By KEN SEARS
New York Knickerbockers
The shot I say is my best is a jump shot moving behind a pick. Most of the points I've scored at Santa Clara and with the Knickerbockers came out of this move.

I like to move behind a guard (No. 2) and let him provide the screen. If his man fights through or there is a switch, then I'll have a small man on me.

On this play I prefer to get the ball on a pass (No. 1) after I move behind the pick.

If the man guarding me gets through the screen, I double back and go for the basket without the ball hoping to be clear for a layup.

Elgin Baylor Begins To Pull Away In Score Competition

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Elgin Baylor of Seattle University has begun to pull away from the field in his drive to repeat as collegiate basketball scoring champion of the Pacific Northwest.

Through Saturday Baylor had raised his total for the season to 408 points and was 36 ahead of his closest competitor, David Gardner of Northwest Nazarene. On a basis of per-game production Baylor was even farther in front. His average was 29.1 compared with 23.26 for Chuck Curtis of Pacific Lutheran and 23.25 for Gardner.

Curtis was third on the scoring ladder with 349 points, closely followed by Gary Simmons of Idaho with 344 and Doug Smart of Washington with 340.

Two other players were above 300. Loren Anderson of Seattle Pacific with 326 and Jack Day of St. Martin's with 323. Day was the free throw leader of the pack with 125 conversions. Baylor was tops in field goals with 149. Day was dropped from his squad this week, however, because of study difficulties.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Bill Hollingsworth, Southern Oregon, at 299; Larry Howard, Eastern Oregon, 279, and Dave Gambee of Oregon State and John

Coach Picks Men Skiers For Title Try

BAD GASTEIN, Austria (UP)—After several weeks of careful observation Coach Othmar Schneider today will pick the U.S. Men's team for the world ski championships which get underway Sunday.

No matter who is finally picked, the brunt of the U. S. load will be carried by Buddy Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Tom Corcoran of Westfield, N.J., and New York City. Schneider already has said that his two aces will compete in all three events staged here—the slalom, giant slalom and downhill.

Max Marolt of Aspen, Colo., Colo., who sprained an ankle in the Hahnenkamm Trophy races at Kitzbuehel earlier this month, is still bothered by the injury and more than likely will be passed up.

Schneider has his pick among Werner, Corcoran, Dave Gorsuch of Climax, Colo., Marvin Melville of Salt Lake City, and Marvin Moriarty of Stowe, Vt.

Meanwhile, the American women's team was named Wednesday by Coach Pepi Gabl after it had been announced that Nonie Foley of Houghton, Mich., would not be able to compete because of an attack of the flu.

Gabl named Sally Deaver of Philadelphia, Betsy Snite of Norwich, Vt., Linda Myers of Bishop, Calif., and Mady Springer Miller of Stowe, Vt., for the slalom and giant slalom.

For the downhill race, Gabl picked Penny Pitou of Gilford, N. H., Miss Deaver, Miss Myers and said he would decide later between Miss Snite and Mrs. Springer Miller for the fourth spot.

Portland Pilots Try Seattle U

By UNITED PRESS
The University of Portland Pilots hope to pick up tonight where they left off last week against Bradley when they meet Elgin Baylor and company at Seattle.

The pilots scored a stunning upset when they dropped the Braves, 10th-ranked nationally at that time, on their barnstorming tour through the Midwest after barely losing an overtime decision to strong DePaul.

Although Portland has already been battered twice this season by Seattle—with Baylor pouring through 48 points in one contest—Coach Al Negretti figures his Pilots have finally "jelled" and are ready to give anyone a tussle.

Whether they have jelled enough to stop the Baylor-led Chieftains is another question. But the Pilots' defeat of Bradley on the Braves' home ground and the fact that Portland and Seattle are "traditional" rivals would seem to indicate that this one won't be another march to the slaughter house.

In the only game involving a coast squad Wednesday night, St. Mary's quest for a win on the road was unproductive again as Regis whacked the Gaels, 75-59, at Denver.

The Gaels dropped a pair to tough Idaho State last Saturday and Monday.

