

U.S., Soviet Union Agree On Cultural Exchanges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anywhere from 500 to 2,000 Soviet tourists, scientists, wrestler and what-have-you will be visiting the United States during the next two years under a monumental U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement.

The accord, signed yesterday at the State Department by Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin and U.S. negotiator William S. B. Lacy was hailed on all sides as a possible thawing trend in the cold war.

President Eisenhower welcomed it and, in a statement, expressed hope that its carrying-out might contribute substantially to the betterment of relations between the two countries, thereby also contributing to a lessening of international tensions.

Zarubin called it the most important achievement of his five years here as Soviet ambassador. He sails tomorrow for Moscow, reportedly to become a deputy foreign minister.

Capitol Hill was full of praise. Chairman Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it might prove the alternative to "development of the instruments of war." Senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) similarly applauded.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union got everything it wanted.

The United States had to settle for a half-measure on exchanging radio-television broadcasts. But officials said they were content with that because it showed the Soviets are willing to move, however cautiously, toward easing the Iron Curtain.

Agreement was reached to have sporadic censored radio-TV broadcasts on current events, with each side holding a veto over what could not be used.

Another U. S. disappointment was Soviet refusal to agree to quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts to the Soviet Union in the Russian language.

On the other hand, the Russians wanted a direct New York-Moscow air service so they could show off their sleek new TU104 jetliner. The United States demurred, pending, officials confided, the time when the United States also will have sleek new jetliners in service on commercial airlines.

Pair Sought For Slayings

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In shabby outbuildings behind a small home on the door of which was a hand-printed sign warning visitors to "stay away" the bodies of a father, his wife and their 2-year-old daughter were found last night.

Marion Bartlett, 57, and his wife Velda, 36, had been shot in the head. Their child apparently had died of a skull fracture. All three bodies bore lacerations that examining physicians said could be stab wounds. There was no report on the time of the deaths.

A general alarm was out for Carol Fugate, 15, a daughter of Mrs. Bartlett by a former marriage, and Charles Starckweather, 19, a friend of Carol, Carol, who lived at the Bartlett home, and her friend were believed to have left Lincoln headed south in a black car.

When Robert von Busch, whose wife is a daughter of Mrs. Bartlett, and Rodney Starckweather, brother of Charles, arrived at the modest home for a visit, they found a hand-printed sign on the door.

It said, "Stay away. Everybody is sick with the flu."

Von Busch knocked. He received no answer. Then he went around the house to a chicken coop, thinking someone might be there. He found the body of Bartlett, wrapped in paper.

Next he peeked into an out-house a few feet away. There he saw the body of Mrs. Bartlett, wrapped in rags. He ran to a nearby house to telephone police. Searching officers discovered the body of Betty Jean, stuffed in a cardboard box that was stacked in the building with other cartons.

Police revealed that yesterday morning Mrs. Pansy Street, mother of Mrs. Bartlett, had gone to the house to visit but had been refused admission by Carol. Mrs. Street, fearful that something was wrong, told police of the refusal.

Two detectives went with her to the Bartlett home. They found the door locked and then entered the place through a window. But they found no indication of violence within the house and the three left. There was no sign on the door then.

Bartlett was a night watchman and had not reported for work since his employer was informed by a telephone call that he was ill.

FOLLOW THE LEADER
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — Chief Evergreen Tree, an Indian from Wisconsin Dells, Wis., drew a fine of $25 and costs for speeding Monday although he explained that he merely followed a paleface's example.

Accused of driving 58 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone, the chief said another motorist passed him, "so I nudged my 'gray pony' and moved on."

Morty Meekle

California Weather

By UNITED PRESS

San Francisco Bay Region: Partly cloudy today, cloudy to night and Wednesday with intermittent rain likely; little change in temperature; high today near 58; low tonight 50-55; southerly winds 8-15 m.p.h. today and 12-25 m.p.h. Wednesday; rain probability 10 per cent today, 50 per cent tonight and 60 per cent Wednesday.

Northern California: Intermittent rain today Santa Rosa and Chico northward, spreading to vicinity of Salinas and Stockton Wednesday; snow over northern high mountains; partly cloudy elsewhere today and cloudy to night and Wednesday; winds near coast southerly 30-50 m.p.h. at times Point Arena northward and variable 12-25 m.p.h. elsewhere; little change in temperature.

Sierra Nevada: Partly cloudy today, cloudy tonight and Wednesday with intermittent rain Yosemite northward and snow above 6,500 feet; little change in temperature.

Sacramento Valley: Cloudy through Wednesday with occasional light rain Chico northward to day and intermittent rain over entire valley tonight and Wednesday; little change in temperature; high both days 50-55; low tonight 48-52; southerly winds 15-30 m.p.h.

