WEE WILLIE, the White Satin Sugar clown, and Mike Kienitz, manager of the local J. J. Newberry store, pause for a Herald and News photo in the midst of a busy day handing out free cartoon books to youngsters in the White Satin Coloring Contest. Top prize for two youngsters will be all the toys they can carry out of the Newberry store in eight minutes. Kienitz says he has noted numerous small groups looking the toy department over, obviously speculating on what items to choose first if they are winners. The White Satin coloring books are also available without charge from all the grocers in the area.

FAMILY SIZE Del Monte Tomato Catsup is now on the local market. It has a new twist-off cap for easy use and easy resealing. The new 20-ounce size joins the regular 14-ounce bottle. Both are made with Del Monte's special pineapple distilled vinegar for extra goodness.

TOAST THEM

Leftover baking powder biscuits are good split and served with butter and any topping you like and placed under the broiler to heat through. Ground ham and cheese is especially good.

TILLAMOOK CHEESE makes the creamy sauce for this deviled crab dish unusually delicious. The recipe is especially valuable as a supper dish that can be speedily prepared at the last minute if part of the preparation has been done earlier in the day. Deviled Crab on toast is hearty enough to satisfy outdoor appetites and fancy enough for a small buffet party.

Deviled Crab On Toast Points

This delicious deviled crab mixture can be put together, omitting the crab and tomato paste, the night before and stored in the refrigerator overnight. Just before your guests or family arrive, put in the chafing dish and heat and add the last ingredients. Serve on toast triangles with a tossed salad.

DEVILED CRAB

- 1 can (7½ ounces) crabmeat
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- 1-3 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ¼ teaspoon dry mustard
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon marjoram
- 2½ cups evaporated milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup shredded Tillamook cheese
- 1-3 cup tomato paste

Drain crabmeat and remove any cartilage. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Add green pepper and onion and cook until onion is transparent. Remove from heat. Blend in flour mixed with seasonings. Gradually add evaporated milk blending thoroughly. Cook over low heat until steaming hot and slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add a little of the hot mixture to beaten egg. Stir until well blended, then add egg mixture to first mixture. Stir in cheese and crabmeat. Return to low heat and stir until cheese is melted. Just before serving add tomato paste. Heat to serving temperature and serve immediately on toast. Makes 6 servings.
