

Wheaton Crusaders Tops On UP Small College Poll

NEW YORK (UP)—The Wheaton (Ill.) Crusaders topped the United Press small college basketball ratings today for the third straight week but Steubenville (Ohio) was only 23 points behind the pace-setters.

Wheaton, which scored a 27-70 triumph over North Illinois State in its only start last week, received 19 first-place votes and a total of 336 points.

The national-wide board of coaches which rates the teams based its ballots on games played through Jan. 25. Wheaton had a 12-1 record through that date.

Steubenville (17-1) held second place and gained on Wheaton by drawing seven first-place votes and 313 points.

Each coach votes for 10 teams. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Steubenville gained on Wheaton by drawing heavy votes for second and third. The Ohio school received 10 second-place votes and an equal number for third.

Evansville (Ind.), which led the first week's ratings, remained third with an 11-2 record, six first-place votes and 282 points.

The two perfect-record teams in the top 10, Western Illinois (15-0) and Southwest Missouri State (14-0), again switched places. Western Illinois, which lost fourth place to the Missouri school last week, regained that spot with three first-place votes and 232

Probers Look At Pink Pills

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two "heart-shaped" pink pills that may have contained narcotics were the focal point of an investigation today involving welterweight Andrew Brown of New Orleans and ranking middleweight Charley Joseph.

Brown, released from state prison seven months ago on parole from an armed robbery sentence, claimed he was doped before his fight Monday night against 10th-ranked welterweight Billy Lunch, Hartford, Conn.

Brown contended Joseph gave him the two pills to ease a pain in his jaw before the fight. Joseph is ranked seventh among middleweights by Ring magazine.

Joseph was present at a Boxing Commission hearing yesterday and vigorously denied he gave the pills to Brown. He also claimed he wasn't in Brown's dressing room.

Brown was an R-3 favorite over Lynch, but put on a disappointing, listless performance and lost by a wide margin.

"I felt as though I was drugged," he told the commission. "I didn't know where I was until after the fight."

Collis Phillips, Brown's manager, said he had received a telephone call prior to the fight that Joseph was going to dope Brown. He later denied such knowledge to the commission, but said he had been told that Joseph was "working with Lynch."

The commission took no action against Brown and said it would wait for a police report.

Mantle Asks For $75,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle, looking for a $75,000 catch from the New York Yankees for '58, probably would drop it if the contract came in the form of a fly ball hit back over his head, manager Casey Stengel indicated today.

The slight war of nerves developed after Mantle, who drew $65,000 when he won his second successive Most Valuable Player award last year, dropped a $75,000 demand at the Yankee offices and departed, unsigned, for Florida.

In a review of Yankee shortcomings, Stengel said: "Mantle should work out in center field. He's missing balls hit back over his head. . . I'm gonna have somebody hitting balls over his head down in camp, until he learns to do it right."

While he was at it, Casey rapped the entire Yankee squad as weak in fundamentals, spelling out such flaws as failure to back up bases, failure to hold runners close to the bases on bunt situations, and weaknesses in executing cutoffs on throws from the outfield.

To those surprised when he named Don Larsen his No. 3 starting pitcher, behind Whitey Ford and Bob Turley, Stengel said: "You'll call him 'Stengel's pet.' All right, I don't care what you say. Nobody's gonna get him. Nobody. He can be great—and he's gonna be great for me, nobody else."

NOT YET, BOYS, says former heavyweight champ Joe Louis as he separates middleweight champ Carmen Basilio, left, and ex-champ Sugar Ray Robinson, after the latter two signed formal contracts for their March 25 title bout in Chicago Stadium. Each will receive 30 per cent of the receipts.

Hard Way Rise Of Basilio Excludes Big-Shot Attitude

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—The guy who had preferred to close ground with whiskey rather than dinner, and at the banquet ended he went for the guest of honor, Carmen Basilio.

Even Basilio's sturdy legs could not carry him free of danger this time so he slumped against the wall and rode it out.

"I'm in a cab with Al Weill the other night," the guy said, "and we were talking about you. He says that the first time you fought Ray Robinson you had to have some respect for him, more than you usually do for fighters, and it showed during the first five rounds or so."

He says this time Robinson won't be no mystery to you and you'll get him out of there pretty fast.

Torment now was in full swing. Whiskey had a right arm draped around Basilio's shoulders. He was on his toes, leaning dead weight against his target.

Basilio gave a tired nod, but took the offensive.

"What did you say?" he jabbed. The guy dropped his arm for a moment. "Why . . . I said he was right. You should win way off. But you got to get down better early. Now if you listen to me . . ."

Basilio was three tables away and moving fast. In one pivot he had extricated himself from the mess and was on his way to a hotel room.

That was at the tail end of a feast in New York but the scene has taken place, in substance, in Rochester and Chicago and whenever else banquet busy Basilio has been since he got under Sugar Ray

Trotter Antics Bench Rookie

By UNITED PRESS

For a brief moment Tuesday night Woodie Saundersberry must have thought he was back clowning with the Harlem Globetrotters, but his antics in the first game of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader at Madison Square Garden are almost sure to cost him a fine and reprimand.