Northwestern California: Intermittent rain Santa Rosa northward and over entire area tonight and Wednesday; little change in temperature; high today and low tonight Napa 57-50, Santa Rosa 54-50, Ukiah 55-50; increasing southerly winds near coast today reaching 30-50 m.p.h. Point Arena northward and 12-25 m.p.h. elsewhere tonight.

MALIN GRANGE POTLUCK

There will be an officers meeting in the Malin Grange Hall, Thursday, January 30, at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Malin Grange. There will be a potluck supper at 6:30. Pomona officers are invited to attend and are asked to bring a potluck dish. Those who are unable to attend are urged to attend the Pomona officers meeting at 8 o'clock. There will be a potluck dessert after the meeting.

All four of his brothers will be here for the funeral. Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, is expected to accompany the President from Washington. Earl Eisenhower, a publisher at La Grange, Ill., and Edgar Eisenhower, who lives at Tacoma, Wash., are due in Kansas City today.

A daughter, Mrs. Katherine Rouche of Amaganset, N.Y., arrived last night.

Hoffa Halts Legal Fund

CHICAGO (AP)—James Hoffa has called a halt to collection of funds for legal defense of Teamsters Union officials, it was reported.

Reports said Hoffa, new union president, ordered refunds to officials who already have made contributions.

Hoffa said it was wrong to solicit money from full-time paid officials of the union for such a fund, and offered an alternate plan.

Under his plan, local officials would pay their own defense if they are involved in acts that have no direct connection with the union.

In union-connected charges, locals will decide whether to pay costs.

In cases involving officials of the international union's headquarters, that group will make the decision on whether to pay. The international also would decide whether to aid locals in paying defense costs.

Details of the legal defense fund reportedly vetoed by Hoffa first were made public Jan. 9 by Harold J. Gibbons, St. Louis Teamster vice president. He said he was asking "voluntary" contributions of $1,000, payable at the rate of $10 weekly for two years.

Disposable Farm Buildings Seen

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—"Disposable" farm buildings made of plastic may become commonplace within a few years, says Lee McConnell, representative of an electrical firm.

He told an audience of farmers at Michigan State University that the farmstead of the future may be little more than a few paved lots surrounded by plastic balloons held up by air pressure.

The same thing may happen to the farm home, he said, citing a full-sized dwelling recently demonstrated by architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Police Have Busy Weekend

City police had a full roster of business over the weekend with the assorted malicious activity ranging from the theft of bed pans to kicking in the side of a car.

Shortly after 1 a.m. Sunday police received a call stating that three youths had driven up the intersection of Wall and Esplanade streets, jumped out of their car, and then kicked in one side of a parked vehicle belonging to Bruce Niles. The owner was in the car at the time.

Less than an hour later the police arrested the three men and charged them with disorderly conduct. Sentenced Monday morning on the charges were Emanuel Kazes, Route 3, Dean Johnson, 2421 Orchard Avenue, and Richard Berg of 737 Plum Street. Each of the men was fined $100 and 30 days in the city jail, in addition to being placed on six months probation. The action was in the municipal court of Judge Frank Blackmer.

At about the same time Sunday, Felix Peace, operator of the Peace Ambulance Service, informed police that someone had just stolen three bed pans from the automobile parked in front of his home.

George A. Bouch reported to police that he was knocked unconscious by two men early Sunday evening when he was walking along Walnut Street near the intersection with Sixth Street. The man reported that nothing was taken from him.

The manager of the Alley Cat Drive-In told investigating police that the establishment was broken into sometime early Sunday morning after the locking had been filed away from the rear door. Nothing was reported stolen.

Also under investigation is the report of a hit and run accident early Sunday morning on Klamath Avenue. J. G. Loewen of the Baldwin Hotel told police that he was parked on Klamath Avenue when an unidentified car operated by a young boy came around the corner, plowed into the Loewen machine, and then left the accident scene at a high rate of speed.

In another weekend theft, the persons responsible will be in for a great surprise when opening the stolen tool box. It contains nails and tools for shoeing horses. R. M. Marcus of Redmond, Oregon told officers that he set the box down momentarily near the intersection of Kit Carson Way. At that point a car pulled up, and a youth jumped out and grabbed the box.

DRIVE EVENT

DORRIS — Members of the Butte Valley VFW Auxiliary 5944 will serve cookies and coffee as a silver offering for the March of Dimes at the home of Mrs. B. J. Kelly, First and Main streets, in Dorris, on Wednesday, January 29, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. The auxiliary invites the people to participate in this worthwhile project.

