Dogs Poisoned In Alturas

ALTURAS—A dog poisoner has been at work in Alturas the last few days. At least 13 dogs have died in the southwest section of Alturas.

Darrell Rachford, Alturas chief of police, reports it is believed the poison has been placed on bones, and samples have been sent to a laboratory for analysis.

Dog owners are urged to confine their dogs, and parents are cautioned to warn their children not to pick up anything that could be the carrier of this dangerous poison.

All persons are asked to watch for and to report at once any suspicious actions to the police department.

Event Planned To Aid Family

A Modoc Point community get together was held January 26 at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Haas, to plan a "replacement party" for the family of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Johnson whose home and food cellar were completely destroyed by fire last week.

The shower will be held at the Williamson Church annex on Friday, January 31, with a potluck supper. Each family attending is asked to take a potluck dish and a household item, food or cash.

The annex will be open from 1 p.m. on Friday to permit those desiring to do so to leave items earlier than the dinner hour at 6:30 p.m. Coffee and buns will be furnished.

Better Television Reception Eyed

NEW PINE CREEK — A public meeting with the purpose of promoting better television reception in Goose Lake Valley is scheduled for Sunday, February 2, in the Grange Hall. Leland Harris states that a group will be formed to investigate and test for the best possibilities of placing a television translator where it will do the most good.

It is thought the translator will be erected to receive the Reno station, but some other station might be funneled in.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting, Harris said. The exact time will be announced over the radio.

Tree Theft Case Dropped

Gurino Russo, Oakland man charged with larceny involving the alleged theft of 300 Christmas trees from a Sprague River ranch last December, was released Tuesday by District Judge D. E. Van Vactor when the court ruled that there was insufficient evidence to hold the defendant for grand jury study.

The complaint charged that Russo took the trees which rightfully belonged to the operators of the Duarte ranch.

The dismissal followed a preliminary hearing in district court, after which $1,500 bail was returned to the defendant.

4-H Officers To Attend Class

LAKEVIEW — A training school for 4-H Club officers will be held in the courthouse at Lakeview Saturday, February 1. Al Haslebacher, county club agent, announces that the group will meet in the circuit courtroom for the opening of the school and then will go to different rooms where training will be given to news reporters, secretaries, vice presidents and presidents.

Working with the news reporters will be Les Shaw, editor of the Lake County Examiner. Marjorie Hall, information specialist from Oregon State College, will take the secretaries, and Betty Jane Sedwick, state extension agent, will work with the other officers.

The meeting will open at 2 p.m. and close at 3:30 p.m.
