Mrs. Roberta Blomquist, head of the drama department of KUHS, has directed the casts. The meeting will open promptly at 2 p.m.

School Safety Check Backed

DUNSMUIR — The Dunsuir Elementary School should be checked for fire and safety standards, the board decided at its monthly meeting at the school on Tuesday evening.

Roger Ellis, superintendent, was asked at the meeting to phone the state fire marshal requesting an appraisal at his earliest convenience. The board members also decided to hold a policy meeting sometime this month to decide whether or not to proceed with purchase of a school site since the defeat on the $135,000 bond issue on November 5.

A letter was read from one of the property owners of the site now being considered stating an unwillingness to see the property used for that purpose.

Twenty-six absentee ballots were counted: 17 yes, 9 no. This brought the total bond issue vote to 479 yes, 421 no, with 10 ballots not tallied because they were not properly marked.

In other business, the board authorized purchase of additional shop equipment, and a photocopy machine for the office and authorized Roger Ellis to determine a fair rental for the auditorium for convention use.

Plane Victims Coming Home

HONOLULU (UP)—The aircraft carrier Philippine Sea headed for Long Beach, Calif., Saturday with the charred wreckage of the Pan American Stratocruiser "Romance of the Skies" and the bodies of 19 of the 44 persons who were aboard for its last flight.

Hope of finding the other 25 persons, either alive or dead, was virtually snuffed out Friday night when the week-long search was officially called off.

The Navy said none of the 19 bodies recovered had been positively identified.

There was still no explanation as to what caused the double-decked luxury aircraft to plunge into the ocean last Friday on a flight from San Francisco to Hawaii, but Navy experts said it was obviously in trouble and possibly a fire.

None of the bodies recovered wore shoes and 12 of them had on life jackets, indicating that they were following standard ditching procedure for aircraft in trouble over water.

CIT Prepares Rocket Punch

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—Scientists at the California Institute of Technology's jet propulsion laboratory have been assigned the job of preparing the payload of the Army's first satellite to be fired early next year.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the jet lab, said Friday that his organization also would help in modifying the Army's Jupiter-C rocket to send the satellite whirling around the world.

The 20-pound, cylindrical satellite, loaded with instruments to measure cosmic rays, will be fired into space from Florida early next year, probably between Jan. 1 and the end of March, according to Pickering.

The noted scientist said that while the Army's program was part of United States International Geophysical Year activity it was in addition to the Navy's Vanguard satellite program.

Dr. Pickering said he didn't know whether the Army or the Navy would be "up" first but he indicated that it didn't make any difference in any case.

Part of the task of getting the Army's satellite up is the modification of the Jupiter-C rocket, the scientist said. He pointed out that the rocket was designed as a weapon and not as a device to carry a man-made moon.

The payload which will be hurled into space and stay an integral part of the rocket is being constructed at the University of Iowa, under the direction of Dr. J. A. Van Allen, Pickering said.

PT&T Pays 57-58 Property Taxes

Pacific Telephone, Friday, paid its 1957-58 property taxes in Klamath County.

Manager R. C. Bailey said a check for $115,339.22, the net prompt payment, has been mailed to Sheriff and Tax Collector Murray (Red) Britton.

The telephone company's Klamath County tax bill this year was $4,145.12 more than in 1956-57—an increase of about four per cent. Throughout the state Pacific Telephone paid property taxes totaling $4,552,975.50. The figure was up $613,504.79 or about 15 per cent higher than the previous year.

Bailey pointed out that though the property tax is paid by the company, it is telephone customers who actually foot the bill. Their monthly bill payments are the company's only source of revenue to meet all of its operating expenses, including taxes, he said.

P.T.A.

PELICAN By Mrs. Nello Pierucial Father's Night was a big event at Pelican School Wednesday, November 13. All rooms were open for visitation from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., and many parents came to see what their children had accomplished so far this year.

Charles McLin, principal, introduced the main speaker, Joe LaClair of the Instructional Material Department. LaClair, with the use of charts, film and models, explained the progress in the educational field. He emphasized that we acquire learning and knowledge from 87 per cent eyes, seven per cent ears, three and one-half per cent sense of touch, one and one-half per cent sense of taste and one per cent sense of smell.

Because of the large percentage of knowledge gained through eyesight, films are playing an important part in the field of education. LaClair had been principal of Pelican at one time.

Boy Scouts, Joe Matlick and Jimmy Dye gave a talk and demonstration on first aid.

PTA President Mrs. Archie McClurg presided at the meeting.

Mrs. McClurg announced Klamath County Council will hold its next meeting at Pelican December 3. Everyone is welcome.

McLin announced that Pelican will have their big program this fall with upper grades participating. An operetta, "Jack and the Beanstalk" under the supervision of Mrs. Jane Craig, will be held November 22 at 7:45 p.m. McLin also announced the room Christmas parties will be held as usual.

Mrs. Donna Brown announced the Christmas party for pre-school children will be held December 20 at 1 p.m. in the playroom. Santa Claus will be present with treats.

The association presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Virginia Scapple for special services.

Mrs. Dale Watson was elected treasurer replacing Mrs. Walt Schweigert who has moved out of the Pelican District.

The flag salute was led by Boy Scouts Louis Leppert and John Wright.

Corsages and fancy work were sold before and after the meeting. Mrs. Beth Ness' second grade and Mr. Stafford Thomas' sixth grade won the room prize with the most parent attendance. Special prize, a year's subscription to the National Parent-Teacher magazine, was won by Mr. and Mrs. R. I. McNutt.

During refreshments, which were served by the third grade room mothers, Mrs. Ness played a variety of selections on the piano. Mrs. Vic Hartell, Mrs. Agnes Larson and Mrs. Ida Edsall were in charge of child care.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 13. Host will be Rod Groshong.

Ex-Residents Live In Africa

The singing of the West African people at church services has thrilled the Rev. William Ainley and Mrs. Ainley, former residents of Klamath County, now living in West Africa. Voices blended in remarkable harmony and enthusiasm for vocal music often permits the melodies to be heard for miles. On one recent trip to a Spanish Guinea church, 2,000 Christians joined in the service.

Here the pastor and his family lived for a weekend in a thatched-roof mud house. During their stay, three new African pastors were ordained. No signs, bells or drums are allowed during the Christian services.

Rev. and Mrs. Ainley who served the Mt. Laki Community Church for three years before leaving for their mission work abroad, are being taught the Bulu language by a church elder, Bilunga, and a village headman and lay preacher, named Ngan. Rev. Ainley, with the help of his teachers, preached his first sermon in the Bulu language on September 15.

They are currently at home in a neat, one-story cottage at B. P. 13, Ambam, French Cameroun, West Africa, where letters will reach them.
