans to the Cow Palace. They paid a gross of $56,877.50.

Sid Flaherty, who manages Machen, said, "Our next move is up to Patterson, if he wants to fight us. If Patterson wants to fight Eddie, we're ready to talk business. If not, maybe we'll go to Europe for some bouts."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Asian flu does strange things. It had the world champion New York Giants talking "trouble" today as they prepared for their Sunday National Football League game with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The flu numbered all-league halfback Frank Gifford among its victims last week, and he promptly ran feverishly for 126 yards Sunday as the Giants whipped the Chicago Cardinals 27-14. That was trouble.

Yesterday the virus clipped Gene Filipki, and Jim Patton came up with an old-fashioned chafley horse. Those two lead the club in punt and kickoff returns.

Another regular defensive back, Dick Nolan, is still hospitalized with the flu.

The only defensive backs left unbedded were rookie John (Rebel) Bookman, Ed Hughes, Ed Crawford and Emilen Tunnell.

That means the defensive backfield will be thin Sunday if the ailing Giants are still on the shelf. It will also mean Tunnell, aided by Bookman, will have to run back most of the Philadelphia kicks. But that's trouble?

Back in 1953, before Patton and Filipki were ever measured for pro uniforms, Tunnell set the NFL season record for most punts returned — 38 for 223 yards.

One year he rolled up more than 850 yards with punt and kickoff returns and intercepted passes.

Major Teams Await Drawing

NEW YORK (UP) — Big league clubowners hold their annual "barge basement day" on Dec. 2 at Colorado Springs, Colo., when they study a list of minor leaguers that range from "octogenarian" Satchel Paige to Nippy Jones, a real live World Series hero of 1957.

The rummage sale, better known as the annual draft, is a feature of the major league meetings. For as little as $2,000 or as much as $15,000, an owner can take the chance that his choice will blossom into a star. Few choices do but the owners don't stop trying.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who supervises the drawing, announced that player selected from the open classification will go for $15,000. Triple A players are available for $10,000, double A for $7,500, Class A for $6,000, Class B for $4,000, Class C for $2,500 and Class D for $2,000.

Most of the players selected come from the top two brackets. The Washington Senators will get first pick, as befits their eighth-place standing in the American League, followed by the Pittsburgh Pirates, the eighth-place National League team. The world champion Milwaukee Braves have the 16th choice.

GIANTS ON MOVE

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The baseball Giants have completed their move to San Francisco — baggage and even turnstiles. Three semi-trailers completed an eight-day trip from New York Wednesday with desks, file cabinets, trophy cases, bats, gloves, ticket dispensers and turnstiles.

Owls Host Centralia To End Grid Season

The OTI Owls ignored the rain Wednesday and slushed through a muddy practice session Wednesday in preparation for their final game of the 1957 season against Centralia Junior College Saturday night on Modoc Field.

The team received a shot in the morale department last Saturday when they trampled the Humboldt State Junior Varsity team, racking up a completely lopsided 59-13 victory over the Junior Jacks.

For the first time since way back at the beginning of the season the Owl air attack took on some resemblance of a polished offense, with quarterback Charlie Ganter completing two scoring tosses to Allen Leach.

But it was the ground attack which was the major difference as play after play the Owl backs were able to rip off long canters through gaping holes in the Humboldt line.

OTI coach Rex Hunsaker reports all of the team are in good physical condition, and for the first time this season all of the team members will be ready to go full tilt in Saturday's game.

He said Gary Riley still has a sore shoulder, but that this will be gone by Saturday.

No changes in the starting lineup are contemplated by Hunsaker and he feels he will probably play just about everyone — if the situation will allow it.

Centralia will come into Owl territory with a few bumps and bruises and with only a three day rest. Centralia fell to the strong Yakima Junior College eleven Tuesday, 18-6.

The Owls in their second outing of the season fell to Yakima 13-6, in an extremely hard fought ground game, with Yakima's victory coming via a 200-pound transfer from Washington State.

The Ore Tech Owls and the Centralia Blazers battled to a 7-7 tie last season, with the Owls having to scramble a score across the goal line in the final quarter to deadlock the game.

But Rex Hunsaker and a few of the boys who played in that game are out to chalk up more than just an even-steven fray this season.

The statistics department of last year's game gives anything but a clear picture of the fray. The Owls led in every department and contained the Blazers to their own side of the field except for two deep penetrations.

While on the other side of the ledger, the Owls were constantly knocking around down in pay-dirt territory, but the Centralia defense proved to be too tough to crack within the 10-yard line.

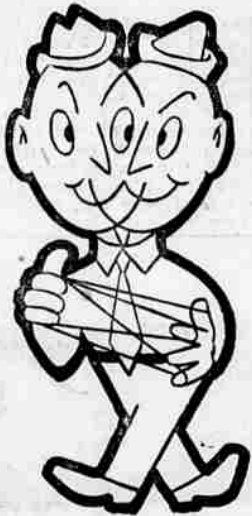

Hunsaker feels the Owls have a real good chance to wrap up the season with a victory over the Blazers.

Centralia, on the other hand, can be expected to trot into town with its usual rough and tumble style of football that is capable of upsetting anybody's plans.

With neither team possessing a dazzling passing offense, Saturday's game shapes up to present local football fans a fine showing of bruising ground play.

MR. UNIVERSE WINS

TEHERAN, Iran (UP) — The Russians may have run off with the team title but Tommy Kono of Sacramento, Calif., won the most individual gold medals in the world weight-lifting championships. Kono, who won the middleweight title Monday, was named "Mr. Universe" Wednesday.