The six-year-old rookie, who played collegiate ball at Texas Southern before hooking up with the Trotters, lost his temper in a skirmish with Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks and he wound up being tossed out of the game. Philadelphia eventually lost the game, 123-109.

In the windup of the twin bill, player-coach Paul Seymour and star Ed Conlin were ejected, but the Syracuse Nationals managed to beat the New York Knickerbockers, 110-102, anyway.

Second 10 groups—11, Louisiana Tech, 50; 12, McNeese (La.), 39; 13 (tie), St. Peter's (N.J.) and Brandeis (Mass.), 11; 25 each: 15, South Dakota, 32; 16, Montana State, 22; 17 (tie), Belmont Abbey (N.C.) and Arkansas State 18 each; 19 (tie), Grambling (La.) and Mt. St. Mary's (Md.), 17 each.

Church Fives See Activity

In another night of YMCA-Church League basketball at Altamont Junior High gym Tuesday night the First Baptist Church whipped the Latter Day Saints 32-28; Klamath Lutheran downed First Christian, 24-20, and in the Intermediate division the Main Assembly of God cagers waxed the Peace Memorial 51, 25-3.

In the Baptist-LDS tilt, Unlimited Division, the point leader was Benson of the Baptists who poured in a red-hot 22 tallies. In the number three place was teammate Ballard who hit six from the floor for a total of 12 points.

Pancheri, of the Saints, was runnerup with 14 tallies.

The Christian-Lutheran scoring was led by Klus of the Lutes, who collected nine markers, while teammate Perry and Larry Bresnahan of the First Christian group were tied for second place with six apiece.

In the intermediate game the one sided scoring was paced by Leithold of Main, who collected eight for his efforts.

The luckless Peace Memorial five collected their only tallies on a free throw by K. Smith and a field goal by A. Clark.

Joe Luczycki paced the Gun Store shooters with 18 points while Dale Gooding was runnerup with 13. The balance of the Gun Store scoring punch was divided evenly among the other six players who saw action.

Bench Denies Petition Aims

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The California Supreme Court has denied a petition aimed at barring the Los Angeles Dodgers from Chavez Ravine, site of their proposed 50,000-seat baseball stadium.

Mrs. Theresa Steffy, a Chavez Ravine property owner, sought a writ of mandate barring a June 3 referendum on a proposal to turn over a 300-acre site to the National League club.

The court denied the petition Tuesday without comment.

Mrs. Steffy argued that if the voters approved the deal between the city and the Dodgers, it would jeopardize taxpayers' suits already filed. These suits charge the city was not receiving enough in exchange for the valuable land.

Her petition claimed the land would be worth 12 million dollars if rezoned for commercial use. Mrs. Steffy also argued the contract between Los Angeles and the baseball club does not require the team to stay in Los Angeles for a definite length of time.

Dodgers' engineers are making preliminary studies for construction of the stadium, although taxpayer suits are now pending in Superior Court. The team will play the 1958-59 seasons in Los Angeles Coliseum.

New Stanford Mentor Admits He Can't Do Without Pigskin

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UP)—Jack Curtice, Stanford's new football coach, admits he has been thinking of quitting the game for 27 years, but "you get so you can't live without it."

The former Utah coach who took over responsibility for the Indians' grid fortunes from Chuck Taylor told a press conference Tuesday night one of the secrets of his longevity in the coaching ranks was his ability to mix well in public.

"You don't stay in coaching for 27 years just by coaching," he said. "You have to be a public relations man, too."

"I guess you can say coaching gets into your blood," he said. "You have to be a peculiar sort of a guy to take all the advice you get and still manage to survive."

Taylor, who moved upstairs as Stanford athletic director, was the object of some good natured banter by his successor when a sports writer noted Taylor looked younger than when he took over at Stanford years ago.

"I guess that's because I just got a haircut," the redhead joked. Curtice snorted.

"You're just trying to look younger than me," the older man said. "If I knew you were going to get a haircut I would have got one, too!"

Curtice carried the joke on. "If I didn't know you were, I would offer you one of our assorted football scholarships."

The new coach said he would use a "more or less spread T-formation" at Stanford.

"I believe you have to pass enough to be able to run," he said, "and you have to run enough to be able to pass."

Curtice, a member of the National Football Rules Committee, was asked whether he would go for the two point option on the conversion recently adopted by the committee, or play it safe with the place kick.

"One nice thing about that," he laughed, "is that you can always look around at the fans and they'll tell you what to do."

He said he had "little or no idea" what material he was inheriting from Taylor.

"You can believe it or not," he said, "but I don't know who is returning and who isn't."

Then with a twinkling eye cocked at Taylor and a hopeful note in his voice: "I understand they are going to have a list for me Wednesday."
