Girls Form New Group

By BETTY YANCEY

Pelicanettes, a new school organization, was organized to create and promote school spirit, to give assistance to other clubs upon request, to present dance routines and drills during basketball games and when requested by other organizations, and to be an organized cheering section.

Carla Tomlin, president; Jackie Dahn, vice president; Carol Morrison, secretary and Judy Cross, treasurer were voted to preside as officers for the club this school year. Mrs. Tucker and Miss Grant are advisers for the club.

Membership is open to any junior or senior girl who has a 3.0 grade average when applying for membership and who exhibits school spirit and an interest in school activities.

Meetings of this club are held every Wednesday or the president or adviser may call a special meeting if necessary.

Official uniform of the club is white sweaters with a dancing Pelican emblem on the front and "Pelicanettes" written in script on back, red culottes and red and white saddle shoes.

Activities in progress this year include learning different hand motions, several dance routines and several yell.

Pelicanettes are planning several more activities in the near future and urge participation in school activities.

Odds & Ends

By Ronnie Owens

As they say, nothing keeps the mail from going through. So, does nothing stop the many activities around KU. Tuesday, November 12, three clubs met. Science Club had slides about wildlife, while Math Club had a film on the binary system. Future Business Leaders initiated new members and installed their officers. Another very busy organization is Future Nurses. They had their planning ceremony of new members, Tuesday, October 29. They also had their El Rodeo pictures taken Wednesday, November 13.

Thursday night, November 14, was Parents and Patrons visitation at KU, coinciding with National Education Week. It's a good thing some students' parents weren't visiting KU Wednesday, November 6. REPORT CARD day! It's really amazing to see bright, cheerful faced people suddenly pale and turn green.

At last the long-awaited day. Wednesday, November 13, the junior class decided on the style for their class rings. They are attractive Starline rings with rainbow colored settings. They are to be ordered from the Master Engraver's Company.

Would you like a slave? If so, be downtown in front of Penney's store, December 7. The junior class at KU, under President Jim Compton, will auction off class members to the highest bidder. The slaves will perform any job the buyer wishes, such as washing cars, babysitting, shoveling snow or helping in the house.

Well, now that the football season is over, it will soon be time for basketball. The basketball jamboree will be held in Medford. This is a gathering of all the schools. They each play one another for quarter periods. The Pels will sport their first basketball game, December 13, with Springfield at Springfield.

Once again this year KU's team will have the backing of Glen Moore. Glen has the honor of being selected by Dell Basketball Magazine the second best player in the state of Oregon. Congratulations, Glen.

I have to run now — don't want to miss a minute of this snow. Here's snowballs to you.

Students Get Polio Shots

By MARGIE SHIELDS

Dr. S. M. Kerron, county health officer, administered the polio shots Wednesday, November 6. The clinic was held from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. in the girls' gym of Klamath Union High School.

Two hundred thirty nine students received the vaccine. Assisting Dr. Kerron were Miss Hilda Boyle, R.N., Mrs. Hugh Curran, R.N., Mrs. Marvin Nersteth and the members of Future Nurses of KUHS.

Following the clinic, Mrs. Margaret Strode, school nurse, stated, "I am very pleased with the number of students who took advantage of the clinic at this time and hope that more of the teenage group will receive the vaccine at the next clinic."

December 4 is the tentative date for the next polio clinic.

Dance Held For Students

By BETTY YANCEY

Klamath Falls Loyal Order of the Moose sponsored an all high school dance on the night of Halloween, October 31, at the armory in Klamath Falls.

The lodge sponsors a Halloween dance every year for the benefit of keeping high school teenagers off of mischief on such a holiday. All the dances are well chaperoned and this year it featured The Starlighters for the dance band.

Music varied from rock-and-roll to waltzes and all types of dances. Just high school students were allowed to attend if they had received tickets which were passed out during school that day. The tickets that were passed out had a pledge on them so that everyone had to pledge oneself to stay out of mischief that night. Approximately 300 students attended the dance, which started about 8 and continued until 11:30.

Elections of all officers except fourth vice president shall take place at least four weeks before the end of the school year. Voting shall be carried out by secret ballot before the election board appointed by the adviser of Student Congress.

Rehearsal Starts For Concert Band

By MARGIE SHIELDS

Klamath Union High School's Concert Band under the direction of LaMar Jensen started rehearsal last Tuesday, November 12. During an interview, Mr. Jensen said, "With all the students in band, there would probably be two concert bands. Concert band 'A' would be made up of students serious about their instruments and they would play serious music. Whereas Concert Band 'B' would not be as far advanced." Concert Band 'B' will be under the direction of Mr. Steven Stone.

