

Scalloped Eggs

If you like creative cooking, you'll love the dinnertime picture you'll paint with this new variation of scalloped eggs.

Baked with spicy ham and juicy mushrooms, and served in individual ramekins, this delectable yet wholesome dish is an imaginative way of adding variety to your economical weekday menus.

No need, however, to limit this quick, easily made dish to dinner! Serve it for brunch or lunch, afternoon gatherings or evening get-togethers. Scalloped Eggs with Ham and Mushrooms is truly an "anytime" dish!

PLAYTABLE

The home handyman can make a playtable for the youngsters by removing the hardware from an old door and installing old water or gas pipes for legs. Panel indentations may be filled with insulating board before covering the whole table with plastic-finished Marlite panel or linoleum or oilcloth.

SNOW BARS, richly made with lots of butter or margarine and chopped pecans, are a fine complement for winter-time fruit desserts. Photo and recipes are from the Wheat Flour Institute.

EASY COOKIES

The cookie season, as any youngster will readily tell you, doesn't end with the twelfth day of Christmas. It lasts the year around, with each kind of cookie enjoying a time in the sun. Snow Bars live theirs in the middle of winter.

These rich, buttery bars with confectioners' sugar coatings are ideal accompaniments to fruit desserts. Team them with dark, sweet cherries for a Washington's Birthday treat.

Once you've chopped the pecans that go into snow bars, there's no trick to making them. Cream together the butter or margarine, sugar and vanilla extract. Then mix in flour, nuts and water. The dough will be easy to handle after it chills for several hours. Confectioners' sugar goes on after the cookies have baked and are still warm.

If keeping the cookie jar filled is a chore, supplement the cookies you make with some from the bakery or the baked goods section in the grocery store. Cookies are a nutritious snack when made with enriched flour. Enrichment puts three B-vitamins and food iron into flour.

SNOW BARS

- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
 - 3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
 - 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
 - 3 cups sifted enriched flour
 - 1 cup finely chopped pecans
 - 1/2 cup water
 - Confectioners' sugar
- Cream together butter or margarine, sugar and vanilla extract. Mix in flour, pecans and water. Chill in refrigerator 2 to 3 hours or overnight. Shape into bars about 2 inches long and 1/2 inch thick. Use about 2 teaspoons dough for each bar. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 20 minutes. While still warm, roll in confectioners' sugar. Cool. Makes about 50 2-inch bars.

HAMBURGER PIZZA

Press seasoned ground beef lightly into a greased pie pan and fill with big pieces of ripe olives, a little tomato sauce, plenty of grated American cheese and a sprinkling of oregano. Bake in wedges for a hamburger pizza.

3. Crush corn flakes slightly; combine with butter and sprinkle over ham mixture.

Yield: 6 servings, 1 cup each.

BANANA NUT CAKE

Here's a snack which will appeal to all ages in the family—from the youngsters to grandparents! It's a delicious Banana Nut Cake served with piping hot chocolate.

There's a hidden bonus in the cake for it is enriched with instant nonfat dry milk powder and likewise the hot chocolate also is fortified with this nourishing food product. Known as "the heart of milk," instant Starlac nonfat dry milk is a rich source of these important milk nutrients — protein, calcium and riboflavin.

Use instant nonfat dry milk as you use milk — for drinking, cooking and baking. It mixes immediately, even in ice water, or it can be used in the powder form as in the Banana Nut Cake and hot chocolate.

Instant nonfat dry milk is so economical. The family size package makes 12 quarts of nonfat milk for as little as eight cents a quart. It also is available in two other handy packages: A one-pound package which makes five quarts of nonfat milk and a pre-measured package which contains three individual envelopes, each making one quart of nonfat milk.