Phoenix Golf Starts Action

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—With pre-tournament rounds as a yardstick, veteran Lloyd Mangrum and youthful Lionel Hebert, measure up as the golfers to beat in the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

A field of 155 tees off today in the first round of the 72-hole tournament over the narrow, tree-lined Phoenix Country Club course.

Mangrum and Hebert, 30-year-old trumpet player from Louisiana both posted 5-under-par 66s yesterday to share top money in the $2,500 pro-amateur preliminary.

Neither found any trouble along the hazardous fairways of the 6,385-yard layout.

Right behind was another veteran, Bo Winger, with a 67.

Lady Basketeers Initiate League

The Alturas Recreation Department's girls basketball league started its season Tuesday night with Likely playing Jo's of Alturas in the first game at 8:30. The Honey Babes played the Green Devils in the second game. Canby played at Adin. Thursday night's game at 8:30 has been scheduled between Surprise Valley and the Alturas Mermaids.

In the recreation department's mens basketball league, games played Monday night in the local high school gym saw the Texaco Oilers suffer another loss by being defeated 54 to 29 by the Union Oilers.

Nurtie Jamarr led the winners with 18 points followed by Jerry Gloster and Ronnie Tatlow with 12 and 11. Ronnie Woods was high for the losers with 10 points.

The second game saw the upset-minded Devils trimming the 20-30 Club 39 to 35. The 20-30 Club was in front 10 to 6 after first quarter, 16 to 14 at the half and 28 to 22 at the third period. David Brown led the Devils with 10 points while Ralph de Garma had eight. Danny Dorris and Billy Golden had eight each for the losers.

In the other league games Monday night, Bieber upset the Henderson Chevrolet team 39 to 37 in Bieber while the Surprise Valley Merchants beat Adin 60 to 48 in Cedarville.

When Cornell and Syracuse began their football rivalry in 1891 Cornell won by a 68-0 score.

Star Better, Still Critical

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Dodger catcher Roy Campanella continued to improve today, but he hasn't shaken off the paralysis which struck him from chest to toes in an auto accident.

The burly, 36-year-old baseball veteran has regained some feeling in his hands, arms and upper chest.

A hospital bulletin issued through the Dodger Brooklyn office Thursday said Campanella continued to show improvement in spite of a "somewhat restless night." It said he had not been in pain and his temperature was slightly above normal.

"There is further improvement in the paralysis of the feeling and he is able to move his fingertips a little," the bulletin said.

He still is on the critical list. Campanella, three times the National League's Most Valuable Player with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was injured early Tuesday. His car skidded, hit a telephone pole and turned over.

Campanella suffered a broken neck. He has been in a form of traction since a 4½-hour operation to relieve pressure on a nerve.

His wife Ruthe spent 2½ hours at his bedside yesterday, but he slept through the visit. The Campanella's have six children.

The 215-pound catcher has been taking fluids through the mouth, but has been fed intravenously.

Doctors still consider the overall picture encouraging but admit it may be months or years before he returns to normal. They are hopeful the paralysis eventually will disappear.

There is little hope that Campanella will be able to return to baseball as a player. Not only would there be physical danger because of the injury, but at 36, even Campanella probably would not be able to come back.

He already had signed for 1958 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, although taking a cut to an estimated $36,500 after a poor year last season.

Insurance Man Reopens Try For Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Insurance man H. Gabriel Murphy is expected to renew Friday his bid to buy control of the Washington Senators for $1,375,770.

Murphy, who owns about 40 per cent of the American League club's stock, said Wednesday he would place his offer before the annual stockholders' meeting. But it appears likely he will get nowhere.

The family of the late Clark Griffith holds 52 per cent of the outstanding stock under a trust. And Senators' President Calvin Griffith said he and other members of his family are "not interested in selling the Washington ball club, either in part or its entirety."

Long a critic of the club's present management, Murphy Wednesday offered to buy 2,274 shares — and control of the team — for $905 a share, an unprecedented price. Recent quotations have been about $150 a share.