There are three new music rooms in the new wing, two of which will be used by the bands; one by the 'A' concert and one by the 'B' concert.

During a fire drill, students must walk rapidly, but walk only, and stay in a double line.

Sweaters Top Fashion News

By SHIRLEY STILLWELL

Sputnik, the Thanksgiving holidays, and the latest fashions seem to be the leading topics of discussion this fall, and with good reason. Sweaters for both boys and girls have become a necessity in the average high school student's wardrobe. Bulky knits for the girls, and shaggy bags for the boys are the current additions to this popular mode of dress.

Sweaters of every style and color, some dyed to match skirts and socks, novelty sweaters with buttons and collars for trimming, along with fur blends, and the ever popular pullovers and cardigans often making up a set or separates are seen in the halls and classrooms of Klamath Union High School.

Fashions for boys, until recently, had little tendency to change from one season to the next throughout the year, but within the last year they have become varied and colorful.

Couples have adopted a trend of recent origin in which the girl wears her boy friend's shaggy bag as a symbol of their going steady. This idea is becoming increasingly popular.

Class Learns Value Of Cooperation

By CHUCK JARRETT

Mr. Arvel Smith, woodworking instructor, said that nearly 160 boys in the two advanced and four beginning classes are learning the value of class cooperation.

During an interview a short time ago Mr. Smith stated that the main purpose of the woodworking department is to introduce boys into woodworking. He mentioned that the students have certain required projects which must be completed, but upon their completion personal projects may be worked upon. These boys also learn to work safely and conscientiously in this class.

Equipment is of the finest quality and all tools are supplied by the school and materials are bought by the students for their projects. This is a two year course, according to the instructor, but boys who are interested in further instruction may take the course for a longer time by working as instructor aids.

Mayor Slates Heritage Day

By NELETA DUNLAP

"I, Mayor Lawrence E. Slater, of the city of Klamath Falls, Oregon, do hereby proclaim that November 23, 1957, shall be set aside and designated as Heritage Day."

In observance with the mayor's proclamation the Klamath County Young Republicans have planned a full schedule for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Sig Unander and Mark Hatfield will be present during the day's activities. Activities for the day are as follows: A coffee hour at Chilquin, meet Mark Hatfield at Kingsley Field, Young Republicans luncheon, coffee hour, press conference at Herald and News, coffee hour, interview over KFLW, television appearance over KOTI-TV and the banquet at the First Presbyterian Church.

Students Keep Halls Clean

By NELETA DUNLAP

As a candy eater from way back I'm really grateful for the clean halls in Klamath Union High School. When Mr. Carlson and the Student Council decided no candy would be sold unless the halls were kept clean I could hear myself groaning and moaning with all sorts of hunger pains, but the students came through and used the wastebaskets at the ends of the halls.

As usual their are one or two bad apples in every barrel, but more than one student has bent over and picked up the wrappers the "bad apples" dropped. If our halls are clean they have a farther reaching effect than the one on our stomachs. When salesmen and other people who travel around the state high schools come into ours and see the litter, it is quite probable that they will tell of our chaos in other schools. We can't rest on past laurels, so let's keep the halls clean.

Class Rings

Junior class rings were chosen from Master Engravers and Crown Engravers and put on display for the junior class.

Sue Boyd, Judy Cullimore, Jim Hall, Rudy Hedberg, Ron House, David Majors, Eugene Ochs, Lois Sneed, Stephanie Walker, and Linda Yuen make up the Class Ring Committee.

After a vote is taken to see what the junior class thinks, the committee will make its final vote.

Announcing... an entirely new kind of charge account designed especially for Klamath Basin high school students... available only to Klamath Basin high school students.

Teen Accounts

EXCLUSIVE WITH HOUSE OF SHOES

Your Credit Is Your HONOR!

AVAILABLE TO ALL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN THE KLAMATH BASIN!

BECAUSE we at House of Shoes have great faith in the responsibility and good judgment of Young Americans, we have devised a special way of permitting high school students to charge purchases to their own account.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS: On his or her own signature, a teen-account customer may charge purchases up to $12.00, payable at $1.00 per week for 12 weeks. As payments are made and the balance owed declines, further charges may be made at any time, as long as the total balance outstanding does not exceed $12.00, the difference will be payable at the time of purchase.

THIS early credit experience will help teens to a better understanding to the value of money and money-management, and at the same time encourage thrift and develop self-sufficiency. Note: This is your obligation. We will not and cannot expect your parents to assume any responsibility for payment of your account.
