Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gaster Are Feted At Open House On Golden Wedding Day

A host of local friends and a number from other Oregon and California towns attended the 2 to 4 p.m. open house on November 3, honoring Golden Wedding couple, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Gaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaster's three sons and their wives were hosts for the Sunday afternoon celebration at the home of the Paul Gasters, 1835 Portland. He and his wife, Edith, have two teen-age daughters, Annette and Darlene, who assisted.

Albert and his wife, Dorothy, with their daughter and son, Karen and Garvin, were here from Napa, California; and Bill and his wife, Mae, came from Coos Bay. Their daughter, Leola, was unable to be here on that date.

Among the friends from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Wilse Gamill, Burney, California. Their friendship with the Gasters dates back almost to the Gaster's wedding day on November 3, in Randolph, Louisiana, where all of them were then residents. The bride was Mary Ellen Cheek before her marriage to Sam Gaster at her mother's home in Randolph. They came to Klamath Falls 22 years ago, and live at 2617 Homedale Road. He was with Kesterson Lumber Company until he retired a few years ago. Both have been for many years identified with Masonic bodies.

The collarless corduroy vest in bright red is a fashion that teen-agers adore. Budget-priced for a teen-age purse, too.

Couple Is United At Home Wedding

LAKEVIEW—At an informal home wedding, Friday evening, November 8, Valdene Lewis became the bride of Stanley A. Wood at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Wood, Lakeview.

The Rev. C. Wayne Juller officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clyde Lewis of Lakeview.

Candlelight and baskets of bronze and yellow mums decorated the background. The couple was unattended and guests included members of the family and very close friends.

The bride's gown was of white nylon lace, with a ballerina length skirt fashioned in tiers of ruffles. The lace bolero was made with long sleeves and a peter pan collar. Her headpiece was a bandeau of matching lace and she carried a white Bible with ribbon streamers and white orchid with lilies-of-the-valley bouquet.

For the wedding, Mrs. Lewis wore a navy crepe afternoon dress with white accessories. Mrs. Wood chose frock of printed taffeta, with avocado accessories.

At the reception immediately following the ceremony the wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Helen Hickley, sister of the bride. Pouring were Mrs. Alvas Elliott Jr., and Mrs. John Higgins. At the gift table was Mrs. Herschel Cossey.

A sheath dress of green Japanese brocade, with black duster and accessories, and the orchid from her bouquet, was the going-away costume of the bride. Following a short trip through the Redwoods the couple is at home in Lakeview. The bride is a 1957 graduate of Lakeview High School. He also attended high school here, spent four years in the U.S. Navy, and is now district assistant in the Thomas Creek District of the Fremont Forest.

A young girl who religiously scrubs her face with soap and water is following good beauty habits. However, if she tends to dry skin, she will need to substitute a cleansing cream for soap and water during the day.