Murphy, who paid $9 a share for his own stock several years ago, said he wants control of the team "to produce a winner and to end their constant threat of moving the franchise to some other city."

Record Breaker, 'Windward', Not Yet Sure Of Yacht Title

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—The final over-all standings may be known late today in the San Diego to Acapulco yacht race, with the record-breaking sloop Windward of Los Angeles still not sure of the title.

But the absence of any wind for the yachts which still have not completed their runs over the course may make it impossible to compute final standings before Friday.

The Escapade was tentatively given second place in class A, behind the Windward, having completed the San Diego to Acapulco run in 10 days, 10 hours, 10 minutes and 32.5 seconds. The Novia del Mar had a time of 10 days, 10 hours, 14 minutes and 23 seconds.

The Novia del Mar lost 5 hours, 3 minutes during maneuvering to pick up a crewman from the Celestia. However, that time can not be subtracted until the other yacht owners and captains vote their consent.

The corrected time for the Windward, against the elapsed time, was 9 days, 2 hours, 34 minutes and 2.5 seconds.

Defense Our Cushion Says Bear Coach

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—"Defense is our cushion." That's how basketball coach Pete Newell explains California's surprising first place tie with UCLA in the Pacific Coast Conference. Both have 5-1 records.

"We don't have much of a margin for error," Newell said Thursday. He was referring to the Bears lack of offense. "But," he added, "we compensate with a 102 per cent defensive effort." California is fourth in the nation in team defense and tops in the PCC, limiting conference opponents to a mere 45 points a game.

Newell's cagers are at the bottom of conference statistics in field goal shooting percentage and next to last in total scoring.

Newell claims this California team is playing as near to its physical potential as any team he has ever coached. He came to the Berkeley campus from Michigan State in 1954. Before that he coached the San Francisco Dons to the National Invitation (NIT) Championship in 1949.

"This team's ball handling is good and these boys do not give the ball away. Their concentration on both offensive and defensive plays is excellent.

"Though we don't have any great height our rebounding is as good as I could want. The boys have an aggressive determination to do the job on the backboards and they do it."

The Bears starting team averages 6 feet 3 and ranks third in the PCC in rebounds.

Baylor Director Talks To Iowa St.

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor University Athletic Director George Sauer will fly to Ames, Iowa Friday to be interviewed about the Iowa State College football coaching job.

"I'm interested," Sauer said Wednesday. He said he wants to get back into active coaching. He gave up the Baylor coaching job after the 1955 season and became athletic director on a full-time basis.

Iowa State is seeking a replacement for Jim Myers, who quit to go to Texas A&M.

Storey Alias Makes Sense

CHICAGO (AP)—Young Jack Johnson, who isn't young at 29, is fighting under an alias as he maybe it's just as well.

His real name is John Storey, and the story goes that his handlers tabbed him with the Johnson moniker because he was supposed to have the build and the style of the former heavyweight great of yesteryear.

Johnson had only two fights in the last two years and the rustiness of the 214-pounder from Los Angeles was glaringly apparent in Wednesday night's nationally televised no-hitter at Chicago Stadium.

Through 10 drab rounds, Johnson and Wayne Bethea of New York clubbed at each other, pawed arm-wearingly, and clinched while 1,002 ringside customers boomed. Bethea, 204, rated the No. 10 contender by the National Boxing Assn. and No. 8 by Ring Magazine, took a unanimous decision.

The gate netted only $934, but each fighter picked up $4,000 in TV proceeds for going through the motions in a bout which one fan described as "a fine example of how the heavyweight division has deteriorated."

Both were heralded as heavy fisted. For the most part they handled their hands like hams and there wasn't a hint of a knock-out possibility.

Betha was much sharper and landed several good rights, but without effect. He got a lopsided decision with Judge Frank McAdams scoring it 49-43 under the five-point must system, Judge E. Allen Frankel 48-44 and referee Walter Brightmore 49-40.

The Associated Press card had Bethea ahead 48-45.

Betha's record now is 17-7-2 and Johnson's mark is 15-10-1.