New Opening Date Asked For Klamath Falls Schools

A request for opening the city schools on the second Monday of September instead of on the customary day following Labor Day has been made to directors of the elementary and high school boards. Approximately 20 residents appeared at the Monday evening joint-board meeting and presented a 250-name petition requesting the change. The petition also requests the discontinuance of split vacations between the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

In requesting that the school year be started approximately a week later, and then extend a week later into the summer, the group pointed out that the early starting date cuts the summer short while the weather is still excellent for outside activity, that it reduces the working time available to students who wish to take part in harvesting operations, that the state fair comes in early fall and that students are quite often excused to attend or take part in it, and that it eliminates the possibility of parents of school children combining vacations with the Labor Day season. Spokesmen for the group were Mrs. Bob Thompson and Dr. Harry Fredricks.

Superintendent Arnold Gralapp pointed out that the county school board recently rejected the plan, and that if it is approved by the city directors it will be impossible to have a joint in-service institute with Lake County teachers and those employed by the Klamath County system. The in-service training for the teachers is normally held during the week immediately preceding the opening of school. The superintendent cited the many advantages of staging the institute jointly, and recommended that the training period be considered when concluding the opening date for schools.

The county school board members last week rejected the proposed change on grounds that a big portion of the students live on ranches or in the suburban areas, and that they are needed for ranch or farm work as early as possible during the summer.

Although not objecting to the proposed plan Monday evening, board member Mrs. Margaret Sheridan said that whatever is done, there should not be a difference between the opening dates for the city and the county schools.

The board took the matter under advisement, adding that board members will be glad to receive comment on the proposal from any interested persons. A committee was designated to study the issue with members of the county school board.

In other matters, school board attorney George Proctor recommended against the establishment of school bus patrols to assist students when crossing the streets in school areas. The boards had previously requested an opinion from Proctor with regard to whether or not the boards could legally authorize such patrols. Proctor said the school district

Cave-Ins Trap Four Workmen

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A dirt bank softened by rain and snow collapsed on the Madison Avenue Expressway project yesterday, burying two workmen.

A second cave-in minutes later trapped two other men who were clawing at the pile with their hands.

All four were rescued alive. Robert Bowler, 18, Roachdale, was reported in critical condition. He was buried deepest and was kept breathing during the half-hour rescue operation by a pipe pushed through the soft dirt to his face.

The three other workmen were injured slightly.

The three other workmen were injured slightly.

The three other workmen were injured slightly.

LOOKING FOR SMART MODERN Styling IN QUALITY TV'S?

the new '58 DU MONT has it!

BEVERLY 21" Smart lowboy "slenderest" styling in real walnut, lined oak or mahogany. Best speakers for $4.95 sound. $5.00 per week, lowest!

J. W. KERNS
734 So. 6th Ph. 4-4197

Ike To Attend Funeral Rites

KANSAS CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Kansas City tomorrow for funeral services for his eldest brother Arthur. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said in Washington details of the trip will be announced today.

The funeral was set for 1 p.m. tomorrow at Stine and McClure Chapel. There will be services later in New York and the body will be entombed there. These arrangements are not yet complete.

Arthur Eisenhower, a banker in Kansas City for 50 years before his retirement in 1956, died at his home of a heart attack Sunday night. He was 71.

All four of his brothers will be here for the funeral. Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, is expected to accompany the President from Washington. Earl Eisenhower, a publisher at La Grange, Ill., and Edgar Eisenhower, who lives at Tacoma, Wash., are due in Kansas City today.

A daughter, Mrs. Katherine Rouche of Amaganset, N.Y., arrived last night.

"With three extremely busy boys in the family," says Mrs. John R. Hogle, 18549 26th NE, Seattle. "we have to heat our home from basement to attic during the cold weather. Heating three levels could be expensive — but we've checked and find we get full value for our money from Standard Heating Oils. Housewarmer service is a blessing, too—you never have to worry about running out of fuel!"

Call your Housewarmer today

TED DeMERRITT Merrill, Oregon Phone Merrill 4992 BOB CLARK Bly, Oregon Phone Bly 411
JACK CLOUGH Tulelake, Calif. Phone Tulelake 7-2062 HARRY RIVIZZA Chiloquin, Oregon Ph. Chiloquin 112
OLY RIGO Dorris, California Phone EX 7-2551 PEYTON & CO. 835 Market Phone TU 4-5149

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

1 WEEK Wonderful BUY

A casual cotton top — this week only at $3.29. Almost 1/2 OFF the regular $5.98 price. Gold print on white — mandarin neckline — drip-dry everglaze!

La Pointe's
IT'S A WONDERFUL STORY

NEW!
Now in durable, re-usable plastic ice-box cups!

Crater Lake COTTAGE CHEESE

Crater Lake COTTAGE CHEESE

NO EXTRA COST!
33¢

FROM YOUR CRATER LAKE DEALER OR ROUTE MAN

STANDARD HEATING OILS

KLAMATH FALLS CREAMERY
Distributors of CRATER LAKE DAIRY PRODUCTS