New School Violence Flares As Officials Study Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Violence flared anew in the city school system yesterday with one school boy monitor being beaten and another stabbed. The assaults occurred in Manhattan and the Bronx.

The outbreaks followed by a day a plan by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the City Board of Education to curb crime in the city's nearly 900 public schools. In recent weeks a rash of rapes, hoodlums, assaults and knifings has led to posting of policemen at 41 public schools. Both Negroes and whites have been involved.

Although only a small percentage of the city's million pupils have been involved, the wave of lawlessness has touched off a continuing dispute between the Board of Education and the special Brooklyn grand jury probing crime in the schools.

As part of the plan to curb school crime, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, and Charles H. Silver, president of Board of Education, 29 to the state capital at Albany today to seek more state aid for education here.

In major incidents, 16-year-old Frank Sloan, who is white, was beaten by three other students, all Negroes, in the lunchroom of the George Washington High School in Manhattan. Sloan, a student monitor, assertedly was attacked after directing three classmates to pick up paper they had thrown on the floor, and also barring them from the girls' section of the cafeteria.

Sloan was taken to a hospital suffering from a brain concussion. Two of his alleged assailants, both 15, were booked on juvenile delinquency charges. The third, George Addison, 16, was held on a charge of felonious assault.

Earlier, a 15-year-old monitor at Henry Hudson Junior High School in the Bronx was knifed at the entrance of the school building. Phillip Romano, who is white, was stationed at the school entrance to keep students from entering before the opening bell. Five minutes before the bell, Romano barred a 14-year-old boy, a Negro, from entering. Romano was stabbed in the stomach and an operation was necessary. His condition was described as satisfactory. The 14-year-old boy was arranged on a juvenile delinquency charge and paroled in the custody of his mother. A Negro teen-ager—not a student—was seized in Manhattan's School of Music and Art youth, Robert Ashby, 19, was identified by police as the person who robbed one of the school's white pupils last Jan. 27, and a second one yesterday. He was accused of taking their watches and small amounts of cash while pretending to be carrying a gun in his pocket. Both of the victimized students identified Ashby as the youth who held them up. Ashby was quoted by police as saying he was "on dope" and needed money to buy more.

In Brooklyn, Domestic Relations Court Justice Justice Wise Polier accused the grand jury of seeking "to impose their opinions upon and usurp the authority" of the board. Justice Polier told an American Jewish Congress meeting that the jurors "have convinced themselves that a policeman in every school is the one and only answer to our critical situation, and that anyone who dares to differ is either a knave or a fool."

Farmers Rush To Sign Up For Soil Bank Program

OMAHA (AP)—The rush of farmers to turn their crop lands over to the government in a four-state soil bank experiment has exceeded expectations by a considerable degree.

In Nebraska the near-final totals showed one farmer in seven was ready to quit crop farming—for a price. The farms compose some 2½ million acres or 11.2 per cent of the state's 21½ million acres of crop lands. Bids were put in on 15,737 of the state's 120,000 farming units.

In Tennessee and Illinois about 7 per cent of the farmers put a price on temporary retirement from crop farming.

In Maine, where the deadline for entering sealed bids is Feb. 28, some 311 of the state's 23,368 farms were represented by bids by Feb. 4. But Lawrence Chatto of the University of Maine Department of Agriculture said there had been "a tremendous interest thus far," and he expected heavy bidding in the last 15 days of the period.

Tennessee had 15,563 full-farm bids, compared with a total of 263,000 farms and an anticipation of 10,000 to 12,000 bids.

In Illinois, which has about 240,000 farms, about 19,500 bids were received—nearly double the number expected. Officials estimated the bids applied to farms averaging 125 acres each, but had not established a total of cropland involved.

Dr. Everett E. Peterson, extension specialist in agricultural economics at the University of Nebraska, said the wave of full-farm bids might be attributed to discouragement over poor crops in years of drought and a wet harvest season capping the past abundant crop year, plus concern over the talk about lowering or abandoning price supports. Farmers nearing retirement age and seeking to slow down also were a factor, he added.

He added this highlights the problem of how individual rural communities can adjust with "the least amount of social and economic disturbance and human hardship." Some small towns may pass out of the picture altogether, in the process, he predicted.

There are several leaving factors: whether the bids will be acceptable as to price; the productivity of the land offered; its distribution over the state and the amount of money available for the program.

The Agriculture Department allocated soil bank funds including: Illinois $19,250,000, Maine $2,450,000, Nebraska $11,227,700, and Tennessee $12,310,000. This would include funds for the full-farm program.

APPROVE BASES ROME (UP)—The Italian Chamber of Deputies overwhelmingly approved the government's firm pro-Western policy Wednesday night and rejected a Communist resolution against American missile bases in Italy. Only the Communists and left-wing Socialists opposed a motion supporting the NATO-oriented stand of Premier Adone Zoli's government.

Lawyer Held For Slaying

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter C. Wiebusch, 42-year-old Houston attorney, was charged with murder after David LaPoint Black, 23, was slain early today in a plush motel room rented by Mrs. Wiebusch.

Wiebusch is a former assistant district attorney. He and his wife Pamela, 27, were married only three months ago.

Homicide Detective Neal Todd quoted Wiebusch: "Yes, I shot him—just like any man would who is a man. I felt like something like this was going on. I drove around looking for her until I saw her car parked at the motel. . . . 'I got my pistol and went upstairs and found this guy.'"

Detective Ed Kennedy said Mrs. Wiebusch told him she left home late last night after quarreling with her husband. She checked in at the motel a few minutes later and then drove to a lounge, where she met Black.

After finding his wife registered at the motel, Wiebusch talked to her about 15 minutes through the chained door of her room.

"I went down to my car," he said. "She followed me. I got my pistol. . . . Black was shot several times in the face and chest with a .23-caliber automatic.

Wiebusch was taken before Justice W. S. Ragan on a murder charge and was released without having to post bond.

Princess Gets Stolen Clothes LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra got her stolen clothes back but the thieves kept $4,000 worth of jewelry.

Alexandra, 21-year-old daughter of the Duchess of Kent and cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, stopped for a midnight cup of coffee Sunday after a weekend in the country and somebody swiped her two suitcases from the car. The luggage turned up yesterday in a railway station.

Reds Seeking Korean Vote

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea's Communist regime called again today for free elections under neutral supervision to unite the divided peninsula—but once more tacked on conditions South Korea and the West were sure to reject.

The four-part proposal was adopted by Premier Kim Il Sung's Cabinet in session with the Peoples' Assembly and Communist party leaders. As broadcast by Pyongyang radio the plan proposed:

1. Simultaneous withdrawal of all foreign troops including the U.S. Army and Chinese "volunteers."

2. Free elections throughout Korea within a definite period after the withdrawal. They would be held under supervision of a neutral nations group.

3. Early negotiations "based on equality" between the North and South Korean governments on the election and North-South cultural exchanges. Kim also renewed his suggestion for free North-South travel and postal communications.

4. Reduction of the armies of North and South Korea to a "minimum" in the near future.

In the South Korean capital of Seoul, Vice Foreign Minister Kim Jong Do termed Kim's proposals "far from even worth considering."

Although North Korea has advanced all of the four proposals before in one form or another, this latest bid did not suggest a multinational political conference on the Korean question.

The West has turned down a conference in the past because it was unable to reach an agreement on the Korean problem at the 1954 Geneva meeting, which drew up the Indochina armistice.

South Korea and the United Nations have flatly refused to negotiate with the North because this would imply recognition of the Communist regime.
